Presented by Graduates at Reception to C. F. Harper

Several hundred prominent citizen and friends, together with teachers pupils and graduates of the High school, gathered at High School hall on Saturday evening at the farewell reception to Mr. Charles F. Harper the head master for the last eight vears, who has resigned to accept similar position at the Syracuse, N.

Y., High school. In the receiving party were Mr. and Mrs. Harper, Miss Madeleine Fish, another teacher who has re signed, Superintendent and Mrs. F. E. Parlin, and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Greene, Mr. Greene being president of the Quincy Masters Club under whose auspices the reception was

The receiving party stood in front of the platform, which was attrac tive with daisies. The High School orchestra, with Mr. E. L. Snyder as director, was stationed on the platform and many were the compliments passed on the selections rendered He felt that hard work had paid. He during the reception.

The ushers were: Willard Burke Horace Jenkins, George Brown Fletcher Miller, Carl Gram, Brooks Keyes, Wallace Bennett, Eugen Sanders, Charles Hogan, George An derson, Henry Teasdale, Theo, Marceau, Lawrence Allen and Herbert Arnold

Frappe was served by severa young ladies during the evening. President Greene took charge of the exercises which followed the reception. He spoke briefly of the object of the gathering, and first in troduced Edward Southworth a neighbor of Mr. Harper, and maste of the Mathers school in Boston

Mr. Southworth told a good stor of a pig and a puppy, and then spoke very highly of Mr. Harper, saying The second annual field day outing he was eminently fitted for the posicircumstances. Unless he had had ils had been beneficial, and when he extended congratulations to Mr Harper.

> John L. Miller spoke for the School Committee. He said our hearts are sad because we are to lose Mr Harper as master. We will miss his pleasant grasp of the hand and his smile. Since he came to Quincy eight years ago the school had grown and flourished to a remarkable degree Soon a new building was necessary He had labored under trying conditions, but continued to flourish. His pupils like him and he found a place in the hearts of the people. It was an honor to the city and Mr. Harper this call to Syracuse; from a city of 30,000 to 100,000 from 80 pupils to 1,800. But Mr. Harper will make good. Mr. Miller asked united support for his successors here, who has already been elected, and wished Mr. Harper peace and joy, health and prosperity.

Mr. Melvin Holbrook spoke for the faculty. The teachers knew of the difficulties Mr. Harper had to encounter, but he has worked hard his energies never flagged; his temperament was unchanged; he was never disgruntled. The teachers wished him the best of luck and success and had only regret that he was going.

Supt. Parlin said he had seen Mr Harper under all conditions. If should tell the worst thing I know of him, no one would be ashamed I told the representative from Syracuse that Mr. Harper was the enbodiment of regularity and system. He has been a strong man for Quincy High. He has met all difficulties philosophically. Mr. Harper 'did not seek the position at Syracuse but the committee had searched in New York Baltimore, Pennsylvania and Connecticut, and arrived at the conclusion

he was the man wanted. It speaks well for Mr. Harper. Directing his remarks to Mr. Harper he said: We have worked together pleasantly, you have lots of friends in Quincy; we believe in you; we believe you will succeed; we are all sorry to lose you, but wish you 100

For a minute those standing about the platform were in a daze and hardly realized what had happened. The air was full of blinding dust and through this could be seen the forms of prostrate men and above ali the din there could be heard their cries of pain. As soon as the air cleared, willing hands rushed to the relief of the injured men. Officer Murray, who was near by, sent a hurry call for the Police ambulance and a telephone call for Dr. Jones Both were quickly on the scene. It was soon discovered that no one had been killed, although several had received cuts and bruises. William Healey the man who was thrown so far sustained a fracture of a bone in the right foot, a lacerated scalp wound, besides suffering from a severe nervous shock. A friend took him on the next train to Boston to a hospital. Alfred W. Bisson, was immediately taken to his home 274 Water street, in his own carriage, where he was attended by D. Middle ton. His injuries consisted of a serious injury to the head, back, leg and serious nervous shock.

Bernard Herbert of 32 Newcomb place sustained concussion wounds on the legs and bruises. He was taken home in the Police ambulance William Hendrie of 623 Washington street, sustained wounds on his right thigh and left elbow. He also was taken home in the police ambulance.

Geo. H. Foss of 29 Elm place received contused wounds to the left knee. He was taken home in Chief Burrell's carriage.

John F. Kelliher of 623 Washington street received injuries to the feet and a nervous shock. He also was taken home.

Mrs. Theo Ruggles Kitson, the sculptor, was among the passengers at the depot waiting for the train and had stood directly in the path taken by the flying truck a few minutes before the train rushed by Fortunately she had gone to another part of the platform when the accident happened.

The baggage truck was badly Hancock street, #### smashed, and eventually landed up side down in the street, minus its wheels. Several pieces of the baggage on the truck were smashed and the contents strewn about.

A. M. Deane, the well known South Quincy granite manufacturer, was among those standing on the platform at the time of the accident. Mr. Deane had his son with him, and as they were walking back and forth the keen-sighted boy noticed that the truck was very near the rails. He called his father's attention to it, saying that the approaching train would surely hit it. Mr. Deane says that he told the boy that it was probably all right for the men who had charge of it would be careful and not leave it too near. Then they walked toward the depot. The train came along and true to the boy's prediction the truck was struck.

Although those mentioned above were all that received injuries there were many at the depot who had so narrow an escape that it gave them a nervous shock. The engineer of the express train evidently did not realize that there had been an accident, for the train was not stopped, but thundered on its way to Boston. He was probably surprised on reaching there to learn that there had been an accident.

The truck was one belonging to the New York and Boston Dispatch Express Co., and employes at the depot said that it was in charge of employes of that company.

The news that there had been an accident at the depot flew like wild fire, and in a short time a crowd of several hundred gathered, as many had friends who were to take the 3.13 train for Boston and were anxious to learn if they were safe.

It was but a few days ago that there came near being an accident similar to that of Saturday. On this day the truck was so near that it scraped along the side of the cars threw some of the baggage onto the depot platform. On this occasion it happened to be a train that was coming to a stop at the depot. Had the train been an express the chances are that the swaying of the train would have resulted in the truck being struck and thrown in a similar manner as on Saturday. The wonder is that when the truck struck the post that it did not reit done so the train might have been derailed with loss of life. As far as could be learned this morning, all of the men injured were doing well although more or less lame and sore. None of the injuries will result seriously.

DESTROY UNION

basis of Counter Conspiracy Charge In Haywood Trial

TO EXTERMINATE OFFICERS

Claim That Detective Agency Was Paid to Secure Conviction and Death, and That Orchard Was Used For That Purpose

Boise, Ida., July 1.-The alleged conspiracy of the Pinkerton National Detective agency, under retainer from the Mineowners' association and the Citizens' Alliance of Colorado and Idaho, to destroy the Western Federation of Miners, was taken up today when the trial of William D. Haywood was resumed on the charge that he murdered former Governor Steunenberg. The defense sets up this as the counterconspiracy, of which Harry Orchard, it is charged, was simply an agent.

The chief witness to this countercharge is Morris Friedman, formerly a stenographer for the Pinkertons at the beadquarters of the western division in Denver. It is alleged that Friedman, as an agent of Socialists and the Western Federation, procured the position with the Pinkertons for the purpose of spying on the detective agency. Some of the daily reports of the "oparrangements to quickly extinguish any enators" employed by the detective agency to join the Western Federation and attend meetings of the local unions and to obtain their own election to office in these unions, Friedman has testifled, were given to him to copy. He made a copy for himself, and now produces a number of these reports, the admissibility of which as evidence will be argued today. Counsel for the state refuse to attach importance to Friedman's testimony, which is incorporated in a book written by Friedman.

> It is asserted that when Orchard was arrested on the charge of murdering Steunenberg he was induced by the Pinkertons to make a confession, implicating Haywood, Moyer, Pettibone,

> Further incriminating evidence was manufactured by the Pinkertons in support of Orchard's confession, it is charged by the defense, so that Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone might be convicted of a capital offense and exemembers of the federation were placed n jeopardy of trial on a similar charge

A review of the evidence introduced last week brings the conclusion that counsel for the defense will endeavor o prove to the jury that the Pinkerton agency and the Mineowners' association, with the knowledge and approval of the governor of Idaho, the former governor of Colorado and other influenial persons, conspired to procure the hanging of Haywood, Moyer and Pettione, and that incidentally the mineowners are directly responsible for the fort will be made to correct it." ## MAN OF MAGNETISM

Francis Murphy, "Apostle of Temperance," Dies In California

NEVER INVOKED LAW'S AID

Made First Public Speech When Sentenced For Killing a Man -As Orator He Reformed Hundreds of Thousands of Drunkards

Los Angeles, Cal., July 1.-Francis Murphy, the famous temperance lecturer, died yesterday following a long illness and peneral collapse.

Murphy was born in Ireland April 24. 1836, and came to this country when he was 16 years old. He arrived with a small sum of money, which was at once spent in drink. Murphy knocked around for a while and then became proprietor of an inn in Portland, Me., where he was his own best patron at the bar. He wound up in jail and then his re form followed.

He went into the temperance move nent with his whole soul and strength. He never would invoke the aid of law to prevent men from drinking. In his advocacy of temperance Murphy knew neither creed nor race. His purpose was to reach the hardened drunkards to lift them up, and his eloquent sincerity won him great success.

It was in 1869 that Murphy was placed on trial for his life in Maine on the charge of killing a man named Murphy by pushing him downstairs. The case was hard fought on both sides, and the jury returned the verdict of "not guilty of murder, but guilty of manslaughter."

It was when brought into court to be public speech. He arose in the dock and public speech. He arose in the dock and sentenced that Murphy made his first told the story of his life with such eloquence that there were few dry eyes in the courtroom when he had finished. He was given the remerkably light sentence of two mont!

With the memory . still fresh in his mind, he went from the fail to the Allen mission in Portland, where he made an impassioned temperance speech. It was from this little start that he became one of the greatest temperance orators of the world. He began work as a temperance orator without a dollar. He traveled the country over telling the story of his

In 1881 and 1882 he made a triumphal tour of Great Britain, his endeavors in the temperance cause being endorsed by distinguished persons. Over 900,000 people signed the temperance pledge

Big, white-haired and ruddy-faced, Murphy was an admirable specimen of a reformed man. A magnetism in his makeup irresistibly drew men to him, especially those who had had similar experiences to his own. He married Elizabeth J. Ginn of New York. He served in the Union army during the Civil war.

Sticking to the Boycott

Beziers, France, July 1.-The commission appointed to succeed the officers of the municipality who resigned as a result of the rioting following the winegrowers' demonstration also resigned and the government ordered municipal elections to be held. Election booths were erected, but both the candidates and the voters instituted a boycott. After the expiration of the legal six hours the booths were taken down.

Dead Balloonist Found at Sea London, July 1 .- The body of Lieutenant Leake, who was one of two army officers who made a balloon ascension before King Edward and Prince Fushimi at Aldershot four weeks ago. was found in the sea near Bridgeport Saturday night. The body of Lieutenant Caulfield, who accompanied Leake in the ascension, was picked up at sea near Weymouth on June 23.

Jury Thinks Loving Was "Insane" Houston, Va., July 1.-After being in the jury room 45 minutes the jury returned a verdict of "not guilty" of murder by reason of insanity in the case of former Judge W. G. Loving, who shot and killed Theodore Estes, following a buggy ride Estes had taken with Loving's daughter, Miss Elizabeth Loving, who told her father that her escort had drugged and assaulted her.

French Weavers For America Lille, July 1.-The authorities have discovered a clandestine emigration igency which is shipping Roubaix weavers to Paterson, N. Though the mayor has declared that the law does not permit dealings with civil service employes who are on strike, and the street cleaning department refused to formally enintimated that a settlement may be legally arranged.

The men hold to their original demands, the most important of which are: That 48 hours constitute a week's work, and that overtime be paid at the rate of 25 cents an hour; that no fines be imposed without the opportunity for a hearing; that a system of suspension be practiced instead of fines.

South Quincys And Houghs Neck Administer Whitewash

At Ward Three playground on Saturday South Quincy defeated the fast Melrose team in an interesting game by a score of 2 to 0

Melrose won the opening game of the season and the home team was Taber, l.f. out for revenge. South Quincy won the game by playing inside ball, and although Foley pitched a masterly game they were able to work in their hits at opportune periods and in this way pulled off a victory.

With Patterson in the box the home team felt confident of win- Murray, l.f. ning and his pitching was a treat to the spectators. He had wonderful speed and splendid control and his elusive delivery proved too much of a problem for the visitors to solve He is credited with having one or more strikeouts in each inning and in the game fanned ten of the opposing batsmen. He pitched a marvelous game when it is considered not a hit was made off his delivery, and only two of the visitors reached third base.

It looked as though Melrose would cause trouble in the first inning Waldon the first man up reached first. E. Cassell drove the first ball pitched to Duffy, who threw to Birnie getting the runner by a close margin. Waldon who started when the ball was hit headed for third but Birnie had his "lamps" on the runne and by a lightning throw to Duggan who covered third nailed Waldon for the second out and J. Waldon closed the inning by striking out.

The home team came in for their half but their stay was a brief one as they went out in order. There was nothing doing for either side until the third when the home team broke the ice and scored the first run of the game. It happened in this way. Burke and Oswald were retired but Duggan reached first on a Texas leaguer. He stole second and on Duffy's clean hit to centerfield he jogged home.

Patterson put on more steam and Leach, c. up to the eighth inning prevented Hoxie, 2b. the visitors from hitting a ball to the Nichols, l.f. outfield. South Quincy added another Thayer, 1b, atlly in this half of the eighth and Foley 3b. this ended the run-getting. The game was such as to keep the Davenport, r.f.

spectators keyed up to a high pitch of excitement. The home team is certainly putting up a first class article of ball and it may be well to mention at this time that the Chase 2b, patronage extended thus far is not LaRose, 3b. what it should be. If there is no Haskell, l.f. improvement in the future the man- Stanton, 1b. agement have decided to play games Bartley, c. THE IDEAL COOKING APPARATUS

In the Sterling Combination, the High Gas Oven and Broiler are over the Range, occupying the space usually taken up by the High Warming Closet. The Three-burner Gas Attachment to the right of the Range is flush with the top, forming an End Shelf when not in use. It can be purchased without the other parts if desired.

The Independent Gas Water Heater can be used with or without any of the various Gas Combinations we make, being directly connected with the Water Front in the Range, furnishing sufficient hot water for a bath, washing dishes, etc., on short notice without heating up the house in summer time.

Samuel Smilax Gets His Wife To Help With Good Results.

(By Samuel Smilax.)

Samuel! Samuel Smilax! Are you razy! Sprawled out there on you damp ground! Tomorrow I shall vith rheumatism.

I looked up. It was the voice of Susan, my guardian angel, calling to almost motherly solicitude, as sh

I was studying through my gar den microscope, a fat slug or snail. Some how or other, the poetic and were both in the back yard, and nouse, should materialize, she car scat up the ladder into our old oak

A slug or snail, when properly gous to the human race, and this of his class. I caught him just as promising tomato plants close to the ground. On looking at him through the magnifying glass, I discovered he was constructed like an electric car He had a head on each end, and could reverse, and while one end of him was eating my choice plant, the other end was gazing around with a pathetically anxious look selecting THE Desirable Residence of Charles F which plant he should devour when it came time for his end to eat; and then like some men I have observed at banquets, after they have eaten everything in sight, they sort of curl up and go sound asleep, while the after-dinner speeches are de-

There are two ways to capture garden snails. One is to go out at midnight, for that is their favorite time for prowling. Take a lantern, and at the physicological moment when one end looks up to see what the other end is going to do, grasp him calmly but firmly between the two ends, and drop him into an old tomato can. Susan usually holds the lantern and the can on these excursions, and the facial expression she wears, when I seize the varmit, is much more amusng than anything in "Wonderland" or "Paragon Park," and obviously ess expensive.

Another and more practical way, which I discovered by accident, is o set a pail, or any other receptacle of little value, on the ground where you suspect they dwell, fill half full of water, and lift it up occasionally You will quite often find several have taken refuge there. They like the dampness and like some of the human specie, in warm or cold weather, they like to moisten their anatomy.-or the quiet.

To cultivate a kitchen garden successfully requires a deal of patience, persistence, and careful observation. That is the one reason favor "Nature Study" in our schools. It teaches children at an early age to observe, and no matter whether they can differentiate between a cockroach, and a camel, if they acquire a habit of seeing flowers, trees, birds and insects, it equips them with a source of pleasure and BATH HOUSES profit all through life.

From a half century of experience n gardening in an amateur way, * ! have formulated for myself the following general rules, subject of course to slight changes, in exceptionally late or early seasons.

Dig the soil at least two feet deep, Pulverise it as fine as possible. Do not waste your dressing or fertilizer by sowing or strewing it on broad cast; strike out your rows and put in the dressing, tramp it Jane 28 down and cover about half an inch Then put in quite a little more seed than you think you ought.

Why! Because seed, and in fact, every other product of nature has sex, and only the female sex, will germinate spring up, and bear fruit. If you sow twelve beans around a pole, as a rule only six or seven will germinate under favorable

Wetmore of Newport to the United States senate was endorsed by a vote to 18 to 9 at a meeting of the Republican state central committee in this city. Five members of the committee were absent, and of the 34 members present seven did not vote.

Yesterday's action is the climax in a series of events that have occurred in Rhode Island Republican politics since the state campaign last fall. Wetmore's term of office expired, and inof Garbage In Streets--Will Take stead of being endorsed by the state committee for re-election, he was opposed within his own party by Samuel P. ## CAUSE AND CURE OF APPENDICITIS

THE SIMPLE REMEDY THAT EFFECTS THE CURE

Professor Blanchard of the Freuch Academy of Medicine has spent a great amount of tim studying that dread disease—Appendicitis. In company with Professor Metchnikoff, he has carefully examined numerous cases, and both have reached the conclusion that the cure is not the knife. In more than forty cases the symptoms of Appendicitis disappeared after the patients had been treated for worms.

There are, no doubt, many persons suffering from worms who are erroneously attributing their trouble to some other cause. A few doses of Dr. True's Elixir are sufficient in most cases for the complete expulsion of the worms.

The presence of these parasites is easily recognized by the following symptoms:-Indigestion foul tongue; offensive breath; variable appetite; hard and full belly with occasional gripings and pains about the navel; heavy, dull eyes; itching of the nose; short dry cough; grinding of the teeth; starting during sleep; slow and frequent fever; in children—convulsions and bed wetting

Friedman Gives Further Testimony In Behalf of Haywood

IS TO SHOW A COUNTER-PLOT

Pinkerton Detectives Sat In Convention of Union Miners and Reported All Proceedings--Prosecution Offers No Opposition to Statements

Boise, Ida., July 2 .- Morris Friedman, a Russian stenographer, who left the employment of the Pinkerton agency at Denver to write a book, in which he published certain correspondence of the agency that passed through his hands, was again yesterday the principal figure at the trial of W. D. Haywood.

More than half of the court's day was occupied in reading to the jury copies of the documents which Friedman took from the Pinkerton records. They were chiefly the daily reports of secret agents operating as spies among the unions at Cripple Creek, Victor, Globesville, Colorado City, Trinidad and Denver, and showed a complete surveillance of the Western Federation of Miners and the United Mine Workers Miners and the United Mine Workers of America during the labor troubles in Colorado in 1903-1904. Pinkerton men, they showed, sat in the federation convention in Denver in 1904, reporting all proceedings.

None of the reports that were produced by Friedman and read to the jury by Mr. Darrow contained other jury by Mr. Darrow contained other than general references to the collateral issues of the trial, but they were offered in substantiation of the charge by the defense that the Pinkerton agency conspired for the destruction of the Western Federation of Miners and the lives of the leaders.

The prosecution offered no opposition to any feature of Friedman's testimony and no objection to the introduction of any of the documents that the defense obtained through him. When Friedman was handed over for cross-examination the state endeavored to ascertain whether Friedman had any more reports or letters bearing on the general issue. It attacked Friedman on the ground that he had played the Pinkertons faise, had violated his pledge to them and had stolen the documents which he produced, but the witness would not admit that he had stolen the papers and would not allow Mr. Borah to call him a "Pinkerton." He insisted that it was not stealing to take information that had been obtained by the fraud and deceit of secret service men, and declared that the public service which he performed in informing the people of the methods of the agency fully justified anything that he had done.

Friedman said that if he had known this trial was coming up he would have taken more letters and reports. Borah pressed him to tell just what records there were in the Pinkerton office at Denver bearing directly on this case, and, while the witness said he could not tell him of any particular one, he remembered many letters written by Detective McPartland in which all manner of crimes were laid at the door of the Western Federation of Miners.

Strike Lasted but Half an Hour Albany, July 2 .- For half an hour yesterday the employes of the United Traction company on the Albany and Troy divisions were out on strike. For a time it threatened to develop into a serious tieup of the road and probably a repetition of the long strike of 1901, during which two lives were lost. At a conference between representatives of the company and the employes it was agreed to submit the dispute regarding the wages of the men to a board of arbitration. The decision of the board is to be final, thus averting fur ther trouble.

> Euphemisms For Death. "Decease" is now a regular form of word for death. But it began as a gentle euphemism, "decessus (departure) seeming much less harsh to the Romans than "mors." All languages abound in euphemisms of the kind, which go back to a superstitious reluctance to mention death plainly that gradually passed into a kindly desire to soften the idea. "Passed away," "departed," "gone," "expire" (breathe out), "no more," "demise" and even "the late" are expressions of this na-

Began Early To Celebrate The Fourth and Come to Grief

There was quite a serious acc dent on Liberty street, South Quincy Monday night, caused by the ex plosion of a cannon with which some of the boys were celebrating.

The boys had loaded the canno with explosives using a fire cracke to ignite it. The charge failed explode, and one of the boys picke it up to examine it, while the other gathered about.

Suddenly then the cannon exploded with a loud report, and there Miss Edith Robinson of Rawson road were cries of pain. One had received leaves Wednesday for Chebeague, a bad cut on the head, a second had Maine, where she will spend the sum- lost three of his fingers, and the daily steamer service between Detroit Mrs. Fred P. ## Samuel Smilax Advocates Kitchen Gardens And Gives Rules

(No. 2 by Samuel Smilax.) Lettuce has done unusually well this season. For early lettuce, the simplest way is to build a rough board frame the size of one of your outside windows. Plant the seed broadcast in October, quite late; cover it with dead leaves, and compost. In the middle of the follow ing March take off one of your outside windows lay it over the frame. The ground will thaw out in a few days. Then remove the dressing and leaves and if your frame is on a south exposure the new lettuce will show in six or eight days. Very cold nights throw any old carpet or covering over to keep out frost. This season we had our first lettuce, the "May King," on the 4th day of May and radishes May 20.

In raising lettuce never let it ge dry. In hot or cold weather keep night, and it will grow crisp and tender from May until October. Do not wait for it to head up. Break, not cut off the outside largest leaves with your thumb and finger. This seals the fibre left on the root and in a' week another leaf, equally large will take its place.

These rules refer to a small family garden, and are within the means of all. Most anyone who is not too lazy to exert himself. At the present time, when prices for meat, fish and vegetables, are so high, you almost need an opera glass to see them, and they give you an acute cold chill in your pocket book. How very satisfactory it is to partake of the fruit By CHAS. H. JOHNSON. - - Auctionee of own garden, and by a little salu tary sacrifice. Let the different trusts, and combines keep their fish flesh and fowl, in cold storage.

What is more appetizing on a sultry day than a cool crisp lettuce salad. Gather the lettuce early in the morning put it in a shallow dish, with cold water, and cover, to keep the water over it. Then put it in the ice box. This simple rule adds at least fifty per cent, to its daintiness and flavor. When preparing, break it up coarsely, add the oil, then the sugar, and over all a gentle rain of lemon juice.

Dozens of things can be added to this combination, such as fish, chicken, lobster, radish, onion, card, kale, eggs, etc., etc.

As a tonic and sedative for ladies, nothing is superior to a kitchen garden, the ozone, the exercise, the companionship of flowers, blooms, birds and toads are much more conducive to physical, and intellectual, betterment than any other employment You get gradually nearer the great heart of nature, and I have no doubt the birds and flowers and insects enjoy your graceful presence fully as much as we men folk do. If not why did an all wise Father create you in a garden, and give you a man to boss round among the turnips and squash vines. I respect your feelings too much to mention apples, for if I did I should have Susan "to reckon

To obtain all the pleasure possible you need to have a little tool which we call a "scratcher," a little three tooth rake with which to stir up the soil, for most any plant will grow more rapidly if the soil is kept from forming a dry hard cake. A microscope is also almost a necessity, as many insects not visible to the naked eye can be readily inspected with this little instrument. Its cost is only fifty cents. Any jeweller or optician will procure it for you. It has a durable brass frame, and stands on three legs, a great deal more firmly than some of our High school pupils did in their "three legged race."

Last year we had our first blossoms of sweet peas on June 27 and this year they come on June 24. I think this a good showing and 303 Water Street, is very largely due to a frequent use June 28 of the "scratcher." They have not been watered this season, but when thirsty, had sense enough to creep down deep into the moist cool soil and help themselves.

I believe many people are all wrong in their method of watering gardens, the foliage and leaf of a plant are its lungs, not its stomach, in to their lungs unless they fall

My tomato plants, except about the roots, have not had a drop of water. except of course rain, and they are the most sturdy and rugged I have seen this season. What you want in all the early corn you can, for is a perfect dream of gastromomic high art.

Perhaps I can persuade her to allow me to give the receipt in my valuable hints about bugs, aphis cut worm, and other familiar friends and enemies I meet and chat with in our kitchen garden. As soon as you finish reading this article go right out and look over the rose bushes and grape vines. You will no doubt find them occupied by unusually numerous and hungry, lawn parties, and picnickers. Out fruit pedler is bellowing in at the kitchen window so I must stop until further notice.

A Tough Gang Of Bad Boys

There is a hard set of boys about South Quincy, and if something is not done to hold them in check they will and as very few people take water come to some bad end. Some of these boys have been brought into overboard, so with plants the less court time and time again and water used on the foliage the better either fined or put on probation. The boys do not seem to care for either, for when they leave the court room they laugh about it and think it a good joke.

It does not tend to reform them for they are at their old tricks to do this year, right now, is to put again in a day or two. There have been a dozen or more breaks at South a dry hot season is probable, and a Quincy and in every case the work corn chowder," the kind Susan makes has been traced to a particular set of boys. America Would Keep Japan From Absorbing Manchuria

SUPREMACY OF THE PACIFIC

Our Pretensions In That Direction Will Not Be Relinquished -- We Are Well Prepared to Renew Concern on Behalf of China

of a new naval policy which involves concentration in the Pacific is expected to cause determined opposition from influential interests on the Atlantic coast; further it is fully anticipated that anti-imperialistic opposition will become active and will be aimed against what will be distorted as a policy calculated at once to embroil us with Japan, and also to make the navy vastly larger and more expensive. Notwithstanding these difficulties, the policy has been determined, and, as predicted, is denied. The supremacy of the Pacific is not to be relinquished to Japan. The Pacific fleet of 16 battleships will require to be supplemented by a squadron of armored cruisers, the naval organization making eight armored cruisers the squadron unit which accompanies a fleet of 16 battleships. Tennessee, Washington, Montana and North Carolina. The Tennessee and Washington are now on their way to the Pacific. These huge armored cruisers are larger than most of the battleships that fought on either side in the Russo-Japanese war.

Along with the battleship fleet and California has just put up a fresh armored cruiser squadron there will be maintained in the Pacific two torpedo flotillas. The problem of maintenance of the huge Pacific establishment cannot be overstated. The president's naval recommendations for next year will include one or more 20,000-ton battleships of the greater than Dreadnought type, but the striking feature of his program will be a request for additional docks in the Pacific.

The government is entirely sincere in believing that Japan has no designs against the Philippines. She would, of course, seize them in case of war; but sake of getting them is not believed for a moment. The United States and Japan both have their problems of jingoism and "yellowism" and both must be prepared to cope with any eventuality that, however undesired, may be forced upon them.

The denial from Oyster Bay speaks for itself. The time for the transfer of the fleet has not been fixed, but the policy of naval concentration in the Pacific is established.

Rockefeller, was besieged by United States Marshal Chandler and a corpse of deputies representing the department of justice from early yesterday morning till after nightfall. The efforts of federal officers to serve the subpoena issued from Judge Landls' court in Chicago on Rockefeller has been unsuccessful and Chandler and his deputies today continued picketing the Rockefeller estate. Access to the lodge was denied a deputy marshal yesterday afternoon and Chandler announced that he would ask the department of justice at Washington for further authority in the case. Later he was admitted to the Washington, July 3.-Inauguration lodge and Superintendent Jones of the Rockefeller estate informed him that he and his deputies could have the freedom of the place, a disclaimer being entered that the barring of the gate against the deputies was meant as an affront to federal authority.

Hatched by Organization Which Received Czar's Blessing

CHIEF CONSPIRATOR KILLED

Men Whom He Trusted to Help Him Carried Out Sentence of Death Passed by Revolutionists--Light May Be Thrown on Other Plots

St. Petersburg, July 3 .- From revolutionary sources there has been obtained and published full details of a sensational reactionary plot to compass the murder of Count Witte, the former Russian premier, who represented his country at the peace negotiations at Portsmouth in 1905. This assassination was planned by the Moscow branch of the Union of True Russian People, the organization to which the ezar sent a communication on June 17 conveying his blessing to the ultra-reactionary party and his hopes for the success of its purposes. The execution of the plot was entrusted to the leader of the Moscow branch, a man named Kazantseff, who came to St. Petersburg the latter part of May and secured employment in a factory as a common laborer. He befriended several of his feliow-workmen and, after announcing himself as an anarchist, he enlisted four men to assist him in carrying out his commission.

It was planned to throw a bomb at Witte's carriage from the window of a him in carrying out his commission. Witte's carriage from the window of a boarding house on Kamenny island, while the count was on his way to attend a meeting of the council of the tend a meeting of the council of the empire. The plot, however, was betrayed by the revolutionist bureau. trayed by the revolutionist bureau, which gave Witte warning. The four workmen continued to pretend loyalty

The day for the assassination was fixed and that morning Kazantseff led his supposed assistants to a wood in the vicinity of St. Petersburg in order the vicinity of St. Petersburg in order to get the bombs from a secret hiding place. But at this point the four men turned on Kazantseff and killed him, carrying out the sentence of death passed upon him.

to Kazantseff in order not to arouse his

The revolutionists kept the facts in their possession secret in order to aid the police in identifying the murderers of the young man who was found in a wood in the suburbs of this city June 11 with his throat cut and who was supposed to have been executed by fellow-terrorists as a spy. Through the aid of certain telephone numbers this crime has been traced to some well known leaders of the Black Hundreds organization of Moscow.

The procurator of Moscow yesterday searched the lodgings of Kazantseff and found considerable compromising ma terial. The widow of Kazantseff, up to the present time, had been ignorant of the fate of her husband. It is hoped that the information obtained will give a clue to the murder of Dr. Jollos, editor of a newspaper in Moscow, who was shot and killed by an unknown man, and throw light on other murderous plots.

Count Witte is today the best hated member of the ultra-reactionary party.

Woman Hounded to Penury Pittsburg, July 3.—Trembling before the gaze of two countrymen. Mrs. Stella Pagana, an Italian woman, told a story in court of how her savings of years had been extorted from her by two of her fellow-countrymen, who had from time to time demanded money by threatening letters. So frequent were the demands that her bank account was soon gone and finally she had to sell her property. She was now reduced to penury, but her oppressors persisted in their demands that she raise money for them. The men were held for court.

Great Explosion of Giant Powder Salt Lake City, July 3 .- Two carloads of giant powder on a side track five miles from this city caught fire from burning grass and exploded, jarring heavy buildings in this city and breaking windows for miles around. A local passenger train was a quarter of a mile away when the powder exploded. Every window in the train was broken and passengers were hurled from their seats.

Japanese Naval Men Coming London, July 3 .- Admiral Yamamoto, four captains, a commander and a surgeon of the Japanese navy from Prince Fushimi's party, sailed for New York today from Liverpool on the steamer Carmania. The Japanese officers were received in farewell audience by King Edward yesterday before their departure.

Bishop Must Go to Panama Washington, July 3 .- Secretary Taft announces that it has been finally decided to establish permanently the office of secretary of the isthmian canal commission on the isthmus and Joseph B. Bishop, the present secretary of that body, will proceed to Panama to establish himself there. Open to Foreign Trade Shanghai, July 3.-China has notified the powers of the opening of Manchuria to foreign trade. The opening of seven towns, together with those previously announced, makes a total of 21 towns in Manchuria now open to foreign commerce.

CAUGHT BY UNDERTOW

Two Professors at Mount Hermon Drowned In Canoe Accident

East Northfield, Mass.; July 3 .-Philip K. Green, professor of English and mathematics, and Professor David A. Durward, assistant in the agricultural department at the Mount Hermon school for boys, were drowned while canoeing in the Connecticut river by the upsetting of their canoe. Both men clung to their frail craft for some time, but before assistance could reach them they were apparently drawn under the water by the strong undertow and did not again rise to the surface. The accident was seen by two mer who were fishing some distance away, Marlboro street, are spending a week at but they were unable to render any assistance. The river is very treacherous at that point and is from 20 to 30 feet deep. Green was 24 years of age, belonged in North Bridgton, Me., and was graduated from Bowdoln college in 1904. This was his second year of teaching at Mt. Hermon, and he had planned to leave the school today to enter Haryard college, where he was to take a post graduate course. Durward was 25 years of age and a graduate of the Cornell agricultural school, class of 1906, this being his first year at Mt. Hermon. His home was in Clare-

New York View of New Haven Octopus

From New York Sun.

When the scholar in politics traverses the interval between the two bays, Oyster and Massachusetts, there is always danger that a forgetful nation will overlook his heated term achievements. Mr. Lodge in the summer takes no outing. He takes an inning.

Though not its putative parent, the Nahant statesman is well understood portant measure just engrossed in Massachusetts parchment to prevent the discussion of the tariff in the coming campaign and providing dire woe for anybody who seeks to do any railroad merging before July 1, 1908. ## Initial Trip Of S. S. Creole

The magnificent new steamship Creole, built at Quincy, is advertised by the Southern Pacific Company to make her initial trip on the Morgan line between New York and New Orleans on Saturday, July 13. Since leaving Quincy this ship, which has no superior in the coastwise service, has been fitted at New York with carpets, upholstery, linen, supplies, etc. It has elegant accommodations, social hall, library, game room, spacious decks, large staterooms, bridal suites, piano, baths, etc. Add to this an excellent cuisine and one has all the comforts for a five days' ocean trip.

Capt. T. P. C. Halsey, who was in Quincy several months will be in command, and he is a veteran in the service of the company. The chief engineer is George W. Salbador, also well known in Quincy. It is up to the latter to prove that the Curtis twin-screw turbine engines installed by the Fore River Shipbuilding Co. are a success.

Turbine engines are an innovation, and some doubt whether they will make good, but the Fore River the company, and others interested in turbine engines will make the round trip in the Creole and watch the workings.

It is expected that turbines will be more economical, but what is better, there will be an absence of vibration and noise incident to large engines usually used, which will add to the comfort of the passengers. The distance by water from New York to New Orleans is nearly 2000 miles, and the scheduled time is 117 so it will be seen that the Creole must make upwards of 16 knots per hour to arrive July 18.

Trawler Spray Makes Good Haul

Three tons of flatfish, says the Herald, were scooped from the bottom in 75 fathoms of water by the steam trawler Spray, built at Quincy which reached Boston on Tuesday from a fairly successful trip.

The flatfish include sole and flounders, and command a good price. Until recently fiatfish in such deep water have been immune from danger of being marooned on T wharf because their mouths are so small as to make it impossible to get a firm hold on the hooks that dangle from the conventional trawl even if a set be made in shoal water where the bait could reach the bottom.

But the Spray's merciless dredge scoops up everything movable, and the flounders, sole and even halibut are included in the hauls. The introduction of steam trawling has resulted in the marketing of many rare varieties of the finny tribe.

Shore Dinner

That a party of nine Quincy gentlemen could add 37 pounds to their weight at a shore dinner seems incredible, but the representative of the Daily Ledger was there and was forced to accept the facts. Here are the figures the scales registered before and after

The only member of the party who really tried to make a pig of himself was Mr. B. He felt bad on the trip from Quincy, and touched the scales before dinner at 209. He did not like the idea of taking second place to Mr. A, and it will be seen that he almost overtook

It will be seen that one of the party only added a single pound, and two pounds was all the lightweight could devour, while the three heavyweights together increased their weight 22 pounds. 'Unto those who bath shall be given,

The gentlemen had accepted the invitation of President T. L. Williams of in addition to the regular patrol wagthe Board of Trade for a sail in his trim on the police had a powerful automolaunch on Wednesday afternoon and the Point was extra. In the party were Assessors C. H. Johnson and J. W. Pratt, President Piper of the City Council, Representative Sandberg, Charles Foster, J. R. Richards, A. W. Stetson and F. F. Prescott. All were enthusiastic over the sail and dinner, and the

before the glorious Fourth of July was all that could be desired never has the lid been kept down better There were lots of young Americas about, and they made the usual amount of noise, but for pure deviltry here was but little. The fire alarms were but few and in but one was there any particular damage done, for in each case the recall was sounded almost immediately. The young people began to gather about the streets early in the evenng and burn their red fire and explode their fireworks, so that by midnight the supply of many had been exhausted. Then they had to norns and parading about streets. tions the men were on duty all night and made no attempt to get any sleen. The firemen had a quiet time of it, however compared with some other years. For the first time for twelve years the Combination Hose at the Central Station did not go out of the house the night before the Fourth. Each section was supposed to take care of its own district, and they did it.

During the evening several members of the City Council Committee on Fire Department were at the Central Fire Station and were entertained by Chief Litchfield. Lunch was served by Caterer Furnald.

Most of the clubs of the city kept open house all the evening, although there was nothing special doing at any of them. The evening was so warm and mild that most of the people preferred to be upon the street. It was quite noisy in City Square up to 11 o'clock, but after that it was rather quiet until long toward morning when the younger element out by this time and were getting a could find a place to lie down. George Stoddard of Hersey street, Quincy Point, had an eye badly injured by the explosion of a fire cracker.

Those in a position to know, say that the night before the Fourth this year, was the quietest ever known at Quincy Point. But one accident of a serious late, owing to having separated from nature was reported. That of George Strattard of Hersey place, who picked up a lighted sky-rocket, which exploded, filling his eyes and face with powder. No serious result is expected; and after being treated by Dr. Bushnell he was sent home.

There were some others who received more or less painful burns.

Disclaims That Movement of Battleship Fleet Is In Any Way Dictated by International Forebodings -- What Metcalf Has to Say

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 5.-The basis of the world-traveled rumor that a flet of 16 American battleships was to be stationed in the ocean which separates this country from Japan is probably explained in an official statement made public at the executive offices

While not expressly stated, it is intimated that the battleships may go to the Pacific in the near future, but if they do it will be in furtherance only of a plan of routine naval maneuvers. Moreover, it is added that the matter of destination is undetermined and the fleet is quite as likely to be ordered to the Mediterranean or the South Atlantic as to the Pacific.

In any event, the statement emphasizes that no political significance is to be attached to the trip, and it is further made clear that the inference that friction between individual citizens of this country and natives of Japan has Mr. and Mrs. George N. It is the policy of the navy department to get the battleships together occasionally for an extended cruise. Arrangements for such a cruise are now under way. They may or may not ma ture by the coming winter. The official statement as given out by Secretary Loeb follows:

"There is no intention of sending a spending her vacation at the home of fleet at once to the Pacifific. AWAITS CHEMIST'S REPORT

Medical Referee Not Certain of Cause of Mrs. Studley's Death

Derry, N. H., July 5 .- That the death of Mrs. Annie H. Studley of Boston, whose body was found Tuesday in Canoble lake, was due to some other cause than drowning, was disclosed by the autopsy which was held by Medical Referee Newell and his assistant, Dr.

showed that no water had entered the pleural cavity, as would have been the case had the woman been drowned, and there was very little water in the stomach. All the organs of the body were found to be in a healthy condition. The only indication of an assault was about the head, where contusions appeared about both the eyes, and at the top of the skull. About eight ounces of semi-fluid matter was found ounces of semi-fluid matter was found in the stomach, and this, together with the stomach itself, will be sent to a chemist for examination to determin whether any poison was used. Dr. Newell said that he was not pre pared to state the cause of death and would not make any report until he had the result of the chemist's examination. He added that the wound above the right eye was sufficient to have caused death. The examination showed conclusively that the woman did not breathe after entering the water, but whether the wounds on her head were due to falling on the rocks or to blows of an assailant, the officials were unable to determine.

Burglar Killed by Watchman Boston, July 5 .- One of two robbers who entered the scrap iron and junk warehouse of Phillip Bloomfield & Co at midnight was shot and instantly killed in a duel with the night watchman, William Danita. In the ex change of shots Danita received a bul let in the left breast and is in a critica cendition. The name of the dead man is unknown. The second man fled It developed that the safe on the second floor of the building had been blown open and robbed. On the body of the dead man were found a bottle of nitro-glycerine, several fuses and

Negroes Arraign Roosevelt

Boston, July 5 .- The annual confer ence of the New England African Methodist Episcopal church came to a close last night with a patriotic service which was characterized by a severe arraignment of President Roosevel and the country in general for the al leged ill treatment of the negro. Bishop Turner of Atlanta made an attack upon the government and W. H. Trotter combined with a speech commending Foraker for the presidency, an attack upon Roosevelt for his alleged failure to better serve the needs of the colored people.

Cadets Leave Training Ship

New London, Conn., July 5 .- Claiming that the food given them has been unsatisfactory and that the shore leaves have been too short, 53 of the 70 cadets of the Massachusetts training ship Enterprise, which is now in the harbor, refused to return to the ship when their shore leave ended yesterday, but instead sent a note to Captain Low, outlining their position and demands. They were informed that they could come on board or stay on shore as they chose. The cadets spent the night on Quarreled With Divorced Wife Springfield, Mass., July 5 .- Maurice Hill shot his wife and James Delehanty in the home of Mrs. Hill in this city. The woman will recover, but Delehanty died late last evening. Hill fled after the shooting, but later was arrested in Chicopee. Hill and his wife had been divorced. Delehanty was a boarder with Mrs. Hill. Hill went to the house last night and it is supposed that a quarrel was started. It is said that there has been trouble between Hill and Mrs. Hill over property.

Maine Town Badly Scorched Eastport, Me., July 5.—The little town of Pembroke suffered a serious loss by fire last night, 14 buildings, comprising the principal business and residential section, being wiped out by the flames. The loss is about 50,000. All the structures were of wood and the fire, which is supposed to have originated from fireworks, swept through the place without hindrance, there be ing no fire fighting apparatus except buckets.

Two Motormen Killed In Wreck Providence, July 5.-Two men are dead and nearly a score of others suffered severe injuries as the result of a rear-end collision of three electric cars at East Providence. Two of the cars were badly smashed and the other somewhat damaged. The accident is said to have been due to the failure of the brake to work on the rear car. Motorman Paul Monroe and Motorman Alexone Janelle were the men killed.

Rioters Eluded the Police

Lawrence, Mass., July 5 .- Several persons were badly beaten and police reserves were called out in a race riot between Poles and Jews quartered on Valley street. Hammers and wheel spokes were used as weapons. Upon the approach of a patrol wagon with the officers the rioters dispersed. The police pursued them, but only one Benjamin Cohan, was captured.

Three Canoeists Drowned Bangor, Me., July 5 .- By the capsizing of a canoe in St. Croix lake three employes of the Fish River Lumber company were drowned. The victims were Fred Logan, Thomas Hilliard and Charles Gough.

AN OVER-RATED MAN

Burns Gives Squires His Quietus In a Two-Minute Fight

KNOCKED DOWN AT START

Came Back Wobbly and Went Down For Second Time--Took All the Australian's Defense and a Right to the Jaw Put Him Down and Out

San Francisco, July 5 .- Bill Squires, the much-heralded champion of Australia, succumbed to the blow of a Canadian fist at Colma after he had been in the ring two minutes with Tommy Burns. The men who witnessed the brief meeting between the two pugilists designated him "a false alarm" who should have been pitted against a fourth-rate fighter rather than remarkably creditable showing in the any pugilist with the slightest possession of ring skill. To say that the 9000 persons who journeyed to Colma to witness the fight Augustine Daly, aged 9, being frightwere disappointed would be phrasing it too mildly. Hundreds of persons came from other states to see the leading fighter of the antipodes battle with the light heavyweight champion of the United States, and anticipation was keyed up to the highest point.

The fight was as good as ended the moment the gong sounded for the men to advance to the center of the ring. That the defensive skill of the Australian was exceedingly poor was speedily attested, for in 10 seconds he was prone on the mat. A well directed right from Burns' fist struck him flush on the jaw. It did not have force enough behind it to give Squires his quietus caped from custody yesterday and is and, after taking a count of four, he still at large. The hearing came up rose in a wobbly fashion and rushed at before Judge Wells at Welland and an Burns. The two came into a clinch immediately, but were quickly separated habeas corpus the order was appealed

Burns lost no time in following up the advantage he had gained so early. Out shot the dangerous right again and a second time the champion of Australia was on the canvas with Jeffries standing over him, slowly calling off the seconds. But the end was not yet. Squires evidently had some staying powers in the face of punishment administered to him, and he rose weak- menter on a charge of manslaughter in ly and slowly, while Jeffries held back causing the death of James O'Brien. The fight lasted exactly two minutes and eight seconds.

The fight proved nothing more than that Squires was an over-rated man. Burns, while demonstrating his immeasurable superiority over the Australian, did not have any opportunity to demonstrate whether he is actually entitled to the high pugilistic title that has been bestowed on him.

The receipts were far beyond expec tations. Burns earned $18,000-the $10,000 side bet and his $8000 guarantee. Squires takes 24 percent of the gross receipts, about $6300.

MONKEY HELPED TO FISH.

Accompanied His Master and Was Valuable In Landing Catches. For some years I lived in a small town not far from Frome, and, being very fond of fishing, I was able to indulge in my favorite pastime very oftrout, and I had permission to fish about eight miles of it. The only boat on the lake belonged to a Captain C., who rented a large house with grounds coming down to the lake, and he very kindly allowed me the use of the boat at all times. The captain was perhaps the finest fly fisherman I have ever seen, an enthu siast at the sport, and was often to be seen in the boat, his page boy rowing him about.

The other occupant of the boat was invariably a monkey that sat stolidly in the stern sheets, but when the cap tain hooked a fish Jocko was all activ ity, dancing about the boat in a most excited manner, and as soon as the captain had drawn the fish near enough the monkey, holding on to the gunwale with one hand, would seize the fish with the other, throw it into the boat and then resume his usual seat.

I never saw the monkey lose a fish, and Captain C. told me that he very rarely did miss one. He never took a landing net with him when the monkey accompanied him.-London Field.

LEGAL TENDER.

The Status of Coin, Bank Notes, Gov ernment Notes and Checks.

Unless an agreement is made the or ly payment known to the law is cash. Primarily cash is gold or silver. Gold is a legal tender for everything. Silfriends if we would recognize the facts | ver coins (except the dollar) are a legal tender for the amount of $10 only and the minor coins, the five and one cent pieces, to the amount of 25 cents. There are many kinds of paper mon ey. Only one can be used in making a legal tender in all payments, the notes issued by the United States government and commonly called legal tender notes. National bank notes are a legal tender to the government, but are not a legal tender in payment of a debt by one individual to another.

A check is not an absolute paymen of an obligation. It is no better that a note, and a note is not money. Most obligations, however, are settled by check. The receiver has a distinct duty to perform. He must present the check within a reasonable time to the bank on which it is drawn. Should he carry it in his pocket for several months and in the meantime the bank should fail he would be the loser.-New York

Henry Hudson. Beyond the fact that Henry Hudson was English nothing is known of his birth. In 1607 Hudson sailed from London in a tiny vessel-the crew consisted of ten men and a boy-to discov er the Northwest passage. > Evolution In Lighting. The candle and lamp, the gaslight, the electric light-these are the steps which mark the development of the lamp. And how marvelous a growth it is! How great the triumph over darkness! In the beginning a piece of wood burns with a dull flame and fills the dingy wigwam or cave with soot and smoke. Now at the pressure of a button the house is filled with a light that rivals the light of day, with not a particle of smoke or soot or harmful gas. Are there to be further triumphs in the art of lighting? Are we to have a light that shall drive out the electric light? Time only can tell.—St. Nicholas.

Absit Omen!

Absit omen! "May the omen be away." Suppose a Roman sneezed, a premonition of sudden death. Promptly he murmured absit omen, a prayer that the omen might pass away from him. It was a simple prophylactic measure of much the same value as the crossed fingers or the rap of the knuckles on wood in our present day avoidance of the ever menacing hoodoo, most salutary practices which it would be a pity to forget.-New York Efficient Work. When will we learn that it is not the number of hours we work, but the efficiency of the work done, that counts? Many of us would accomplish much more in two or three hours of vigorous, effective work when the mind is fresh and resourceful than we could accomof the cost in casualties of the Fourth's plish in an entire day with the whole system out of tune. - Success Magazine.

LONG OCEAN CRUISE

Will Be For Domestic as Well as International Reasons

GOVERNMENT APPREHENSIVE

Will Put an End to Present State of Affairs In San Francisco Even If Necessary to Land Bluejackets-

Labor Situation Considered

Washington, July 6 .- Amazing lack of team work has been displayed by the administration in its efforts during the last few days to mislead the public about the itinerary of the Atlantic fleet. Whatever reason there may have been for this deliberate attempt at deception few have been deceived and the attempt has been exposed.

There was no occasion for the whole sale and sweeping denial which emamated from Oyster Bay on July 2 which quoted the secretary to the president as denying the whole announcement and concluded: "Mr. Loeb said that the report is without foundation in fact; that such a movement has never been considered by the president and that its consideration is not contemplated."

On top of this wholesale denial came the statement from Oyster Bay directly contradicting the statement of last Tuesday, for the public is informed that "for the last two years the administration has been perfecting plans to arrange a long ocean cruise of the warship fleet when a sufficient number of warships are gathered.

This latter statement is true. It is also true that the so-called long ocean cruise will be to the Pacific and for domestic as well as international reasons. Not only are American interests in the Pacific sadly unprotected, but the conditions in San Francisco are rapidly growing worse, and it can be announced that the administration is gravely apprehensive over the situation there. The hoodlums and cutthroats of that city have it in their power to throw this country into war with Japan, and it looks as if that was their destination.

of California would be denounced as an invasion of state rights, and might lose the state to the Providence of Street, Boston, Mass. To send federal troops into the state lose the state to the Republicans at the next presidential election. To assemble a battleship fleet in San Francisco harbor can be disguised as a "practice cruise," "an international maneuver" or a "visit of courtesy." It may be all Old Home Week three, but it is also the surest guaranty that the federal government can bring to bear there that the Japanese and other law-abiding citizens of San Francisco will be protected from the attacks of "an unwhipped mob."

Thus by a single bold stroke of order-President Roosevelt has again shown himself a master player in the game of domestic and international politics. It enables the federal government to prevent jingoes in Japan as well as in the United States from plunging the two countries into war. Even the most rabid of Japanese jingoes would hesitate to advocate hostilities with the United States if the latter's battleship strength in the Pacific 's greater by from eight to nine vessels, as will be the case when the Atlantic fleet reaches San Francisco.

As for the jingoes in San Francisco "the unwhipped mob," as Funston called them, the federal government will be able to put a stop to outrages on the Japanese of that city with the Atlantic fleet in the harbor. From that fleet there can be landed an armed force of several thousand marines and 10,000 bluejackets in six hours, an ample force to protect all the Japanese in the city. That the president would not hesitate to do this if necessary is a well known fact. It is also known that he has been growing more and more apprehensive of the effect, in our friendship with Japan of the continued outrages upon the Japanese in San Francisco. Reports received here re cently from the coast have opened wide the eyes of the administration to the shocking conditions in San Francisco.

It is hoped also that the fleet's trans fer will improve the labor situation on the Pacific coast. That section is now in the control of the labor unions so completely that there has been doubt whether a construction and repair or ganization could be effected on which the government might rely for the car of its fleet. The coast unions will be given to understand that they will be given liberal wages and fair working conditions; but that, granted this, if they persist in making trouble, the whole power of the government will be employed to put them down. When the navy gets into California waters, in short, there will be an end to molly coddle policies in handling the labor question so far as it affects the govern ment.

So much for the domestic aspect of the maneuver which Secretary Metcalf | Yard of Miller Street. insists is "practically" without milltary significance. In its broader inter national aspect the transfer of the fleet, or even its visit to the coast, will serve as a reminder to the world that the United States intends to be second to 1.0 power in the Pacific.

Eight-Hour Day In French Mines Paris, July 6 .- The bill fixing the maximum time for labor in the mines at eight hours a day was passed by the chamber of deputies.

Important Questions to Be Fired Rocketeller In Federal Court

Chicago, July 6 .- John D. Rockefeller, president of the Standard Oil company, and his brother, William, a director of that corporation, are in Chi cago, ready to appear today in the United States district court before Judge Landis to be questioned regarding the resources of the Standard Oil company. The Rockefellers reached Chicago yesterday afternoon. They consulted with their attorneys for two hours and then went to the home of Harold F. McCormick, where they will stay while in Chicago. McCormick is John D. Rockefeller's son-in-

These are some of the more important questions which may be put to John D Rockefeller:

1-What association or corporation owns the stock of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, recently found guilty of accepting rebates from the Chicago and Alton railroad?

2-What is the outstanding capital stock of the Indiana corporation? 3-What were the earning; and dividends of the company during the years 1903, 1904 and 1905?

4-Does such holding company own the stock of the Union Tank line? 5-What payments were made by the Chicago and Alton for the use of the Union Tank line cars?

6-How many cars of the company were transported over all other roads between Whiting and St. Louis during the period mentioned? 7-Why was the rate of 10 cents per 100 pounds on oil inserted by the Alton in some of its bills?

Death of Judge Swayne

Philadelphia, July 6 .- Judge Charles Swayne of the United States court for the northern district of Florida, died at the University of Pennsylvania hospital. Swayne's name became familiar to the reading public a year or two ago through an attempt to impeach him for "high crimes and mis demeanors." 'His trial, which took place in the United States senate, resulted in his acquittal by a vote which was almost strictly along party lines.

Litigation Involving $32,000,000 New York, July 6 .- Supreme Court Justice Keogh of West Chester county has rendered a decision barring all dealers in this state from selling or handling the Thomas A. Edison rec ords or supplies without the permission of the New York Phonograph com pany. The dealers throughout the state are ordered to give an accounting of all records sold for the last 10 years. It is estimated that about $32,000,000 is involved in the suit.

Collision of Big Trolley Cars Tonawanda, N. Y., July 6 .- Two big trolley cars met head on last night in North Tonawanda. The cars were making about 15 miles an hour when the collision occurred. ## THE DELAYED STEAL.

Scientific Baseball Trick Described by Expert Murnane.

RUNNER TAKES WIDE LEAD.

"A Wide Awake Lot of Players on the Bases Can Defeat a Team of Sluggers," Says the Famous Veteran Critic.

By TIM MURNANE.

The delayed steal was worked last season as never before until with several teams base running became one of the most important parts of the game, and it required a clever catcher DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN to stop it even with sharp, accurate throwing.

Ever on the alert, the runner would take the limit of ground off first. A throw to first would see him off for second, where he would beat the throw five times out of six.

Then, again, the runner would hold his ground until the catcher had started the ball back to the pitcher, when he would dart for second. As the second baseman and shortstop were playing wide and deep, it was a race for the base, with the pitcher hesitating as to who would take the bail, with the chances all in favor of the runner landing safe. This play was also triedand successfully-with a man on third, the runner making home as the ball was thrown to second base. The delay

T. H. MURNANE. sporting editor, president of the New England league and member of the board of arbitration of the Nationa Association of Professional Basebal leagues.]

in starting was sure to throw off the men who were picked to take the ball and while the basemen were sizing up the situation the base runners were making ground on either or both ends of the play. A wide awake lot of players on the bases, willing to take a chance, will defeat a team of sluggers in a season's Base running is ence of the game and the most pic turesque department.

The double steal, the delayed steal and the steal when the hitting is light is a hard game to beat and especially so if the throwing is not above the average. With base runners for opponents the strongest teams will have to keep a sharp lookout, for a fine base runner is more dreaded when he comes to the bat than the heaviest slugger in the business. Base running has been overlooked by too many baseball managers of the present time.

TENNEY'S CLEVER TRICK.

Boston National Captain Has a Scheme to Block Sacrifice Hit.

Fred Tenney and his Boston Nation al players have developed a play that needs looking into and before the sea son is over will be used by every club in the country. This play blocks the sacrifice, something almost impossible under the old tactics. With a runner on second and first and no one out, the batter's play is to sacrifice and move both men up 's base. As soon as the ball is bunted ordered him to dismount from his toward third the third baseman rushes horse and mount a mule in order to for the ball, and at the same time the shortstop digs out for third base. In stéad of throwing to first, the usual move, the third baseman turns about and throws to the shortstop, who has covered the third bag. As the runner doesn't need to be touched, it makes the play sure and easy for the umpire to decide.

With the play properly completed for the south before Dolliver arrived to there are still two on bases and one out, with the runners stationary, as before. Tenney is given credit for thinking this play out, and it is a peach. The Boston club has played it twice.

TELLS HOW TO DIVE,

Miss Kellermann Gives Valuable Directions For Beginners.

KEEP THE KNEES STRAIGHT.

Stand Erect and Incline the Head Slightly Forward, Says World's Greatest Woman Aquatic Expert. Don't Be Discouraged by Failures.

By ANNETTE KELLERMANN. The world's greatest woman swimmer and diver.

In diving a beginner should not bother about a springboard. The solid float or the stairway into the swimming pool if the water is at least six feet in depth is the right thing. A simple rule to be followed in order to insure absence of the deplorably awkward and often painful flat strike on the water is for the beginner to watch intently some spot on the chest of her bathing garment. A little white button will serve as well as anything else to rivet the eyes on. This prevents that nervous raising of the head which is so often responsible for the flat dive.

One should stand erect, with the head inclined slightly forward. The arms should be outstretched and the feet well together. They should remain together until the completion of the dive. The spring is made so fast that the forehead or the top of the head strikes the water first. If the face strikes first, a false dive is the result.

Spring lightly into the water headforemost, taking the greatest care to carefully measure the distance with your eye between the platform from which you dive and the top of the water. The knees should be kept straight, or the dive will lack in grace, and nothing is so awkward as an ungraceful dive. This should not, however, discourage the beginner, as diving, no more than swimming, can be accomplished by the novice in a lesson or two. It takes patience, and it takes trying, with the courage kept well up and the never say die quality always present.

After reaching the water the quick upward turn should be made, and the shallower the water the sharper and quicker the turn in order that there shall be no bumping against the bottom of the pool or river. This is the simple short dive. In the long dive the body is allowed to remain in the same position as when it strikes the water save for the gradual upward turn, permitting the force of the start to become spent. This latter is very graceful, and it is exceedingly exhibarating.

One of the most attractive dives for the spectator is the wooden soldier. This is accomplished by maintaining the same position as in the long dive save that the hands are kept tight to the side and are not extended upward. The body is kept straight or slightly curving, and the legs and heels are kept tight together. The Australian splash is another novelty. After jumping from the board one lifts the knees and clasps them in the hands, striking the water in a sitting position.

GIGANTIC OCEAN LINER

Luxurious Appointments of the Steamship Adriatic.

FINE FURNITURE AND COLORS.

New White Star Boat Over 700 Feet Long Can Accommodate 3,000 Travelers-Has Nine Steel Decks-Single Berth Rooms and Magnificent Suits.

In her exterior, the Adriatic, new ecean queen of the White Star line, which recently sailed from Liverpool for New York, will much resemble her sister ship, the Baltic, although she is fifteen feet longer, 1,124 tons heavier, 1.000 horse power stronger and from half to a whole knot faster, says the New York World. The Adriatic will also burn something more than the 235 tons of coal a day which the Baltic consumes. This will be comparatively a bagatelle considered with the 750 tons a day eaten up in the furnaces of | Coffin and Cadman. the German greyhounds.

The Adriatic, which is the last and is not intended to be a greyhound, but an economical, seven day ship, providing all the comforts, luxuries, necessi ties, safety, sanitary requirements and fads of the present day which experience and the success of other steamships can suggest.

The Adriatic, which was built at Belfast, Ireland, is of nearly 25,000 tons gross, having a displacement of more than 40,000 tons. She is 725 feet 9 inches over all, 75 feet 6 inches beam and about 50 feet deep.

The Mauretania, of the Cunard line, which will be a queen, is 790 feet long, 87 feet 8 inches beam and has a gross tonnage of 32,500 tons. While the Baltic has 14,000 horse power, the Adriatic has 15,000 horse power, and where the Baltic can make seventeen knots the Adriatic can make eighteen.

It cost only $3,750,000 to build the Adriatic in Ireland, but if she had been built in America she would have cost $5,000,000. She is expected to last twenty-five years. The Britons couldn't build her without American steel, for more than 1,000,000 pounds of boiler plate were required from the Homestead plant of the Carnegie Steel company for the Adriatic's battery of ten boilers, each fifteen feet eight inches in diameter, twenty feet long and carrying 210 pounds of steam to the square inch.

On the Adriatic will be afforded the traveler a choice between the American and the European plans of having his meals served. He may, as he prefers, dine a la carte or table d'hote.

The Adriatic has nine decks, and her novelties include a gymnasium electric elevator connecting the upper deck, promenade deck, upper promenade deck and boat deck, a dining room on the upper deck, lowest of the four passenger decks; no square cornered tables, but little round, restaurant style, family tables, studding her dining room; an orchestra, Turkish and electric baths, luxurious lounges, submarine telephonic signals, radio tele- have filed no schedule with the state oration vet seen in an English ship

Some pains have been taken to give more head room between decks in order to provide apartments of exceptional size and style. The dining room, paneled after the time of Charles II., will seat 370 persons. The entire ship can accommodate 3,000 travelers. By INA WRIGHT HANSON.

In the birch blossom path I saw her first, and my mind was full of annoyance because my sister, who kept my house, should invite a girl to visit her and then insist that it was my duty to help entertain her. I would do nothing of the sort, I was thinking, when a turn in the white blossomed pathway brought her to my view.

She was slender and had a great mass of brownish yellow hair, pinned up with gold pins, one of which glowed sardonically at me with its topaz but think not to appropriate to thyself eye. While I was wondering why she didn't comb her hair smoothly she turned, and her eyes, of a wonderful my own Caprice." vivid blue, seemed to look down into my very soul.

Why I should have stood there with my foolish eyes shut tight I don't know, but I did until she gave me permission to look at the white feathery sprays and at her. Then quite sociably we strolled the rest of the way together. I began to feel interested in uncontrollable. She cast one swift knowing what she would say when we came to the end of the path and she pine path.

"Why, I don't know your name," I said abruptly.

"At first you are going to address me as Miss Britland," she replied promptly. "Afterward you will say Frances, and at the end you will call me Caprice."

"Why in the world should I call you Caprice?" I asked.

"I don't know," she said. "Don't you ever say things just as if somebody inside of you were saying them with your own tongue?"

My reply to this amazing question was hindered by the ending of the birch bushes. We stood facing a little pagoda of white marble. I looked at the girl. Her hands were tensely clasped; her red lips were quivering. "It's like walking down the pathway of love and suddenly coming to the

I showed her the inscription on the worn threshold-"Temple of Love"and with a sudden swift grace she knelt above the lettering. Then she sprang up. "Come, Mr. Angove," she cried gayly; "I will run you a race!" race reminded me of my forgotten dignity. I spent the rest of the day among my books and alone.

Next morning Miss Britland and I selected a walk opposite the birch path. This was a straight path through an avenue of stately pines. Yesterday the girl had been fanciful or merry; this day she was neither. She walked sedately by me, talking quite learnedly of the future of radium. I began to see why I might some time call her Ca-

If anyone has seen an earthquake wandering around loose and ownerless they need not trouble to return it, but they would confer a favor on the Coast and Geodetic survey by reporting where it is. The Coast Survey this week found the record of a bad earthquake on its seismograph at Cheltenham, Md., a little station that the Survey keeps out in the wilds for observing earthquake shocks and other phenomena. It was a pretty bad earthquake, worse than the one at Kingston, Jamaica, and not quite so bad as that at San Francisco. It was travelling from north to south and it lasted about a quarter of an hour. That was all the instrument could tell.

There was immediately a hurry up call sent out to all the big observatories of the world where there are that had been shaken up. But up to R. Atwood. date, the search has been unavailing. The earthquake may have been at the North Pole or in Central Africa or telegraph. That there was a quake is certain. But it cannot be located, state of uncertainty. Anyone who has seen an ownerless earthquake will please oblige by reporting it.

One of the best house lots on Goffe street, Presidents hill, is to be sold at auction next Saturday afternoon. It is at the corner of Dimmock street and owned by John R. Graham of Bangor, Maine, formerly of Quincy.

A mother asks why not sell a bouselot on Coddington street, retaining a foot-way, if thought desirable, and put the new Coddington school entirely on Faxon avenue, where there is a large block of land.

News reached Quincy this morning that George Goodbred of New York, a college student who worked at the Fore River shipyard last summer, was drowned on the Fourth of July. He was well known to many. Particulars

Paraded With Red Flags Waving

The Finnish Workingmen's societies of New England, who are holding their annual picnic at New Downer Landing today, held a parade in City Square this morning. The Quincy society marched to the Quincy depot where they met the out-of-town organizations who arrived by train.

At 10 o'clock the parade formed on Saville street and with red flags waving on high, and accompanied by the Quincy Finn band and Finn bands from Boston and Gardner, a line of march was taken via Washington street to the grove.

The paraders were not confined to men for there were as many women in line as men. Each wore a bright red badge as the societies call themselves Socialists.

A series of sports will be held during the day.

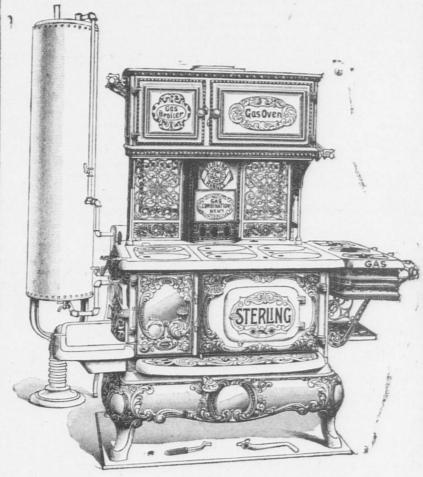

-Among other more or less sensible comments incident to the graduation season, an exchange remarks that it is "lamentable" that the first year in the life of many a high school graduate is marked by an inability to secure anything better in the way of a job than that of a floor-walker in a department store, followed by the pathetic inquiry, "Whose fault is it?" Well, it is nobody's fault and we doubt if it is a fault at all. What in the world is expected of a high school graduate's first year? That he should run the store? That he should be a bank president? That he should be judge of the supreme court? It strikes us that if a young man eighteen years old, a graduate of a high school or not, has sufficient intelligence and tact to be a really good floor-walker, he is starting out pretty well. There have been boys who have commenced considerably lower down than those who have come out at the top; but they never wasted much time in mourning over the lowiness of their beginnings. As a matter of fact, it is not the start that is the important thing. You can get on the train anywhere in the woods, but if you keep on you will land in the metropolis. What is important is the boy himself, and if he has good stuff in him, he will .not mind it much if he does begin as a floor-walker .- Milford Gazette.

THE STUDLEY MYSTERY

Sheriff Hunting For Woman Who May Throw Some Light Upon It

Salem, N. H., July 6 .- Acting upon a bit of information furnished by two persons at Canobie Lake station last evening, High Sheriff Collis and his corps of deputies are making a thorough search of every hamlet in Rockingham county for a fashionably dressed woman, who, it is claimed, can assist the officers in their work of ferreting out the death of Mrs. Annie S. Studiey, whose death has caused the most baffling mystery in the history of New Hamp-

According to the information furnished Coms, the woman got off the train last Monday morning at Canobie lake in company with Mrs. Studley. They immediately went into the station and engaged in an animated conversation which lasted for 10 minutes. During that time a Mr. Orthey, who was looking for a sister who was to visit him and whom he had not seen for many years, approached the two women and asked them if either one was looking for Mr. Orthey. Shortly after Mrs. Studley arose from her seat, left the station and wended her way toward

Her companion suddenly disappeared and no one at the station noticed the direction in which she went. One person, however, whose name is withheld, informed Collis that he thought the woman wanted was in the vicinity of Island Pond. As she is the last person who saw Mrs. Studley alive, a great effort is being made to locate her.

Cadets Remain Away From Ship

New London, Conn., July 6 .- Forty of the three score striking cadets from the Massachusetts training ship Enterprise returned to their homes in and around Boston last evening. Runyan's Reason For Cleaning Out New York Bank Vault

IS BETRAYED BY A WOMAN

Teller For Whom Police Had Been Searching Had Not Been Out of the City Since He Walked Off With $96,000 Packed In His Suit Case

New York, July 6 .- Chester B. Rup. yan, the defaulting teller of the Windsor Trust company, was arrested in New York and $54,410 of the money stolen from the bank was recovered. Runyan was found in the apartment of Mrs. Laura M. Carter of 619 West 144th street, where he had been since he walked out of the bank last Saturday with all the money in the teller's vault packed in his suitcase.

Mrs. Carter reported at a police sta tion yesterday afternoon that Runyan was in her flat. Five detectives at once accompanied Mrs. Carter to the house. She furnished them with a key to the apartment and two of the detectives entered the room, while the others remained outside.

As the detectives entered, Runyan be in order that the was standing in front of a chiffonier. He turned suddenly on the officers with a revolver in his hands. The detectives rushed at him, telling him to thrown his hands. He thereupon dropped the revolver and calmly submitted to be ing handcuffed, saying that "the jig is

When the detectives had finished ransacking the flat Runyan was taken to the police station. Mrs. Carter and her negro maid, Mary Duncan, were also placed under arrest. At the station Runyan admitted his identity. He said that he had been in the flat since Saturday, laughing at the efforts of the police to locate him. He had shaved off his moustache and was letting his beard grow as a disguise.

When questioned about the whereabouts of the balance of the money missing from the bank-the sum lost was said to be more than $96,000-he Cripple Creek, to sh stated that he had been speculating and had lost heavily and intimated that Mrs. Carter might know something about any money that was missing. Mrs. Carter indignantly denied that she had any of the money and angrily told ture of bombs. Bar Runyan that she had betrayed him to the police because he had lied to her but flatly denied that and had not given her money as he had tor discussed any cri promised. Runyan stated that he had given

Mrs. Carter $15,000, but this she denied. He said he gave her $5000 an Monday and $10,000 yesterday morning. Mrs. Carter said that he gave her $5000 on Monday, but that she with drew it from the bank yesterday morning and returned it to him veloped that Runyan gave Mrs. Carter a heavy gold bracelet and a diamond ring on Saturday evening. These were valued at $1000. The bracelet was on Mrs. Carter's wrist at the time of Runyan's arrest and is now in the possession of the police.

Mrs. Carter was closely questioned by the police as to her acquaintance with Runyan. She said that she first met him on the street and had met him several times after that. Finally, she said, he agreed to furnish a flat for her and give her $50 a week. The flat after his arrival in S was secured and she moved in two weeks ago. After that, she said, she saw little of Runyan until last Saturday.

Asked about the motive for the robbery, Runyan said: "I needed the money. It was there, and I took it expose everything h Some of it I lost in Wall street, and some of it I gave to this woman. The funny part of it has been to sit there in that flat and read the papers and think of what you fellows were doing and what you would do had you known that I was there.'

Runyan said that at one time he was prompted to return the money and give himself up, but his nerve failed himst the last minute. "I have not been out against the of the house or my bathrobe since Saturday evening," he said.

At the police station Runyan and D the woman quarreled bitterly, each accusing the other of misstatements comterning the disposition of the missing

Boise, Ida., July 6 .- A beginning of the end of the trial of William D. Haywood, on a charge of murdering Frank Steunenberg, has been reached. Coun sel for the defense announced that. with the exception of three or four witnesses, their case in direct is before the jury. Charles H. Moyer, accused resident of the Western Federation of Miners, will be called as a witness on Monday. Moyer will be followed by Haywood, the defendant.

Judge Wood has asked counsel on both sides to submit their requests for instruction to the jury. He has advised counsel that he will consider these requests and will agree with unsel as to what his instructions shall in order that the arguments on both ides may be limited to what the jury vill be allowed to consider as evidence In adjourning court yesterday afternoon until Monday, Judge Wood said he hoped that the interval would be itilized by counsel in preparations hat would prevent further delay and ring the case to a speedy close.

It is expected that the rebuttal evience in behalf of the state will begin n Wednesday, and possibly on Tuesday, much depending on the extent of e cross-examination of Moyer and Haywood. Counsel for the defense and the prosecution are willing to admit te possibility of a verdict or disagreeent in two weeks.

The five witnesses on the stand yes rday added support to those who have ceded them. They were called to stify concerning conditions existing Colorado during the disturbances at pple Creek, to show that there was reason to call out the militia.

Orchard was further discredited by wen Barnes, a miner, who lived near e Independence station, and who, Orhard said, assisted him in the manufac are of bombs. Barnes said he knew rchard, Adams, Easterly and others but flatly denied that he ever planned or discussed any criminal expedition with Orchard.

THE ROUNDUP COLUMN.

Willie West Tells About the Broad-Wicks Beauty Show.

Some one has figured it out that a baseball player must weigh between 150 and 190 pounds. A player who weighs less than 150 pounds cannot stand the pace for any length of time if he plays the game regularly, and one who weighs more than 190 pounds is invariably too slow to play the game. There are, of course, exceptions to the rule, and there are heavyweights who are as fast as if they were carrying fifty pounds less about than they are.

New York fight fans went to a beauty show a few nights ago. They put up

When the crowd had recovered from the sight of the two faces that Broad and Wicks displayed, the mixup began. The principal weapons used in the "fight" were words, words and more words.

"Yer holdin', you fat Englishman yer holdin' me arms!" yelled Broad, and it was up to Wicks to bewilder Broad again.

"Aye, ye Chawntilly pippin, 'ow d' Hi vou'se 'oldin' 'ard, hand not Hi," was the way Wicks put Broad on Queer street again.

Wicks' accent struck Broad on the point of the jaw, and he was counted out then and there.

Those of England Called the Most Obliging and Heipful.

There is no country where the matter of landing from American passenger ships is so easy and so expeditious ly done as England, says the Travel Magazine. Of course it is a free trade country, the freest in the whole world There are duties levied on tobacco and spirits, but travelers are allowed a half pound of tobacco in any shape and a half pint of spirits, which also in cludes perfume. Sugar is dutiable whether in grain, sweets or in jam, but a small quantity is freely passed. In all cases, however, these goods must be the actual property of the passenger and be for his use and control. Cocoa, coffee and tea are also dutiable, as are reprints of English books. Outside of these things, as named, passengers car bring in anything - motors, cycles, horses, but not dogs, which animals a not to exceed six months' quarantine awaits. In Washington, where the society is transient, one constantly meets people who appear under the disadvantage of being unknown. While attending a reception there held by the wife of a cabinet officer I saw a young lady sitting by herself who seemed to me to fall under this category. I could not but feel that if she remained in the swim for any considerable time instead of being a wallflower she would become a center of attraction. I was wondering whom I could get to introduce me to her when she surprised me

by bowing to me.

My first thought was that I had met her somewhere, my second that she had mistaken me for some other person. She looked an invitation for me Mr. and Mrs. Donna Caswell and son to join her, and I started to do so when I saw a young man in naval uniform also going toward her. I hesitated, but she kept her eyes on me and I interpreted her look to mean that I was her choice. The naval officer evidently saw the same thing, for he turned in another direction. So I joined the lady. Following conventional lines, I concealed the fact that I did not remember her, though I felt quite sure she had erred in my identity. I spoke of the notables present and, assuming that she was a stranger, pointed many of them out to her. I confess I did most of the talking, for the

My companion seemed to be unimpressed by them, but there was one person who That was the young naval officer who had started to join her when I had done so. Whenever he passed us could feel her hand tighten on my arm. He always looked at her intently, wistfully and I thought reproachfully. I would have given way to him, but my companion gave me no opportunity to do so. I gave her chances to me to a room where she could see the guests passing out. I was standing looking in another direction when I heard her give a sigh-it seemed to me a sigh of relief-and she asked me to take her to her mother. She led me toward an elderly lady, but before we reached her bid me a formal good did not think so. I have one rule with women-not to do what they expect. The girl who had used me would doubtless wait for me to seek an acquaintance, so I made no move in that direction. I met her often in society, and, as I had presumed, she became a central figure. Finally at a ball I was casually presented to her. I greeted her as a perfect stranger. She put her arm through mine and drew me away to a quiet identity.' "And when I failed to recognize you at meeting you afterward?"

"That you had discovered your mistake."

"Nonsense! You needn't make it as easy for me as all that! You knew I had used you for a purpose." "I am delighted to have been of service to you." "I must make a clean breast of it. You will not have a good opinion of me, but I can't help that. Anything will bring me more blame than the truth. You saw Lieutenant Baxter coming to join me. Well, we had had

GREAT TRIPLE STORM

Lightning, Hail, Wind and an Abnormal Rainfall

LASTED OVER THREE HOURS

Crops, Highways and Buildings In Portions of New Hampshire and Maine Suffer From the Tempest-Wires Put Out of Commission

hills and valleys and the neighboring county of York, Me., were swept by a series of remarkable thunderstorms yesterday of a severity unequalled for years. No lives, so far as is known, were lost, but there were many of the narrow escapes so peculiar to the freaks of lightning and innumerable buildings were struck, five of which were destroyed. In addition to the damage to building property the cost to the state and towns for repairs to roads which were badly washed will be very heavy, while the hail and abnormal rainfall; with the high winds, did considerable damage to crops and trees. The storms were unusual in their nature. Following a heavy and steady downpour of rain Saturday night, the electrical disturbances commenced the earlier part of the forenoon. For nearly three hours and a half the lightning was nearly continuous and the downpour of rain was of almost tropical violence. Before the valleys were scarcely cleared of the first storm another of equal fury followed and this in turn was succeeded by another. Railroad trains were delayed by bad washouts, but no wrecks are reported. In Concord, N. ### THE STUDLEY MYSTERY

Negro's Story of "Demented Man" Has Failed of Confirmation

Concord, N. H., July S .- George Taylor, a negro bootblack of Lawrence, Mass., who was detained as a witness in connection with the investigation of the death of Mrs. Annie Studley of Boston, whose body was found last Tuesday in Canobie lake, was brought here by Deputy Sheriff Wheeler to confront and, if possible, identify a man arrested near Peterboro. After seeing the man, however, Taylor said he was not the man he saw.

Taylor had informed the officers and many other persons that on Monday. the day Mrs. Studley is supposed to have met her death, he saw an apparently demented man leaving the woods near the lake, and that a short time before that he had heard a woman Boston, July 8 .- New Hampshire screaming. As a result of this statement a search was made in nearby towns and Deputy Sheriff Hall arrested this man as answering the description. Taylor, of all the people near the lake, appears to have alone seen the demented man.

Rockefeller Unable to Tell Much About Standard Oil

CALLS THE TRUST A BLESSING

Says Its Prosperity Is Due to Better Service to Public Than Others Have Given--In No Case Has It Wilfully Violated the Law

Chicago, July 8 .- John D. Rockefeller, president of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, occupied the witness stand in the United States district court while Judge Landis plied him with questions regarding the financial strength and the business methods of the corporation of which he is the

Mr. Rockefeller was a very willing and equally unsatisfactory witness. He was ready to tell all that he knew, but he said that he knew practically nothing. The net result of his examination was that he believed during the years 1903, 1904 and 1905, the period covered by the indictments on which the Standard Oll company of Indiana was recently convicted, the net profits of the Standard Oll company of New of an outstanding capitalization of $100,000,000.

The investigation held by Judge Landis was instituted by him for the Polished Oak Side Board, expressed purpose of determining whether or not the Standard Oil company of Indiana, which was convicted of violation of the law, was really owned by the Standard Oil company of Faxon Block, Granite Street, New Jersey; whether the Union Tank i:ne, whose cars were used for the shipments made in violation of law, was similarly owned, and also to obtain an idea of the financial resources of the convicted corporation in order to inflict a fine proportioned to the offense and the assets of the convicted company.

It was stated by officers of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey that it owned the greater part of the stock of both the Union Tank line and the Standard Oil company of Indiana. Specific figures as to the earnings of the parent corporation were given by Charles M. Pratt, its secretary, and they were close to the estimate given

When John D. Rockefeller was called he walked rapidly toward the At HALF PRICE witness stand. At the conclusion of the oath and in response to the usual question as to whether he would tell the truth the whole truth and nothing but the truth, he bowed his head in affirmation, and said: "I do."

The witness was questioned entirely by Judge Landis. He spoke with much deliberation, pondering his answers carefully before he gave them. Many of them were uttered in so low a tone

FIGO ONE MONTH

Street, Boston, Massachusetts, the Boston Baptist Bethel, 332 Hanover Street, Boston, Massachusetts, all being corthat they were inaudible 10 feet from his chair. Before making any reply to the questions of the court, the witness almost invariably fixed his eyes upon his attorneys as if waiting to see DALLY LEDGER OFFICE whether or not they desired to interpose objections. Once satisfied on this point, he answered promptly.

Mr. Rockefeller said that he was president of the Standard Oil company of New-Jersey, but the position is purely honorary, and has been for the last eight or ten years, as he had not been rendering any service whatever. After the conclusion of the hearing the following statement was given to The Associated Press by John D. Rockefeller, as president, and John D. Archbold, as vice president of the Standard Oil company: "Since the enactment of the interstate commerce law in 1887 the Standard Oil company has most carefully observed its provisions and in ro case has wilfully violated the law. It welcomed the passage of the law and the principle of equity which was embodied in it. The old system of special rates and rebates was obnoxious and was never a source of profit to the company. The net rate paid for freight was al ways used for a basis for the selling price in the markets and the consumer uniformly had the benefit of it.

"Moreover, every shipper could se cure such special rates and it was no uncommon experience for the Standard Oil company to discover that its competitors had lower rates than it was shipping under.

"The assertion so often made by care less and sensational writers and critics that rebates were the basis of Standard Oil prosperity is absolutely untrue. Its prosperity has come through its correct apprehension of the possible magnitude and importance of the petroleum bustness, through its having provided better and more economical methods for doing the business than have its competitors and through a better service to the public in price and quality than others have given.

"It has made the petroleum industry great; has held it for this country as against foreign competitors, and, we assert, has been a blessing and not a bane to the country. Its downfall through any cause would be a national disaster."

European Diplomats Think That United States Is Acquring It

ENGLAND IS EMBARRASSED

Has an Anti-Japanese Question of In Various Countries of Europe

London, July 8 .- The present tension between the United States and Japan them, however, believe that it will reach the stage of warfare, necause the heavy burden of debt Japan is carrying as a result of her failure to obtain indemnity from Russia forbids her embarking on a similar costly enterprise in the next decade. It is recognized, nevertheless, that the United States is acquiring the enmity of Japan, which may prove a handicap in the event of trouble with any other power.

Great Britain finds herself in an embarrassing position also, because she is obliged to stand between her colonies and her ally in the matter of anti-Japanese laws. The Transvaal has just put into operation a law regulating the entry of Asiatics, which applies to Indian subjects as well as to the Japanese and the Chinese, and which compels them to submit to an examination and registry with thumb prints like criminals, wheh is exceedingly irritating to them. Australia threatens further legislation on the same lines. Alfred Deakin, the Australian premier, declares that the chief national question with which Australia must deal is the menace of the inflow of Japanese labor.

Peace Delegates' Sentiment The Hague, July 8 .- The sentiment of the delegates to the peace conference regarding the question that has arisen between the United States and Japan is that the situation is unfortunate for both countries, as the original incident causing tension between the two countries is disproportionate to the grave results which may follow. The question, the delegates think, is likely to create a reciprocal commerce, to which the former friendly relations had opened vast

Although the sending of a fleet by the United States to the Pacific coast cannot be interpretated as a threat, it is generally admitted here that such action may give rise to a dangerous popular excitement which the administration at Washington might not be able to con-

The Spanish representatives say that the United States has now found a hard nut to crack. The Russians remark that the predictions of Witte that the next war will be between Japan and the United States is approaching realization. The English, French and Japanese delegates believe that the governments at Washington and Tokio sincerely wish to reach an understanding and will not be influenced by jingoism.

Some of the Germans here are of the opinion that the situation may lead to an American-German entente.

Germans Think We Would Lose Berlin, July 8.-The conviction of an the United States appears to be wideagree that the difficulty lies in the question of race, the enonomic antagonism | not be repaired. of the Californians against the Japanese, and the constitutional impossibility of federal coercion.

It is believed by many that the group of ruling statesmen in Japan are preparing to fight the United States for the mastery of the Pacific, regardless of the San Francisco incidents.

The strategists of the admiralty regard a naval war between Japan and the United States as the most interesting problem of the day. Careful studies that have been worked out are unfavorable to the United States, because the American fleet, although of greater power than that of Japan, would have to seek a fight in Japan's home waters.

The Feeling In Russia

St. Petersburg, July 8 .- Developments in the Japanese-American situation up to the present have received surprisingly little attention in Russia. Public opinion generally refuses to believe that the misunderstanding will lead to war. Still there is no doubt that such an outbreak of hostilities and a series of Japanese defeats would be popular in Russia. The weightiest opinion, however, is to the effect that a Japanese-American war would be inopportune, as the Russian financial condition with respect to the army and navy is so disorganized that Russia for a long time will be unable to take advantage of an opening.

"For Japan, Now or Never" Paris, July 8 .- President Roosevelt's decision to dispatch a fleet of warships to the Pacific has led the more sensational newspapers in France to jump at the conclusion that the situation is more delicate than appears on killed by a posse. the surface. It is said the sudden change of program in the case of the Japanese training squadron last January, when it was first intended that its voyage is exciting the keenest interest among should include San Francisco and all the European diplomats. None of other Pacific coast cities, was evidently in deference to the wishes of the Washington government, made known to the Tokio authorities in an indirect but unmistakeable manner. The change of route was decided on only a couple of days before the squadron sailed. It was thought then that Japan acted wisely in avoiding a course which might have proved injurious when a strong anti-Japanese sentiment was prevailing in San Francisco.

Though officially stated that the dispatch of the battleships to the Pacific is not directed towards Japan, it is felhere that it is most inopportune when an attempt is evidently going on to impair the traditional friendship between Japan and the United States. Although no apprehension is entertained here, i is thought it would be better to defer at this moment anything that would be open to the slightest suspicion of provocation, especially when a portion of the American public is thought to be over-sensitive over the present state of the relationship of Japan and the United States, brought about by prejudice against the Japanese in a section of the latter's dominion

Three Boys Break Into P. O. Store

People living in the vicinity of South street and Washington street were convestigation led to the discovery of a broken window in the rear of the Post Office store, which is also occupied as a grocery store by H. H. I. Smith. Mr. Shirley, sexton of the Congregational church directly opposite, who is a special policeman, was quickly notified and he discovered three boys, whose ages ranged between 12 and 14 years, in the store. The boys were ordered out and gave their names.

The police were notified and the trio of youthful burglars were taken to the police station. An ugly looking hatchet was found and Mr. Smith informed the Ledger that it did not belong on the premises, and as that was the means used to smash the glass, it is probable that the boys brought it along with

Wide Enough For Two Track

Editors of Daily Ledger:

The City Council of Quincy are to isten this evening to several important suggestions. One of these, with others, has ben published daily papers, but has doubtless escaped the notice of the majority of Quincy peothe Ranpolphs at Randolph on Saturday ple, altho' it is a matter of vital inby a score of 4 to 3. It was the same terest to us all. Somewhat obscure team that shut out St. Mary's of West in its formal wording as a legal no-Quincy 8 to 0 on July 4th. Michaels tice, when simplified into every-day The Old Colony Street Railway Co.

has been planning for sometime to widen and double track Hancock street between certain points. Those in charge of the details of the mat ter have decided that with the help of the Quincy people already interested, they will take possession of the twelve fine trees in front of and upon the Colonel Packard estate, ex tending from Cottage avenue to Sanborn & Damon's hardware store These trees large healthy and handsome elms and chestnuts are all to be cut down to the ground and iron rail and pavements put in their place.

While the Old Colony Railroad Co. has been thus occupied with what is doubtless its legetimate business (enlargement and extension wherever and whenever posible,) we Quincy people, owners of the desired field of action, have been busy with our own personal and individual affairs, and now suddenly realize the enemy is upon us and the outposts already captured. The city itself, however, remains still ours and the noble trees are still standing. Colonel Packard planted most of them. He died a few years ago much respected and beloved. Strangers to him, and to his family and to the residents of Quincy, ask, (as a mere mater of form, apparentas a mere matter of form, apparently and with a rather annoying show Confidence.) to cut down these trees of many years growth, (some fifty years, one a hundred and fifty) and ruin the Packard homestead, perhaps mortally grieve Colonel Pachkard's widow, and permanently destroy and Someone has truly said "O, Business how many crimes are committed in thy name!" Would it not partake of murder in the first degree to lay low these fine elms and chestnuts? But in the business world sentiment has no place, let the facts speak. If the city of Quincy consents to this widening of Hancock street at this point it means an expense of nearly DAVENPORT, 13 Woodward ave etc. If the purpose is to straighten as well as widen, it will be an utter failure,- the only way to straighten Hancock street at this point is to begin back at Bethany church line TO LET—Half House of six rooms and bath. In front of Music Hall block, the busiest place in this section, there are now two tracks, and feet) than in front of Colonel Packrowest.

This proves that double tracks can be laid here without molesting the Quincy High lost in the consolation trees, that utility and beauty can go here, as they ought to go everywhere, hand in hand. Our beautiful trees along Hancock street seem to be periodically the target of the enemy. It is not very long ago a corporation was aiming at those in front of the Brackett estate. But some "good men and true" came forward and saved them. Quincy is an old New England town and not a new western city. When it becomes a part of greater Boston, it will be soon enough to give it over into the hands of the spoiler. Meantime save the T. W. R.

J. A. Sedgwick of the Fore River Company favored. His company had been trying to get this line built for a long time. Because there was no direct line to the works Quincy lost many permanent residents. His company now employed 3,500 men. Fully 70 per cent of them lived in Quincy and 900 now used the cars every day. It was a hardship for the men to walk half a mile to the cars as now. He hoped the Council would About 25,000 feet of land corner of not impose too many restrictions. H. It seems that they have time it was performed and henceforth Germantown were present. a jingo press in Japan as we have in state that this press is going over all diplomatic rupture. of the old discussion as to race hatred, unfair treatment of Japanese in this country, and that sort of thing. They are finding fresh causes of offense where the eye can detect the menace of that this country never dreamed of the obscure horizon." giving, and the whole outlook in Japan is for a wave of anti-American feeling that is likely to again break up diplomatic relations that were just settling in fair shape.

Dispatches from the north Pacific coast indicate that the Japanese masses will soon have another cause of complaint with more substance to it than anything they have had lately. An American revenue cutter in the Pribyloff Islands has just captured another batch of 24 seal poachers, and they are being sent to Sitka for trial. Of course, if they had not been poaching, they would not have been captured. But the Japanese public is not likely to take that into consideration, and the outlook for a satisfactory settlement of the differences between this country and Japan is rather further off than ever.

Judge Dunne inquired of Langdon whether it was his present intention to Korea. proceed with the trial of the other four extortion cases against Schmitz. The district attorney replied that there were so many other cases on the calendar that he was unable to say at this time whether the four extortion cases would be pressed or not. "But," he concluded, "the prosecution has no objection to the passing of sentence at this time.' Judge Dunne thereupon told Schmitz

The large, black-bearded prisoner arose at the counsel table. His face was the color of ivory. His lips were pressed tightly together. He bent his eyes in a piercing glance on the judge and never once during the dramatic moments that followed did he drop them. His shoulders were thrown well back and he held his head high. "Eugene E. ## DEPOSITIONS

Have Important Bearing on Steunenberg Murder Case

SAN FRANCISCO EXPLOSION

Bradley Recedes From Positive Statement That It Was Caused by Gas, and Thinks Bomb May Have Been Used--Claims of Each Side to the jury that is trying William D. daughters. Haywood for his life on the charge that he murdered Frank Steunenberg. The rest of the depositions will be presented today. The reading began directly after tourt opened, with Messrs. Darrow and Borah alternating for their respective sides, and, although they pressed ahead as fast as they could, a folio calculation made at adjournment last night showed that much of today will be consumed by the affidavits. The lepositions have an important bearing on the case.

The depositions probably will furnish much material for contention when the trial reaches the argument stage. One objection from the state constituted the sole interruption for the day. During all the rest of the time counsel for both sides seemed united in getting all the matter in the sworn statements before the jury.

The state counted it a victory that Bradley had receded from his first and positive statement that it was a gas exosion and was prepared to believe hat a bomb might have been used. Bradley's first statement was made before he knew of Harry Orchard's confession or any of the evidence placing Orchard in the vicinity of the house.

The prosecution was also pleased to have it shown that Wyte Bradley was still inside the door when the explosion occurred and that particles of glass from the door, fibres from the rug outside the door and pieces of stone and cement from the mosaic floor of the restibule were blown into his face and Cincinnati, Ohio. ody. It will be contended that this shows conclusively that the explosion was from the outside and it could not have been gas from the inside of the

The defense, on the other hand, is satisfied that the depositions show that would have been impossible for Orchard to reach the vestibule and place the bomb in the manner and time described by him; that the evidence shows that a gas leak was the cause of an explosion, and that Orchard's testimony as to his movements in the rear of the building when he says he poisoned the DAVENPORT, 13 Woodward avenue, Quincy to be unlikely.

The delay caused by the length of the Bradley depositions may possibly defer the appearance of Haywood as a witness until Thursday.

Metropolitan Assessments Almost Alarming

The warning of Mayor Thompson omes too late to be of any benefit to the taxpayers of the city this year. Nothing can now be done to keep down the tax rate of 1907. Not only this year, but several years to come are very heavily mortgaged, and the day of reckoning is at hand. It is not in the items of current expenses that make up the annual appropriation order, that a saving can be effected, as it has been necessary to go to the limit every year. In that rder it is only a question how the um shall be apportioned and what receipts are available. The items which most effect the tax ate are those for maturing debt and nterest, and also the State tax and assessments. The rapid increase of he city debt should be a matter of nore concern to the taxpavers. With debt of nearly $2,000,000 (in excess if temporary loans are included) requiring over $80,000 annually for interest it is not surprising that the tax rate is large, and increasing.

Then there should be a check on he Metropolitan assessments, and a change in the method of assessment. It is a mistaken idea that these large indertakings will cost the city but little. Quincy already realizes that the water and sewer assessments are large, and with the completion of the Metropolitan parkway the park ssessment will jump.

WATER AND SEWERS.

The Metropolitan assessments for water and sewers since 1900 are given Highways, below. It will be seen that the city Parks, s contributing over twice as much for sewer as four years ago, and over four times as much for water as

YEAR.	WATER.	SEWER.
1901,	22,004.38	12,453.97
1902,	24,379.11	10,809.10
1903,	30,237.42	14,307.10
1904,	34,084.24	24,698.31
1905,	35,832.50	28,960.81
1906,	46,314.16	23,813.99
1907,	50,027.14	29,239.00

The Metropolitan assessment for parks began in 1902 when $23,036.93 was levied for the years 1900, 1901 and 1902. Since then the park assessments have been $8,247.69 in 1903, $9,088.94 in 1904; $9,448.50 in 1905; $12,147.74 in 1906; and $12,-910.28 this year.

For State highways and the Mystic river bridge the assessments have not become large as yet, as this summary will show:

CHARGE AGAINST M'PARLAND

Attempt to Show That He Manufactured Evidence Against Accused Man Is Unsuccessful, the State's Objection Being Sustained

Bolse, Ida., July 10 .- The defense in the Steunenberg murder case yesterday charged that Detective McParland has been guilty of an attempt to manufacture testimony against William D. Haywood, but was unsuccessful in getting the basis and details of the charge before the court and jury.

Alva A. Swain, Denver correspondent of the Pueplo Chieftain, was called to the stand and questioned as to a conversation he had with McParland in Denver last fall. Mr. Borah, for the state, objected to the conversation, on the ground that no foundation had been laid for it.

Mr. Darrow, for the defense, who was examining Swain, explained that the Boston-Bangor steamer lines. Large Amount of Ballast and Heavy Keel on Sloop Unable to Withstand Sudden Squall--Victims All Members of Prominent Families

Bangor, Me., July 10 .- Six young men of a party of seven were drowned in Penobscot bay late yesterday by the capsizing of the sloop Ruth E. Cumnock. The victims were Harry Dugan, aged 18; Amos Robinson, 17; Raymond Smith, 19; Roy Palmer, 19; Frederick Ringwall, 19, and William Vague, 21. Of the party all but Vague, who lived a South Brooksville, belonged in Bangor, and recently went to the Hersey Retreat at Sandy point to spend the summer. They were invited by William D. Vague of South Brooksville, an acquaintance of several of the party, to take a sail in his boat to Islesboro. They intended to return in the

The sloop had reached a point off Castine when she was struck by a fierce and sudden squall and was capsized before anyone could shorten sail or bring the sloop up in the wind. The water poured into the boat as soon as the gunwale went under, and her large amount of ballast and lead keel sent her to the bottom of the bay within a few seconds.

Laurent D. Hall, who is a strong swimmer, succeeded in clearing himself from the foundering craft and made a gallant attempt to swim to the nearest point of land, miles distant, He battled against the tide and the ough water kicked up by the squall and was several times on the point of giving up the struggle. The accident was observed by the pilot of the tug Bismark, which happened to be in the bay, and the tug was able to reach Hall before he succumbed. He was given stimulants on board and later was landed on Sandy point.

Mulligan Held For Grand Jury

Arthur B. Mulligan, who it is alleged broke into the house of Mrs. Jones at Wollaston on June 13, and carried away a miscellaneous assortment of articles, and whom the police had a hard time apprehending, was arraigned in the district court this morning for breaking and entering. The court found probable cause to believe him guilty and held him in $1,000 for the grand jury. He was unable to secure bonds and will therefore be the guest of the county at Dedham jail in the meantime.

The Governor To Appoint Inspectors To Go Over State

At the meeting of the state board of health Tuesday they approved a districting of the state in 15 districts for health inspection under the law passed at the last session. Suffolk county is a district by itself. The four western counties make three districts, but these are the only instances in which county lines are drawn. In the eastern part of the state generally they are utterly disregarded and the principle of districting was convenience of travel and the accumulation of capital. Districts vary in population from 38,000 in the Cape and island district to 652,360 in Suffolk. Quincy is put in District No. 4, which is named the Norfolk and North Bristol and has a population of 176,000. Milton, Holbrook, Avon, Braintree, Dedham and the most of Norfolk county are in the same district, but it includes also Taunton and the towes lying north and west in Bristol county, and illackstone in Worcester comiy. Way nouth, Hingham and Hull are put in District No. 3, which has a population of 131,500 and is mostly composed of Plymouth county, With Brockton as its main ceace of : on

According to the law establishing the districts each inspector must be a "practical and discreet person, learned in the science of medicine and First and final of Horace F. Spear hygiene. The term is five years; the appointment is by the governor, with the advice and consent of the council Second of Horace F. Spear and and the incumbents are liable to reand council. The duties of the office are thus set forth: "Every state inspector of health shall inform himself respecting the sanitary condition Lincoln F. Crowell late of Quincy; of his district, concerning all influences dangerous to the public health or threatening to affect the same; he concerning the prevalence of tuberculosis and other diseases dangerous to the public health within his disas to the best methods of preventing the spread of such diseases and shall take such steps as, after conties, shall be deemed advisable for their eradication: he shall inform himself concerning the health of all Wesley W. Daughter of Mayor of City of Everett The Sponsor

The steamer "Everett," the first of the three colliers being built by the Fore River Shipbuilding Co. for the New England Gas and Coke company of Boston, for the coal carrying trade, was successfully launched this morning in the presence of a large and enthusiastic gathering of officials of the Gas and Coke company and their friends as well as a large gathering of workmen. Miss Mariam Boynton daughter of Mayor Boynton of Everett was the sponser for the vessel which bears the name of that city. Her Maids of Honor were Miss Gertrude Woolner of Everett, Miss Helen F Noon of Everett, Miss Jessie E. Henderson of Everett, Miss Flora G. Everest of Everett, and Mrs. Allan O. Hancock of Everett.

The guests for the launch came from Boston on a special train which left the South Terminal at 9.50 o'clock. and which was run to East Braintree from which point it was taken to the works over the private track of the Fore River Co. landing the party within a few feet of the launching stand that had been erected about the bow of the vessel

The guests were received by President Bowles of the company, who presented Miss Boynton with a massive bouquet of American Beauty roses and escorted her to the launching stand, which was gaily decorated with the national colors. A long streamer of flags was also extended across the vessel from stem to stern. streamer of red, white and blue ribbon Also that the company om the end of which was a bottl of American wine with which the "Everett" received her name.

Miss Boynton was charming in a white gown and lingerie hat with two large feathers. The shirtwaist was richly embroidered and the sleeves were short.

The maids of honor were also in white and carried bunches of pink sweet peas tied with pink ribbon. Almost as soon as the party had reached the launching stand, work getting the mass of steel ready to glide down the ways for her first dip was commenced. A shrill whistle was the signal which caused the hundreds of workmen beneath the vessel to begin to drive home the wedges that lifted her from her keel onto the ways. Then came the knocking away of the shores and keel blocks. All was now in readiness except the sawing through of the soul pieces, the only thing that held the vessel in check.

President Bowles gave the signal and the sole pieces were quickly sawed, through and the next instant there were cries of "there she goes. As she begun to move. Miss Boynton struck the steel bow of the vessel with the bottle of wine which was enclosed in a wire netting and as the sparkling wine ran down her sides said in a clear voice, "I christen Thee, Everett."

As the vessel began to move down she slid into the water as gracefully as a swan. As soon as the vessel was on the move there was cheer upon cheer by the party on the launching stand, which was taken up by the crowds that lined the shores of Fore river and by the sailing craft in the river whose whistles shrieked out their welcome. The whistles in the yards also joined in, and for a few minutes the noise was almost deafening.

It was 11.45 A. M. when the Everett took her dip.

As soon as the vessel was in the water she was taken in tow and taken around to the fitting out dock. As soon as the launch was over the guests were escorted to the mold loft, where a lunch was served. After the lunch there were addresses by President Bowles of the Fore River, President Richards of IN BETTER CONDITION."

the Consolidated Gas Co., Mayor Boynton of Everett, Congressman Weeks of Newton, Alderman Berwin of Boston and ex-Congressman Samuel J. Powers of Hyde Park. The special train was then taken back to Boston and the ceremonies attending the launching of another addition to the ever growing Fore River fleet of vessels had been completed. There were about 250 invited guests including officials and stockholders of the New England Gas and Coke Company, Masachusetts Congressmen, city officials of Quincy, and the following from the City of Everett:

Mayor Thomas J. Boynton Alderman George W. Bounton Representative James Chambers City Clerk J. H. Cannell City Auditor C. R. Ford Hon. Charles L. Dean Councilman J. ### The New Haven More Progressive

erties, the Boston & Maine and the Boston Transcript. Certain facts are fundamental. Of the two roads the money; it is also spending more. Does this mean that it is by comparison overcapitalized? One of the most serious arguments against the proposed merger is that the financial interests behind the New Haven seeks to acquire the Boston & Maine, a road of relatively moderate capitalization, as they say, applying to it well-known New York financia; methods, with a resulting burden of public would in the long run have to serious to merit investigation, but it happens to be one which happily permits of investigation. Over-capitalization must be defined. What here the two railroads to show for the sums which they owe in the shaoe of outstanding stocks and bonds? One railroad which owes less per mile than another may really be the more highly capitalized of the two by what it owes.

In discussing the two systems it is apparent that the New Haven serves ly growing sections of our entire country, while the Maine derives its support from States which are growing but slowly. Maine and Vermont are nearly stagnant States, or at least would be but for the activity of a few manufacturing towns. Even with some growth in factory centres, Vermont after the census of 1890. and Maine after the census of 1900 served as the standards of slow-growing States by which the congressional reapportionments were made.

The factory cities of Massachusetts Rhode Island and Connecticut, on the other hand, have been growing in the last fifteen years with sensational rapidity. Little Rhode Island alone added more to its population between the last two Federal censuses than id the three States of Maine. Ne Hampshire and Vermont. Connecticut's growth was more than twice of us. The New Haven system, there-To what extent it has been itself responsible for the tide in another question; it has doubtless had a part in the development of this manufacturing growth.

Another interesting contrast between the two systems which accounts in considerable part for their dissmilarity in condition today, has been the ease with which one could borrow money and the difficulties. The relative value of the two propthrough the restrictions imposed by Massachusetts corporation laws, that New Haven, has much to do with the have operated in this respect against merits of the merger project, says the the other. The Boston & Maine's experience in trying to place new issues of stock at rates fixed by the Railroad Commission, sometimes so high that the stockholders have refused to take it, are familiar history. The result has been that one system has had plenty of money, while the other has needed to feel its way cautiously. It is therefore apparent that there are good reasons for the disparity in the condition of the two properties, wholly unrelated to the personnel of the two managements. Had Mr. Board of Trade was held Wednesday Tuttle been at the head of the New indebtedness which the New England Haven system and Mr. Mellen of the Boston & Maine, conditions would probably not have been greatly different from what they are today. The excuse she gave was that she wanted to take the child to a store and buy her some candy.

It was voted to add Representative Hultman to the committee, and that they be instructed to bring the matter before the Railroad Commissioners.

John Q. A. Field asked what was being done about the derrick at South Quincy. The New Haven railroad was only bluffing the granite business. It should be looked after by some one. A great mistake had been made by deciding on a travelling derrick. They would be worse off with that than now. This brought up the matter of Mr. Field's resignation from the committee, which had not been accepted.

After some discussion the resignation was accepted and the president empowered to fill the vacancy. Action on getting the Institute of

THE KING MAKES SPEECHES

Expresses Thanks For Welcome to Himself and Queen--Prosperity of the Emerald Isle an Object Very Near to Both Their Hearts

Dublin, July 11 .- The first day of the visit to Ireland of King Edward and Queen Alexandra was a great success. The weather was fine and the city gave the sovereigns an enthusiastic and royal reception. Both wore the national color of Ireland, the king a green necktie and the queen a moss green and mauve toque.

The king delivered brief speeches at the various functions of the day, in which he expressed his grateful thanks for the warm reception accorded himself and the queen and congratulated the country upon the progress and prosperity indicated in the exhibition. He said his stay must be briefer than he could have wished, but he intended to make the most of it, the prosperity of country and the happiness and contentment of the people being objects very near to the hearts of both himself and the queen.

The king and queen arrived here from Kingstown yesterday afternoon. passed in procession through the streets of Dublin to the vice regal lodge, and everywhere dense crowds of people accorded them a hearty reception.

The Earl of Aberdeen, lord Lieutenant of Ireland, and his countess gave a garden party at the lodge in honor of the king and queen. Invitations had been sent out broadcast and consequently thousands had an opportunity to see the king and queen. After this function the royal pair re turned to Kingstown in a motor car,

All That Admiral Yamamoto Sees In Pacific Squadron

WAR TALK IS UNNECESSARY

Sensational Press of Two Countries Calls on Bob Evans and Between Them They. "Declare Peace"

New York, July 11.-Admiral Baron Yamamoto, one of Japan's most distinguished naval officers, is the guest of New York. The admiral and his suite arrived in New York from Engen naval officers.

The admiral's first day in New York commandant of the New York navy Tuesday morning. yard, and a number of other military and naval men, took a long automobile ride and dined quietly at the Claremont with the members of his party.

In his interviews the admiral depreappeared in both Japan and America. He said that no small incident could break the friendship which has existed for so many years between Japan and the United States. He thought the sensational press of the two countries largely to blame for the war talk. As to the proposed transfer of the great Atlantic battleship squadron to the Pacific, that was a matter solely for the American government to decide and one that did not interest him in the least, except in that it was a novel naval ex-

Admiral Yamamoto took occasion to leny that on his return to Japan he would become the leader of the Progresive party. He said that he had served n one cabinet—he was minister of maine during the war with Russia-and hat he had no desire to have anything vhatever to do with politics.

Rear Admiral Evans, who is an old riend of Yamamoto, called on him during the afternoon and the two sailors had a long chat together. After the visit Evans said they had settled the whole matter of war between America and Japan and had declared peace. Yamamoto, he said, agreed with him that war talk was all nonsense.

"It is absolutely silly to talk about war between the two countries," said at that institution, were arraigned be Evans. "There isn't any more reason fore Judge Fessenden upon indictwhy we should fight Japan than there ments brought against them by the is any reason why we should fight Italy grand jury: Each of them was arbecause of Italian outrages in this raigned upon charges of cruelty to country, or that the Chinese should prisoners that were in their care. Perdeclare war on us because some kins was held in $2000 bonds, and Folnoodlum hurls a brick through a laundry window."

Admiral Yamamoto will return Evans and Adams' calls at the Brooklyn navy yard today. Later he will ouse, where he is staying, by the Japanese society, and in the evening anaugh, 74 years old, was run down and he will be tendered a dinner at the Un- instantly killed by an automobile which ion League club. nap to Save Trouble For Her Lover Worcester, Mass., July 11 .- Al new mystery was added to the Lake Quinigamond tragedy, in which Charles A. Burnap was shot through the heart, it is alleged, by Mary Brennan, when it was learned that another woman probably figured in the case. George W. Dewsbury's story leads to the belief that a woman was thrown into the lake near the spot where Burnap was shot. Following the arraignment of Miss Brennan on a charge of manslaughter the detectives turned their attention Largely to Blame For It-Japanese to the new phase of the mystery. The girl prisoner was held in $1000 bail, and was unable to furnish it. She pleaded not guilty. Miss Brennan is 21 years of age.

Miss Brennan yesterday afternoon retracted her story that she shot Burnap accidentally and told the state officers that she told that story to shield her lover, Frank Kelly, a young special officer of the town of Shrewsbury land on the steamer Carmania and will who would get into trouble if it was remain here until July 15. ### The Words That Dr. Everett Would Use At A Launching

At the conclusion of the lunch folowing the launch of the "Everett" President Bowles rapped for order, He was obliged to rap several times as the noise in the yard made it almost impossible to hear him. When he had the attention of those present noise of the power hammers in the of the Fore River company to the for their presence. He had hoped that Dr. Everett would be present out he was unable to do so.

In talking with Dr. Everett the tter had said that the word christenng had no right to be used at launchings. It should be "To Thy Element" instead of "I Christen Thee. and Coke Co., as an organization that practised the best principle, gave the best and the cheapest serthe enterprise of transportation. He then introduced President Richards of the Consolidated Gas Co. as the man at the head of this important public service.

President Richard said that hi company used large quantities of coal, over 600,000 tons at the Everet plant alone. The question of supply was an important one, and he believed that the transportation could be im proved upon. The transportation by n the coal carrying trade varied in ype of construction. The result was that at terminals there were demurrages and other things that increased the cost, and that modern machinery number of vessels of the up-to-date kind, the terminals could be used to better advantage. His company therefore decided upon large steam colliers, and the "Everett" was the first of three. Besides supplying their own wants they could help supply New England.

We of Massachusetts are to be congratulated upon having a plant that could give us a price for building these vessels that we could accept. It is desirable to do what we can to foster our industries as well as to encourage new industries. Up to the present time the Fore River has done all that it agreed to, and on time, and he had been informed that the vessel would be delivered four weeks ahead of the time agreed upon He then spoke of how little the United States had done to encourage shipping industry. As an American he could not say that he was proud of it. He had recently taken an extensive water trip and he seldom saw the American flag in the ports that he had entered. If the ship industry expects to compete with foreign countries the United States must do for this company what other governments do for theirs. He hoped that the United States would take it up so that we could compete with any Mayor Boynton of Everett said that it was seldom that a landsman was called upon to participate in a mari time event. What ever your choice may be of mountains or sea there was no mountain that ever kicked up its heels as does the sea at unexpected times. He said that the launch was an event of great importance to the financial interests and to the state It has to do with one of the most important articles of commerce. It was important to his city, a pride to his city and the whole state. While millions were invested in railroads, but a small amount was invested in water ways. We of Everett have a direct personal interest in their support There was no place in New England more favorable for manufacturing purposes than Everett. He then spoke of the improvements needed to Boston harbor and the Mystic river. QUINCY. He hoped that the young men of Everett would not forget this.

President Bowles then spoke on his pet subject, the merchant marine, and said that he would be glad to build colliers named for every town in the state, including Newton and He then introduced

Congressman Weeks said that he had more than an ordinary interest in President Bowles and President Richards President Bowles was in ever made Rear Admiral. Our inland transportation is protected to a degree that makes it a monopoly. He hoped the time would come when there would be many plants like the Fore River. He predicted that before long that money for land transportation would be diverted to building ship industries. He then touched upor the coast defence, and said that the sending of a fleet to the Pacific was auxiliary cruisers for carrying coal and supplies. We have not got these auxiliary cruisers.

We have ceased to develop the eep sea sailor, and it is necessary o go into the farms to get recruits we had a large fleet we could get men from them for the auxiliary cruisers. There was great need of a auxiliary and naval reserve. He beieved that this would soon be recognized and something done. We are doing much for our water ways. A arge appropriation was made by the last Congress for Boston harbor and the Mystic river.

Alderman Berwin of Boston, repreented Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston and spoke of his interest in a bigger etter and busier Boston.

Captures Frank Walsh While Breaking Into a Store

A man who gave his name as Frank Walsh, who is believed to be one of the gang of Yegg men who have been giving the police of Boson and other places considerable trouble, was captured red handed by Officer James Shields at Milton short-

Thinking that the fellow was probably armed the officer kept him covered with his gun and ordered formation about himself and his on-"I hav'nt got any home."

An investigation of the store was made but nothing was found to be missing. On the inside on the floor the window had probably been smashed. A small door leading to the basement in the rear of the building had also been opened and it is thought that the fellow had first tried to gain entrance by standing on this and opening a window.

He was arraigned in court at Quincy this morning for breaking and entering and was held in $2,000 for the grand jury.

CASE OF ALLEGED BLACKMAIL

ing Salvation Army

Two Lowell Men Had Derogative Verses Which They Threatened to Publish Unless Money Was Handed to Them -- In Federal Officers' Net

Boston, July 12 .- What the government officials claim was an elaborate plan to extort $30,000 from the Salvation Army was made public when Solomon Robitscheck of Lowell, an elderly dealer in second hand clothing, and Bennett Silverblatt, a young Lowell attorney, were brought before United States Commissioner Hayes and held in bonds of $1000 each on the charge of using the mails in an attempt to defraud.

According to the officials connected with the office of the United States district attorney, Robitscheck either wrote or secured possession of a poem casting grave reflections on the motives and practices of the members of the Salvation Army. It is alleged that a copy of the verses was sent to General William Booth, commander of the army, and was addressed to Salvation Army headquarters in New York.

General Booth being in London, the etter was opened by Ransom Caghill, treasurer of the army. Enclosed with the verses was a letter in which, it is alleged, the threat was made to publish the verses and sell them at 5 cents a copy unless the army paid $30,000 to the sender. Robitscheck.

Mr. Ransom corresponded with Rooitscheck for some time, and finally, it s claimed. Robitscheck turned the matter over to Silverblatt, his attorney. Silverblatt, according to the contention of the government, wrote only one letter, but in this letter he made the threat, it is claimed, that the verses would be published unless the $30,000 was forthcoming at once.

The matter was then turned over to the postoffice department and an inspector from the Boston office was assigned to the case. Yesterday Postoffice Inspector McLeod and United States Deputy Marshal Bancroft visited Robitscheck and Silverblatt in Lowell. The officers pretended to be New York awyers sent by the Salvation Army to settle the matter. According to the officers, Silverblatt offered to suppress Brought before Commissioner Haves both prisoners entered pleas of not guilty. Bail in each case was placed at $1000. Silverblatt secured a bondsman in the person of his father, but Robitscheck spent the night in jail. Robitscheck will appear in the federal court today, while Silverblatt's case was continued.

Effort to Settle Boundary Dispute St. Johns, July 12 .- Governor Mac Gregor of Newfoundland has completed plans for a tour to Labrador, where he will investigate personally conditions relating to the delimitation of the Labrador boundary, which is now an unsettled question between the Newfoundland and Canadian governments. IF MOTHERS ONLY KNEW when children are cross, irritable and peevish it does not signify that they have bad tempers; it shows that there is something wrong with the child which it is not able to explain, and which the mother—If She Only Knew—could easily and quickly cure. Mothers, study your child's symptoms; if cross, peevish, nervous, grits the teeth, wets the bed, picks the nose, has variable appetite or bowels, suffers with wind-colic or headache, is irritable and restless, has furred tongue or offensive breath, you may be sure that child is troubled with horms, which cause nearly all the ills of childhood.

Aoki Thus Terms Talk of Possible Trouble With Japan

NATION IS INDEBTED TO US

Yamamoto Points Out That America Developed Industries and Commerce of His Country--"Darksome Clouds' Nothing but a Squall

New York, July 12.—Two distinguished Japanese, influential at home and respected abroad, took occasion to declare in no uncertain terms that there were no unfriendly issues between the United States and Japan and to decry the undue importance attributed by some to trivial incidents.

The champions of peace and friendship between the two countries were Admiral Baron Yamamoto and Visount Aoki, the Japanese ambassador, who came over from Washington to attend the reception and luncheon given by the Japan Society of Amerca in honor of Admiral Yamamoto. In the course of a formal statement Ambassador Aoki said: "I have only to repeat what I have said time and again, that there is no 'Japanese American situation.' There exists be tween the two governments no differ ence or ill feeling of whatever sort. All this talk of possible trouble between the two nations, so devoted to each other, is a mere phantom creation of wild imagination that ever seems to haunt the minds of irresponsible storymakers and trouble hunters. There is not the slightest cause for anxiety in the American-Japanese relations." Speaking at the luncheon at the Hotel Astor, Yamamoto said, among other

"It is now over 50 years since Amerca first opened intercourse with Japan and introduced us to the nations of the East. As I was born about that time, existence of the United States almost as soon as that of my own country. The same thing can be said with regard to a very large number of my compatriots. "It is true that lately some darksome clouds did appear in one quarter of the sky, but it is nothing but a local squall, and does not in any way represent the general state of the weather. And even this slight cloud will soon be dispersed. We are all aware of the high sense of justice and humanity possessed by the Americans, the principles which form the very foundations of the republic.

POPULAR SUMMER RESORT

Diplomats From Many Countries Scattered About New England Boston, July 12 .- Foreign land on

Yankee soil, where the Monroe doctrine s not known and where Yankee law. even, cannot reach, is situated in four of the New England states. In other words, in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and New Hampshire are small pieces of territory which are absolutely controlled by Italy, Austria-Hungary Germany, Russia, Great Britain, Siam, Netherlands, Peru and Norway. These bits of territory, which are the sum mer homes of the embassies and legations of those countries, are strenuous evidences of the popularity of New England as a summer resort.

Naturally, Massachusetts has the largest number of diplomats. Italy and Peru are located at Manchester-bythe-Sea, Russia at Magnolia, and Siam at Bass Rocks.

Maine claims three, Austria-Hun gary and Norway at Bar Harbor, and Netherlands at York Harbor.

New Hampshire's hills are the homes of Germany, which has a big establishment at Dubiin, and Great Britain which offers hospitality at Intervale. Little Rhode Island has one, France, whose representatives mingle with the smart set at Newport.

Striking Cadets Give Testimony

Money and Clerk Both Missing

Arthur La Breque, proprietor of the Lemon lunch car at Houghs Neck, reported to the police Thursday night that his cottage had been robbed of money to the value of $500, sometime during the day, and that James Hart, his clerk, was among the missing.

Mr. La Breque stated to the police that Thursday morning about 10 o'clock he and his wife went away on a fishing trip, Hart being left in charge of the lunch cart. They returned to Houghs Neck about 5 o'clock when Mrs. La Breque went to the cottage and Mr. La Breque to the lunch car.

Mr. LaBreque found no one in charge of the car and that the money drawer was minus what change it might have When Mrs. LaBreque entered the cottage, she found that her trunk had been opened and $500 in money taken. The key of the trunk had been hidden, and it was supposed that no one knew where it was. In the bottom of the

The badge is one that will always be kept by those into whose hands it falls, and therefore will give the city considerable in the way of advertising.

Church Census of City of Quincy

During the coming weeks, the city of Quincy will be canvassed by representatives of the Massachusetts Bible Society for the purpose of obtaining a reigious census of the place. This work is done in conjunction with churches and with the hearty support of all the pastors. It is entirely undenominational in its aims, its sole purpose being to see that the Bible is found in each

This society does a large work among the immigrants as they enter our ports at Boston and New Bedford. Some five thousand two hundred bibles were given away last year. We hope the work may prove beneficial to Quincy and of lasting benefit to her churches.

THE DEFENSE RESTS

Haywood Leaves Witness Stand After Six Hours' Testimony

Never Thought of Steunenberg After He Lett Idaho In 1901--Possibility of Sensational Developments In Rebuttal and Sur-Rebuttal

Boise, Ida., July 13.-William D. Haywood, on trial for the murder of Frank Steunenberg, yesterday aftermoon left the witness chair after he had been under examination six hours in his own defense, the time being equally divided between his own counsel and Mr. Borah, who conducted the cross-examination.

Haywood's testimony closes the defense, except for one witness who will be called today, and his examination will take about 15 minutes. The state will then begin the rebuttal, unless motions to strike out certain parts of the evidence should be brought forward by the defense. There is a prospect now that the case may be brought to a conclusion within two weeks.

Haywood yesterday denied that he planned, conspired in or desired the murder of former Governor Steunenberg. The prisoner-witness emphasized his declaration of innocence when in even tone he said: "I do not believe I ever thought of Steunenberg after I left Idaho in 1901."

Mr. Darrow led his client over the ground covered by Orchard and every charge that Haywood had any connection with Orchard other than of the most innocent character was denied again and again by the witness in the most positive terms.

Borah's cross-examination was more than usually quick yesterday, but from first to last Haywood preserved com plete possession and control of himself. His voice was seldom raised except once or twice when a flat denial that the champions in any one line was given. Borah's manner was had bodies well rounded and symcourteous throughout, but now and metrical throughout. then a tinge of sarcasm appeared, when he insisted on a direct answer athletes with symmetrical bodies. Haywood in many particulars confirmed Orchard, but where Orchard connected Havwood or the West ern Federation with crime the witness was emphatic and prompt in his denials.

Both Moyer, the president, and Haywood, the secretary of the Western Federation of Miners, have denied in the most positive terms that they knew Orchard in any other connection than as a member of the federation. Counsel for the defense appear to be determined to bring out the most minute detail as to the relations between Orchard, the self-confessed assassin of a score of men, and the officers of the or- pete in the big American events. ganization of which he was a member. Democrats Make Feature of the Tariff In State Campaign

TRUSTS MORE APPROPRIATE

On This, as Well as on the Tariff, Republicans Can Make a Rattling Campaign, With the Achievements

It is very evident that the Democratic party in this state intends to make national questions the main issue in the fall campaign rather than state issues, although this is not a congressional nor presidential election. In the effort of many of the party leaders to push Henry M. Whitney of Brookline to the front on the tariff issue it is plainly evident that an atempt is to be made to minimize the state or local issues. It is very evident that the friends of Mr. Whitney wish to raise an issue which shall obscure, as far as possible, the record made by the Brookline man as a manipulator of legislatures and the promoter of enterprises like the Massachusetts pipe line, and blot out as far as possible the other episodes which have brought his name into considerable no-

The tariff is hardly an issue in the coming campaign, notwithstanding the against the Great Northern Railroad strenuous efforts being made by Mr. Whitney in his nightly campaign railroads, for giving rebates on shipthroughout the state for the nomination. If it is desired to have a national its lines ssue why not select one which would be more appropriate for the candidate than the one chosen?

Why not compare the records of the Republican and Democratic parties in their relation to trusts, monopolies and embinations in restraint of trade?

The Democratic Record

The record of the Democratic party is a regulator of trusts has not been of a character to alarm the most mendacious of these organizations. The first term of President Cleveland saw and this has been paid. A case was nothing doing to curb the operations of monopolies in restraint of trade. But when Benjamin Harrison became president in 1889 there was immediately inaugurated a crusade against such trusts and monopolies as had violated the anti-trust statutes. Under his administration a large number of indict ments were secured and several convictions against railroads for charging less than tariff rates were found.

In President Cleveland's second administration several indictments were secured, but a greater number of the cases were nol prossed, the indictments quashed and the cases dismissed.

President McKinley instituted sevral cases and under him a number of ines were imposed for violation of the statutes.

The machinery of the government has been used most effectively to punish and put out of Roosevelt, 37 indictments for receiving business, as far as possible, law breakers of every sort, and he has not neglected to apply the law to rich and powerful combinations of capital any less than to criminals of the humbler sort.

The Standard Oil Fined

Several cases have been brought against the Standard Oll company, and several are still pending. There have been convictions in a number of cases and the activity of the federal government in the matter has set Texas and some of the other states actively at work on their own account to deal with the Oil trust situation. In Texas, state courts, following the lead of the national government, have imposed fines of between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000 on subsidiary companies of the Standard of Roosevelt as the Central Question | Oil company and even larger fines have been imposed by the courts of some other states.

Fines of nearly $50,000 were imposed upon the American Seating company, aconcern engaged in the manufacture and sale of school and church furniture because of violations of the Sherman anti-trust law, by engaging in a combination in restraint of trade in the manufacture of these products.

One of the latest cases instituted is that against the Reading Railroad company and others, known as coal roads, to dissolve the combination among these anthracite coal-carrying roads and others which are operated in violation of the Sherman anti-trust laws

Fines aggregating $50,000 have been assessed upon the Chicago and Alton Railroad company and officials of the road for granting rebates on freight. Clay's Joke on Adams.

When John Quincy Adams and Henry Clay were at Ghent in 1814 in asociation with Albert Gallatin, James A. Bayard and Jonathan Russell, appointed to negotiate a treaty of peace with Great Britain, they were on very intimate terms of friendship and occu pied the same apartments. Mr. Clay was always a very gallant man and in many respects the very opposite of Mr. Adams, who, though studiously polite to every lady, avoided even the ap pearance of familiarity. The young girl who had charge of the rooms of the peace commissioners was very pretty and modest and was treated with great respect by all of them. Mr. Clay would now and then indulge in compliments to her beauty and or one occasion playfully solicited from

Again the Daily Ledger wishes to remind the people of Quincy that they are losing a great opportunity to advertise the city on dates of launchings. Hundreds of people now come to the launchings without getting acquainted with the city. They have come from New Jersey, Rhode Island and Vermont; from Alabama Everett, Malden, Melrose and Salem directly to the shipyard by rail, and practically nothing of the city ex cept the shipyard, and many do not know that the plant is in Quincy.

If, after the launchings, the guests of the companny could for a couple of hours become the guests of the the publicity would be a good advertisement for the city. At one launching the Quincy Historical Society might entertain, at another time the Quincy Board of Trade; the Quincy Citizens' Association, the Granite Manufactures Association, the Granite City Club, the Old Colony street rail way, the Quincy lodge of Elks.

The guests could be taken to the birthplaces of the Presidents, and the yard. other places of historical interest; to the granite quarries, and other instreet railway; to the seashore at Houghs Neck, and return trip by steamer to Boston. ### Bon Voyage to Football Player

On Monday evening, July 8, at the McGregor Football Club rooms, Water street, says the Quincy correspondent of the Scotsman, assembled a large number of football enthusiasts, to do honor to one so much worthy of honor, in the person of Jack Craik, on the occasion of his departure for the land of his birth. Bonnie Scotland.

Mr. J. A. Hamilton presided, and in the course of the evening called upon Mr. Craik, and on behalf of the club in whose interests he had labored so diligently and long, presented him with a gold albert, with Masonic Sunday at the South church at Braincharm attached.

The recipient, who is naturally of modist and retiring disposition, had difficulty at first in finding words to suitably express his feelings, as he was taken so completely by surprise. Mr. Raleigh and Mr. Cameron then sopke in laudatory terms of the sterling worth of Mr. Craik.

its characteristics. In view of its prominence as the home of men whose public spirit and enterprise has exerted a wide influence in the affairs or our state, it is of unusual public interest. The introduction says:

The Journal proposes to publish a series of articles upon Hopedale and its achievements as one of the will be of unusual interest to our was a part of our town. Our people have always taken great pride in the er citizens.

Among the many noted towns that have made the Bay State famous no own holds a more conspicuous posiion than Hopedale. It is known far and wide by reason of the product of its chief industry. The peculiar feature of Hopedale is the fact that it is a manufacturing town and yet zen in all things that go to make up a progressive town. The leading spirit that made all this possible was the late George Draper. Years before Hopedale became a town he laid the foundation for a business that is today the largest plant of its kind in the United States in the manufacure of cotton mill machinery. There are always reasons for the ment of every community. It requires men with brains and energy and a disposition to apply that energy to obtain practical results and this three sons who inherited the personally invested the law. sturdy business qualities that predominated the mind of the founder of this great industry. the Draper Company, is strictly a the welfare of the company and the town in which he lives, and is less known in a political way than the other members of the family.

The Draper family, however, have not confined all their efforts to business interests exclusively. While the greater part of their time has been demanded in the management of a Buy your MEN'S and CHILDREN'S CLOTHING at a Man's Store great and growing business, they have never neglected their duty to their state and country. For more than thirty years George Draper was regarded as a man of great influence with the leading statesmen of the country even though he was not an aspirant for public office.

Gen. William F. Draper, the older son and brother, and until recently president of the Draper Co., has rendered important service to his country both in war and peace. He served as lieutenant, captain, major and colonel of the 36th Massachusetts Infantry during the Civil War and was breveted a brigadier general at the age of 23. He also served as a Member of Congress for two terms, declining a third nomination. During the McKinley administration he served with distinction at the important post of Ambassador to Italy and has always taken an active interest in all public questions.

Hon. Eben S. Draper, the selling agent of the company, and Lieutenant Governor of the State, is not only identified with the industrial life of his home town but occupies a conspicuous place in the public eye as an administrative officer of the Commonwealth. It is admitted that there is no public official in the state that has risen so high in the estimation of those who have come in contact with his official life as the present Lieutenant Governor. The secret of his growing popularity is the direct Carpenter, Contractor and Builder. way he approaches every public question. The Directors of the Young Mrn's Christian Association of Quincy, with a firmfaithin the great value of the work which is being done for the young men and boys of our city, make their appeal for donations and bequests toward paying the mortgage indebtedness on the new Association Building. When the building is free from debt it will serve as an Endowment, as there is a goodly income from the dormitories.

Should the Donor prefer, such sum as might be given could be used as an Endowment for an educational class or classes, the Boys Department, or as a special fund in other ways, and could be designated with the name of the Donor.

The Treasurer, William F. Cummings, 7 Clive Street, Quincy, or the General Secretary, Ernest G. Gay, will be happy to answer inquiries.

OUR HOSPITAL

(Legal Title: City Hospital of Quincy) INCORPORATED 1889

The Trustees of the City Hospital of Quincy earnestly appeal for donations and bequests for the Endowment fund. This now amounts to over $60,000, but a fund of at least $100,000 is urgently needed. Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) will endow a Free Bed to which such name may be given as the Donor may desire, but any sum for this noble institution which stands ready to serve us all in the hour of need, will be most gratefully received.

He made a point of never slighting his duties for anything. Then he drew forth a square envelope and short of duties for anything. Then he drew forth a square envelope and sheet of white paper to match. This seemed to him the most direct and final way of settling matters between them. Belinda was a coquette, there was no getting around that fact, even in one's most generous moments, and Hardiman was determined to corner her completely. He composed his lines carefully; they were inspirational. And now that he had broken the ice at last he meant to carry things to a rapid he meant to carry things to a rapid finish. The professor was nothing if not businesslike. He fished in a drawer and pulled out a teacher's resignation blank. This he put in a separate envelope and directed both to the dearest girl in the world.

The following morning the postman's shrill whistle brought Belinda herself to the door. She took the mail and

She smothered the sob Belinda's introduction to the new | in her throat and in quick scorn of herself dashed the hot tears from her eyes. Then she pulled herself together sharply and went upstairs. With trembling fingers she filled out the blank and directed it to the board.

Drab weeks followed. Every effort the professor made to gain an audience with Belinda failed. He had mortified and insulted her flagrantly, and she would see that he got no more chances to repeat the indignity. As to Hardiman, he was on the rack. Foollike, he reflected, he had rushed in and frightened her away with his maudlin importunate lovemaking, and thus lost her for good. But perhaps, after all, it was not for him that she cared, but the other fellow! What a dolt he had been to presume upon the affection of a matchless creature like that! Life grew to be a bitter struggle to him. and he began all at once to look his thirty-five years.

It was in May, almost the close of school. The day was warm and oppressive, and a lazy breeze was blowing. The professor made his way in absent weariness toward the school house, stopping on the way to get his mail from the postoffice. There were several circulars in his box and-his breath stopped—a communication from the dead letter office. He broke the seal anxiously, an intuitive knowledge of what it contained making his heart thump thickly. Sure enough: "Miss r 7 43 abc

He delivered an able address on the duty of the citizen to the church, and to the civil powers. The Orange order antagonized no man's religion. It merely insisted on equal rights and equal opportunities for all men and the complete separation of church and state. It was be cause the Stuart kings encroached on the religious freedom of their subjects that one of them lost his head and two were dethroned, the latter by the first orange leader. William the Third. The speaker said that in the Dominion of Canada the Orange Order was strong, and was the principal power in insuring justice between subjects of different creeds He bespoke for it the same influence in this country, and hoped the members would never lose sight of the principles and purposes of the or-

When they had seen all there was to be viewed there they turned off into Market or Chestnut and sauntered as far east as

Sixth. It would be futile to attempt to estimate the number of persons who were out sightseeing. It seemed as if at least half of the population of the city and suburbs were "down town." Policemen of many years' experience said there had never before been such an outpouring. There was little trouble in handling the throngs everybody seemingly being in the best of humor.

One of the most attractive buildings n Chestnut street was the new home of the General Electric Company, at the corner of Tenth street. On the side of this huge structure appeared row after row of incandescent globes, whose concentrated radiance pro-

GOOD AFTERNOON.

Many of the visitors to Boston this summer will carry back to their western home some souvenir or antique with the true New England flavor, some bit of old colonial or revolutionary ware, old candle stick, a pewter porringer, silver tankard, ancient book, or old musket to emphasize the Pilgrim or Puritan life in the early settlement of the colonies. To provide for this demand of tourists, collectors have been busy, buying up every highback chair, banjo, clock, pair of bellows or tongs, candelabra, warm ing pan, ancient spoon or antique field piece of Revolutionary times; that they could unearth in the country towns. We know of instance where a historic mirror or blue platter brought a tidy sum. One old alighted from their carriages and hurbachelor sold sufficient furniture from his attic, that he deemed old that nobody had been injured, the truck to amount to $60,00. He was satisfied and the purchaser was delighted.

Would-Be Assassin, a Naval Reservist Makes No Resistance When Ar rested--Police Have Difficulty In Preventing a Lynching

Paris, July 15 .- The national fete was marred by a dastardly attempt or the life of President Fallieres by Leon Maille, a naval reservist of Havre, who it is believed, is suffering from the mania of fancied persecution. Maille fired two shots at the president, but did not hit him. He was at once placed under arrest.

On account of the activity of the anti-militarists, who tried to organize a demonstration against the army throughout France yesterday, exceptional precautions were taken to safe guard President Fallieres. The attempt on his life occurred on Avenue des Champs-Elysee, while the president was returning to the palace from Long champs, where he had reviewed the garrison of Paris in the presence of 250,000 enthusiastic people

Premier Clemenceau and M. Lanes, he president's secretary, were with the president in his landau, which was escorted by a squadron of cuirassiers. The carriage had safely emerged from the Bois de Boulogne, where the antimilitarists had stationed themselves with the intention of hooting the sol diers, and was descending the broad Champs Elysees amid the acclamations f the crowds thronging the sidewalks, who were shouting "Vive Fallieres," 'Vive l'armee," when at the corner of Lesueur street Maille, from the curb fired two shots point blank at the president in quick succession.

Miraculously no one was hit. Fal eres was cool and collected when the cortege stopped. The diplomats who were following the president's landau ried to the side of Fallieres. Finding cortege, by the president's orders, moved on.

In the meantime two policemen seized Maille, who made no resistance, but the police with difficulty prevented the irate crowds from lynching the prisoner until a cordon of reserves came up and conducted him to the station. There Maille refused to give any reason for his act, saying: "The revela tions I have are so grave and serious that I will only make them before a magistrate for transmission to the chief of state. It is a matter between the government and me. I am the victim of It was in the third week in July many villainies." ### ITALIAN WIELDED A DAGGER

Killed Boston Stableman Who Refused to Let Him Have a Team

Boston, July 15 .- Jeremiah Crowley, oged 30 years, was murdered at the stable of Dennis O'Connell, 49 North Margin street, where he was employed, by an enraged Italian who stabbed him in the groin because he was refused a

Joseph Mosconi, aged 32, whom the police have under arrest, charged with the murder, ran out of the stable after stabbing Crowley and, waving an ugly looking dagger, fled down the street. He was followed by an angry mob, one of whom, John Doherty, closed with Mosconi. The dagger was dropped and a fist fight followed. Doherty finally overcame the Italian, but was soo forced to defend himself and the Italian from the threats of the mob who threatened lynching. Upon the arrival of police officers Doherty was relieved of his charge.

The trouble arose over an order which Crowley was carrying out that no one should be allowed to take team out of the stable that belonged to boarders without an order from the owner. Mosconi came to the stable yesterday and asked for a team belonging to Louis Tammario. He had no written order and was refused the team by Crowley. He left the stable in an angry mood and immediately returned through another door and, rushing upon Crowley, plunged a dagger into his Business Man Takes Own Fife Hyannis, Mass., July 15.—Beneath the placid surface of Wequaquet lake, at a point about a mile from his beautiful summer home in the town of Centreville, the body of Freeman M. Crosby, proprietor of the famous restaurant which bears his name at Boston was found. Crosby had taken poison, the bottle which had contained the deadly fluid being found in the skiff that floated near at hand. He had then tied a long rope about his waist and jumped over board, anchoring the boat with his own body. It is stated among those who knew him that he had been troubled by financial matters.

Review of Evidence Thus Far Introduced In Famous Case

trial of William D. Haywood, secretary and treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners, charged with the murder of and conspiracy to murder Frank Steunenberg, is now within measurable distance. The case today entered its 10th week of hearing before Judge Wood. Both sides have rested and the rebuttal has begun.

Evidence has been introduced in supoort of the charge brought by the state of Idaho that a conspiracy existed among high officers of the Wester Federation of Miners to intimidate a persons who ran counter to the pur oses of the union, with a view to es iblishing members of organized bodie of workingmen as masters of the situa on, thus commencing a political and ndustrial organization, which, havin ts initiative in the west, should spread with irresistable force throughout every section of the country. Evidence has been introduced to show that in pursuance of this conspiracy 18 men were murdered. In defense of the man immediately concerned and of the officers of the Western Federation of Miners who are charged with participating in the plans for murder as a means to the desired ends, evidence has been introduced t show that a counter-conspiracy existed mong employers of labor in the west ooking to the annihilation of the West ern Federation of Miners in particular because the federation represented the

MURDERED HIS WIFE

Maine Man Then Shot Brother In the Jaw

SENT PHYSICIAN TO THEM

Made It a Triple Tragedy by Putting a Bullet Into His Own Head, Which May Cause Death--Crime Attributed

Searles, a farmer, 25 years of age, shot Montgomery Fitz, of 1112 Bolyston and killed his wife and also shot his street, Boston. The second woman rebrother, Edward Searles, when he fused to give her name. They were found the two strolling together in the taken to a hotel and later left for woods a short distance from the village of North Chesterville, where they lived. Returning to the village, Searles went to the house of a physician and d rected him to the scene of the tragedy after which he walked up the road a short distance and then shot himself ir the head. He is still alive, but is not expected to recover. Edward Searles has a bullet wound through the jaw. thought that the wound will not prov

Jealousy is ascribed as the probable reason for the shooting. Since last winter Jesse Searles and his wife had ived apart on account of a quarrel, but both remained in the village, being employed on different farms. Edward Searles was also employed in the town The family came to North Centerville from Rangeley about two years ago. In addition to working as farmhands, both the brothers had served occa sionally as guides for sportsmen in the Rangeley region, and they are well known throughout that district.

The shooting occurred about 5 o'clock vesterday afternoon. It is supposed that Jesse Searles followed his wife and his brother to the woods and that a quarrel took place there. Searles used a 32-calibre revolver. He fired apparently only two shots at his vic tims, but his markmanship was excel lent, one shot piercing his wife's brain and killing her instantly, probably while the other struck Edward on the side of his jaw, lodging on the other

When Searles appeared at the house of the physician, about a mile from the scene of the shooting, he still carried the revolver and appeared greatly excited. He did not at first talk very co herently, but made the physician under stand that his services were needed for some injured persons. Following the nan's hastily given directions, the physeiian went to the woods and found the body of Mrs. Searles, while nearby Edward lay unconscious and covered with blood from a wound in the face. re injured man was removed to the use of friends not far away and his jury attended to by the physician.

Jesse Searles, after notifying the docr, went to a part of the town called Slab village," a settlement of a few uses, and there shot himself in the ad with the revolver which he had ed in his attack upon his wife and other. Jesse Searles is unconscious, that no statement can be obtained m him, and the injury of Edward rles makes it impossible for him eople of the village say that both Searles brothers and Mrs. Searles e borne a good reputation.

Admiral Yamamoto Delighted

Admiral Yamamoto and his staff nonored the Fore River Shipbuilding Company on Monday with a visit to their plant at Quincy.

Besides the Admiral the party was omposed of Captain Y. Mizutani, Captain Motoki Kondo, Naval Constructor for the Japanese navy, who esigned the Satsuma style of ships, ne best in his country's service; K. jii, engineering captain; Captain T 'akarabo, Commander K. Kato, Ad niral's aide: L. Arisaki, chief naval ordnance officer of the Japanese Empire: also Lieut, Commander N. Taniguchi, Lieut. Commander G. Tomonaga. Lieut. Constructor S. Yoshida, Lieut. Constructor Y. Kamimura, Mr. K. Matsugata, Mr. O. Matsugata, S

Kado and N. Yamagata. Lieut. Henderson of the United States'Navy, who has been detailed by Admiral Evans accompanied the honored guests.

The party arrived from New York on the 1 o'clock train and were met at the Back Bay station by President Bowles of the Fore River Co. and quickly entered and the party taken through the park system to Quincy arriving at the Fore River plant at exactly 2 o'clock.

There were fifteen in the party including the Japanese naval officers stationed at the works and also Presiterpreter as the Japanese Admiral did not speak English and all conversaruns over the vessels. They were also shown where the 20,000 ton battleship is to be laid down, work on which has already been commenced. From there they saw the scout cruiser Salem that is to be launched They then paid a visit to the scout cruiser Birmingham that was launched last May. They made a trip through this vessel and there was little that they did not see. They appeared greatly impressed with what they saw and were unusually interested in the false sheathing that is used in the quarters of the men. From there they went to the machine shop' and made a thorough inspection of the Curtis turbine engines that are being built for the Japanese that are being built for the Japanese battleship Aki and the cruiser Ibuki. Saturday, July 20, 1907 During all this time there was a small army of newspaper men following close upon their heels and a corps of photographers seeking vantage points from which to snap the Admiral, which he did not appear to

From there they passed through the yard leaving by the workmen's gate and thence to the office in front of which were the automobiles. They had been in the yard just an hour. As the party were about to take the automobiles for the return to Boston. President Bowles said to the Admiral through the interpreter, "you will probably never see these newspaper men again and I know they will not forgive me if you depart without saying a word to them. At this the Admiral turned and was presented to the reporters gathered about and shaking hands with each said, "I have been to this country several times and I am greatly impressed with the energy of your peo ple, especially with the energy displayed by newspaper men. I am very pleased to see you here today. You are the head of the nation and what you say is believed. Be careful what you say then. It is good trying to earn money and some invent stories. Rear Admiral Bowles welcomed Admiral Yamamoto, saying that the visit of the famous Japanese naval official was opportune as it served to show that the friendly relations which had always existed between Japan and the United States were as strong as ever. Admiral Yamamoto got a warm re ception when he arose to reply. He spoke in Japanese, his words being translated by Capt. Kondo. The admiral spoke in warm terms of his reception in this country and of the affection and esteem which Japan had always had for the United States He said that it was with the keenes feelings of regret that he had learned of the accident on the battleship Georgia. He concluded with the hope that nothing should ever mar the friendly relations which had always exsisted between Japan and the United States.

He said that the United States pos sessed some of the finest shipyards in the world, and he was particularly pleased with the high character and the contentment of the men who worked in these yards.

The party broke up before 8 and Admiral Yamamoto was at once taken to the hotel, where he spent but a few mon:ents. Then the entire Japfour large automobiles. These were anese party went to the North station all who desire to participate in the and boarded the Montreal train.

THE HARRIMAN CASE

Commerce Commission Thinks Attorney General Must Sue

FUNCTIONS OF THE BOARD

They Do Not Include Recommendation of Prosecutions--Members Were Not Unanimous on Omitting to Suggest Action Against Magnate

Washington, July 16 .- Members of the interstate commerce commission are confident that there will be legal prosecution of the Harriman lines as a result of their exposure of their unlawful operations. They assert that it will be impossible for the attorney general to ignore the damaging state ment of facts which they present in their report, and at the same time they explain their failure to mention the word "prosecution." in their recommendations of what ought to be done to the magnate.

The fact is the commission is very much irritated because it has in some quarters been condemned for the mildness of its Harriman report. The pubhe has been led to expect a vigorous of railroad management and a stinging recommendation for prosecution. Not a word was said about punishing the magnate, although there was a suggestion that there ought to be additional legislation to render impossible the gobbling up of competing lines through stock purchases by powerful systems.

"It is not the function of the commission," said an officer of that body, "to recommend prosecutions for viola tion of the lottery act, the statute against counterfeiting, the Sherman act and other laws. It is our duty merely to ask for action for violation of the interstate commerce act.

"Suppose we had informed the attorney general that Harriman had violated the Sherman law in the purchase of the Southern Pacific and in the other deals by which competition was suppressed. The attorney general might not have agreed with our conclusions after investigating the facts for himself, and then we would be in a pretty fix. That is the reason we did not say that Harriman ought to be proceeded mortem examination, to be followed by Civil Engineer and Surveyor,

"Why didn't the commission recommend action against him for violations of the interstate commerce act?" "There wasn't any such violation," was the prompt reply. "How about the San Pedro pooling rrangement?"

the reports so state. It would be manifestly improper for the commission to express an official opinion as to whether | plied in the direction of facilitating a tess Laura Jones is now at home some law other than the one which it av South Central avenue. Miss is charged with administering had been violated."

It develops now that the commission was not unanimously in favor of omitting all recommendation for prosecution. At least one member thought that the seriousness of the offenses were sufficient to justify a declaration that the laws had been violated. This man was overruled by his associates. But although the members of the commission did not feel at liberty to that the Sherman law had been violated, they do not hesitate to say privately that such is the case, and they confidently look for prosecutions to begin after Attorney General Bonaparte The funeral of Mrs. Rebecca Adams has had an opportunity to go into the der suspicion.

HOW TO TELL IF YOU HAVE WORMS

THE REMEDY, THAT QUICKLY EXPELS THEM

The common symptoms of worms in children and adults are:—Paleness of the face with occasional flushing; indigestion accompanied by an unnatural appetite at times; foul tongue and offensive breath; itching nose; vomiting; grinding of the teeth during sleep; swelling of the upper lip; hard swelled bowels; griping or colic pains; also convulsions and many other unaccountable nervous symptoms, which, if not checked in time, lead on to something more serious.

TOOK DR. TRUE'S ELIXIR AND GOT WELL

SOMERVILLE, ME. DR. TRUE, DEAR SIR:-

"For more than three months one of my children had been troubled with spells of vomiting and symptoms of fever nearly every week, together with canker-sores about the nose and mouth. I obtained, about two weeks ago, two bottles of your Elixir, and before the first bottle was exhausted the sores were entirely healed, and no appearance of his vomiting or fever-spells has ever returned. I really believe that the lives of thousands of children suffering from worms or canker might be saved by a timely and judicious use of your Elixir." Yours truly,

J. L. HAMMETT. This is only one of hundreds of such testimonials. This marvelous remedy has been made and sold by Dr. J. F. True & Co. for fifty-six years, and in all that time nothing but words of praise have been bestowed upon it. This is what Mr. Wing thinks of it. AUBURN, ME.

DR. TRUE, DEAR SIR:-"For the past seven years I have constantly kept a supply of your Elixir in my house, and it never failed to give prompt relief. It has been a great blessing to my children, and unsolicited I give you this tribute of gratitude, hoping the merits of your unrivaled family medicine may be widely known and appreciated." Very respectfully yours

CHAS. E. WING. Even though worms may not be found present Dr. True's Elixir tones up the stomach and liver. Read what Dr. J. Haley, of Bruns-wick, thinks of it:

"It is a safe and effectual remedy. For worms it has no equal, and is an excellent remedy for canker of the mouth and throat." Dr. True's Elixir is sold by druggists everywhere at 35c., 50c., and $1.00 per bottle. The booklet, "Children and Their Diseases," will be sent free by simply addressing Dr. J. F. ## CHARGE OF PERJURY

Warrant For Arrest of Witness Who Testified For Haywood

ORCHARD AGAIN EXAMINED

Admits That Uncle Who Hanged Himself Was Demented "For a Year or Two"--Introduction of Some o Prosecution's Evidence Forbidden

Boise, Ida., July 16 .- Another warcant charging perjury against a witness who has testified for the defense in the trial of William D. Haywood was issued last evening. C. W. Aller, formerly a telegraph operator and ticket agent for the Florence and Cripple Creek railroad at Cripple Creek, is charged with the offense by the prosecuting attorney of Ada county.

Eleven witnesses in rebuttal were examined yesterday. Harry Orchard reappeared on the stand and was asked as to his acquaintance with some of the witnesses for the defense who have testified as to his movements. On cross-examination Orchard admitted that his uncle, Peter McKinney, committed suicide in Canada by hanging 13 or 14 years ago. Counsel for the defense asked Orchard if this uncle was not insane before he killed himself and if his maternal grandfather was not insane, his monomania being imaginary crimes committed long since in Ireland. Orchard denied al! knowledge of his grandfather, but admitted that his uncle was demented for a year or so, although not over imaginary crimes,

During the afternoon session witnesses contradicted the evidence of Aller, who testified for the defense in upport of the charge of a conspiracy igainst the Western Federation of Miners, in which it is alleged the Mine owners' association, the Citizens' Alli ance and the Pinkerton detective igency were concerned. Aller swore that he saw Orchard and D. C. Scott ogether at the station of the Florence and Cripple Creek railway one Sunday bout three weeks prior to the exploion at the Independence station Scott swore yesterday that he was not n Crippie Creek then and a number of witnesses corroborated him. The explosion at the home of Fred Bradley in San Francisco was again under consideration yesterday. The manager of the Boise Gas company, C D. Lampson, qualified for the state as an expert. He discredited the assertion that gas could have been ignited by the glow at the end of a cigar. He was cross-examined at considerable ength by Mr. Richardsen. The gen eral effect of his evidence was that the explosion at the Bradley home could not have been caused by gas. Judge Wood announced that he had decided to sustain the objection of the defense to the admission in evidence of Office, 1495 Hancock Street. the records of the state insane asylum, showing the commitment to that institution of John D. Elliott, who, as a witness for the defense, testified to a long conversation which he said he had with Harry Orchard in November 1905. Apparently, he said, the prosecuting attorneys knew of Elliott's com mitment when he appeared on the stand and they should have objected to the testimony at that time.

Interesting Historical Discovery Copenhagen, July 16 .- Y. L. Heiberg, professor of philology in the University of Copenhagen, while studying old manuscripts in a convent at Constantinople discovered, in addition to prayers and psalms of the twelfth century, copies of works by Archimedes, the Greek mathematician, who was born about 287 B. C. The manuscript was a copy made about the year 900 by a monk and later conveyed to Constantinople. The Turkish authorities did not permit Heiberg to remove the manuscript. He was permitted, however, to make a copy of it.

Losing Money by Reduced Postage Paris, July 16 .- The reduction of letter postage in France last year from 3 to 2 cents has not resulted in the augmentation of mailed letters expected, but has created an enormous deficit. The diminution in postal receipts from first-class mail matter for the first nine months under the new law is 54,457,280, to which must be added the increased cost of service, amounting to $871,720.

Uncle Joe on Japanese Situation Milwaukee, July 16 .- Speaker Cannon passed through here en route to Braintree, June 18 Oconomowoc on a pleasure trip. In regard to the Japanese situation he said: "The United States will never, in my judgment, give Japan or any other nation on earth just cause for war, and I have no fear that Japan or ESTATE of ROGER J. MURPHY, late of any other nation in sight will give any just cause for war." Jail For Telephone Official

Thirteen Injured, Some Fatally, by Explosion on Battleship

BAGS OF POWDER IGNITED

Accident Happened While the Georgia Was Off Cape Cod and Men Were Engaged In Target Practice--Lieutenant Goodrich, Son of Admiral, Among the Killed

Boston, July 16.-Eight men dead and 13 injured, of whom two are on the dangerous list at the United States naval hospital at Chelsea, is the grim record of the result of a powder explosion on the battleship Georgia off Previncetown. Six were dead when the battleship reached here, and two more Lieutenant Caspar Goodrich of Brook lyn, son of Rear Admiral Goodrich, and Seaman Pair, died later at the hospital The accident occurred while the Georgia's crew were at target practice eff Barnstable, in Cape Cod bay. In some manner, as yet unexplained, two bags of powder became ignited and in the terrific flash that followed the en tire turret crew, consisting of three of ficers and 18 men, were enveloped in fire and received horrible burns, one officer and six men dying before the ship reached port. The men killed are: Faulkner Goldthwaite, midshipman

W. J. Thatcher, chief turret captain W. J. Burke, seaman; G. G. Hamilton, ordinary seaman; G. E. Miller, ordinary seaman; W. M. Thams, seaman; W. F Pair, seaman, and Lieutenant Good-

The seriously injured: J. T. Cruse, midshipman, burned very seriously; Frank Schlapp, boatswain's mate, back, chest, arms and face burned; Charles Hansel, gunner's mate face and hands burned; Orly Taglund, chief yeoman, arms, back and face probably fatally; C. L. Eich, ordinary reaman, face, arms and hands burned; J. A. Fone, ordinary seaman, arms, back, and neck burned seriously; H. L. Gilbert, ordinary seaman, two-thirds of body burned; J. C. Maleck, ordinary seaman, arms and face burned; L. O. Meese, ordinary seaman, arms, face and chest burned; S. L. Rosenberger, ordinary seaman, arms and face burned: J. P. Thomas, ordinary seaburned fatally. Four other men retaken off the ship. The explosion occurred in the after assured. ich, son of Rear Admiral Goodrich, and Midshipmen Goldthwaite and Cruse, were operating the eight-inch just finished eight rounds of practice and the guns of the after turret had ired one round. The cases, as the big 100-pound bags of powder are called, had just been sent up through the ammunition hoist and were in the arms of the loader, whose name was withield by the ship's officers. The loader tood at the breech of one of the eightnch guns, all ready to insert the charge. At this instant the turret was seen be smoky and two men who stood near the loader saw a black spot on the bag, indicating that the charge had gnited and was smouldering. The oader discovered the spot at the same nstant and threw himself forward on is face, at the same time shouting a warning to his turret mates.

The other men who had seen the spot were Seaman Eich and Gunner's Mate Hansell, and they also threw themselves prostrate on the floor of the turret. Before the other men in the turret could understand what caused the loader's cry of warning, there was a blinding flash as the burning powder exploded. Flames, smoke and nauseous gases filled the little superstructure in which more than a score of men were confined. Inasmuch as the powder was not confined there was no deafening report, but every nook and cranny of the turret was filled with flame.

The loader, who was, of course, nearas was every other man in the turret who escaped with injuries much less severe than the others. Blinded by the smoke and flame choked by the acrid penetrating gaseous fumes, and maddened with pain, the men screamed in agony. Some staggered blindly up the ladder to the others crept along the turret floor, beg. of the schooling trophy of the Public ging piteously for assistance.

Maleck became crazed, staggered up practice: the iron ladder to the top of the turret and then threw themselves headlong into the sea, in a despairing effort to choose a death by drowning in preference to death by slow fire.

Before the smoke of the burning powder had cleared away the shipmates of the unfortunate men rushed to their assistance and the suffering sailors were lifted out of the fire-blackened turret and quickly conveyed to the Sun rises-4:22; sets-7:19. ship's hospital, where their burns were | Moon sets-11:15 p. m. dressed by the surgeons. The surgical staff of the Georgia was soon reinferced by the surgeons of the other vessels in the fleet, who had been informed of the accident and summoned to the scene by the combined use of wireless telegraphy, signal flags and the wig-wag system. A report of the visit of the Japanese naval staff will be found in another column of the Daily Ledger. It was a happy day for the Japanese men regularly employed at the plant. All courtesies were extended to the honored guests.

A box has been placed upon the bulletin board at the entrance just within the gate, in which items of interest for the Daily Ledger may be placed. Mr. Curry of Department V. our representative, will collect from the box each day at noon. In placing items please give your name and department, not necessarily for pubication, but as evidence of good faith, for it is the intention of the Ledger, to print only authentic news. Your hearty co-operation is asked and needed, in establishing a community interest and items of a business or social nature will be 'welcomed. Items of what you or your friends are doing outside the yard as well as inside, is the news wanted These include vacation notes, personals, change of residence, weddings, parties, sports, etc. Everyone can limit in getting out work. ### Trips to Maine and Maritime Points

With every arm of its service taxed almost its capactiy, and with the tide of tourist travel steadily rising, the summer passenger traffic of the Eastern Steamship company may fairly be said to be nearing its height. July and August are its banner nonths for vacation travel, but July hitherto has had the greater volume

Within the past fortnight there have een three important departures, or rather modifications of schedules on different divisions. One of these is on the Bangor division where beginning June 30th, instead of week day sailings only, there have been daily sailings (Sundays included,) from Boston (Foster's wharf,) for Rockland, Camden, Bangor and intervening landings with direct connection at Rockland for Bar Harbor, Blue Hill and intermediate landings, Another change of schedule which also means additional service, went into effect on the Kennebec division June 29, when daily sailings (Sundays excepted) were inaugurated between Boston, Bath, Richmond, Dresden, Gardiner, Hallowell, and Augusta The leaving time (from Union wharf) is 6 P. M. This schedule allows for and from Boothbay, and at all landings with railroad for interior points. The Sunday service to and from Bath will take effect July 14th to September 1. With the establishment of the direct service between Boston and St. John last Monday, when the magnificent new express turbine steamship Yale made its maiden trip, this division, the International is so perfectly equipped as to not only meet all possible demands, both as regards passenger and freight service, but to satisfy the most critical of patrons. The bath-room suites on the Yale are its most pronounced features in point of novelty, but its express speed, an average of 17 or 18 knots an hour is also one of its marked characteristics. So to is the utter absence of vibration, which makes the trip on the Yale, whatever the weather conditions, as comfortable an experience as one would have seated at home in one's own drawing-room.

The sailings on this division (direct service) from Boston, are Mondays and Thursdays at 12 noon; and for the return trip, St. John on Tues-Boston every Monday, Wednesday and Friday (from Union wharf) at 9 leaving time at St. John is 8 A. M., on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fri-

There is, in addition to all this, the daily service on the Portland division, a steamer leaving India wharf for Portland every evening (Sundays included) at 7 P. M.

THE KALBERG INHERITANCE.

Abel Kalberg and his wife, a thrifty, well to do couple, being childless and without expectation of children, adopted a young girl sixteen years old. Rose Fales was an orphan. She possessed about the best qualification for making the couple happy-amiability. At any rate, she did make them happy, and it was supposed that when they died Rose would be left a competency. All went well for a couple of years, when Rebecca Muir, a girl about Rose Fales' age and a niece of Mrs. Kalberg, came to the house for a visit. Rebecca, who had no prospects but to work for her living, not being endowed with any principle, made up ner mind to oust Rose if possible and get herself installed in her place. How she set about it is not especially important to this story. With a plain, stupid, matter of fact couple like the Kalbergs it was not very difficult, estable to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

She didn't expect to accomplish her work all at once, but she did. At her first accusation Rose indignantly told her foster father and mother that they must take her word or Rebecca's They didn't seem disposed to decide for either, and Rose proudly left the field to her enemy. Then Rebecca offered to come in and help the old people out for awhile and without waiting for them to accept the offer moved in, bag and baggage. Now, the Kalberg household every night at 9 o'clock was darkened, the couple going to bed and the niece pre tending to do so. Instead she usually went out for amusement. Occasionally she brought to the house a flashy young fellow whom she introduced as Mr. Straffin. One night Mrs. Kalberg. wanting something of Rebecca, went to her room. There the old lady found her niece with Straffin. Rebecca was equal to the occasion. She begged her aunt's forgiveness for keeping a se cret from her. She had been secretly married to Straffin. The aunt could not understand why the matter had been kept, secret and was offended with her niece for deceiving her and marrying without mentioning the mat ter to her. But Rebecca said that her husband could not gain his family' consent to the marriage and would not permit her to divulge it. There seemed nothing for the old couple to do bu forgive the girl and permit her to receive her husband at the house as often as she liked. As time passed Straffin appeared to make no headway at gaining his fam ily's consent to marry Miss Muir, and she claimed that the marriage could not be acknowledged without ruining his prospects. More than a year passed with no change in the situation, whe Mr. Kalberg died suddenly. His wife continued to live in the house with Rebecca, and Straffin continued to visit folio 534 and libro 708, folio 504, her. Soon after Kalberg's death his respectively, also Quincy Records of wife, who had been long failing, also

Immediately after Mrs. Kalberg's death Rebecca hunted through her aunt's papers and found a will. To her astonishment, Kalberg had possessed stocks and bonds innumerable in safety deposit companies' vaults. The will devised that the income should be taining 7200 square feet and being lot Mrs. Kalberg's during her life and at numbered Nineteen on said plan her death the property should all go as to Mrs. Rebecca Straffin. Here was a pretty pass. Straffin and

Rebecca had never been married. Indeed, he had never intended to marry her. About the time of Mr. Kalberg's death he had drifted away. Rebecca was cunning and resourceful, but she was not up to the correction of a legal flaw like this. She referred the matter to an attorney, confessing the truth to him, and he told her that since there was no such person as Rebecca Straffin the will counted for nothing. If she could find Straffin, marry him and get the certificate of marriage dated back even a day before the date of the will, she might thus secure the property, but this would be perpetrating a fraud, and it was sure to be found out.

Rebecca, hoping possibly to find a previous will leaving the property to her as Rebecca Muir, hunted the house contained in a certain mortgage over, and in the desk that had been deed given by Charles Peterson used exclusively by Kalberg she did to Elias A. Perkins, dated June 27th, find a previous will executed several 1893, and recorded with Norfolk years before the last one. But it left all the property, after Mrs. Kalberg's TO LET-House, 5 rooms, 27 Edwards death, to Rose Fales.

This was a double blow to Rebecca She had not only deprived herself of a fortune by her sin and the lie that accompanied it, but she had turned that and Lubec. For the return trip the all and singular the premises conveyed fortune over to the girl she had inby said mortgage and described there- jured. ### Entertainment By Life Saving Corps

An excellent program was present ed at the entertainment on Monday evening at Colonial hall in aid of th U. S. Volunteer Life Saving Corps Commodore Elmer H. Crooker of Station 4 of Boston presided, and briefly reviewed the establishment of life saving stations, spoke of the good work they were doing, and gave some

Later in the program there was an exhibition of the resuscitation of drowning person by Commodore Fos berg and a crew from the Spring street station. The commodore em phasized the need of first clearing the throat of the victim and keeping the tongue out; of rolling the body over the knee or barrel to get the water out; and then of persistent work to establish breathing, showing by subject how the arms should b moved and the chest pressed.

Very clever monologues were given by Mr. Clark who was down for two numbers and was recalled each time His work as an editor was greatly enjoyed, but not so much as his stump speech as a woman in favor of woman's suffrage.

Miss Bertha Marion Hope gave in all six readings, being encored each of the three times on the program All were so entertaining that the evening would have been complete

Mr. Drew's part of the program was pronounced "all right," introducing egerdemain, etc. He and Mr. Clark gave the final number, a very amusing General Superintendent William P road has returned from Providence where for the last three weeks he has been experimenting with his new en gine. Some defects in mechanical con struction were found, but generally speaking, his work was a complete suc cess. He succeeded in exploding the crude oil in the cylinder obtaining a maximum pressure of 800 lbs. per sq in. A maximum net average pressur (M. E. P.) of 125 lbs. was obtained on the piston. The fuel used was unrefined crude oil and the oil was exploded without the use of a spark or any of the devices used in any of the present type of gasolene engines. This is done by compressing a cylinder full of pure air to a pressure giving a temperature above the igniting point of the fuel and then blowing a spray of oil into the clear ance of the engine. The oil for each stroke was measured by a fuel pump. This engine promises to make a big change in marine propulsion for mer chant work. Atmospheric conditions have no effect upon the engine as it and there is no spark etc., with its possibitities for getting fouled, etc. Mr. Wentworth has, since his gradua original investigations, with result of obtaining the present engine. It is the intention of Mr. Wentworth to shortly organize the Wentworth Engineering

Co. to put this engine on the market.

Many Survivors of Georgia Disaster Still In Critical Condition

BEARING THEIR FATE NOBLY

Navy Department Thinks It Extremely Improbable That Accident Resulted From Carelessness or Lack of Precaution by Men 'n the Turret

Boston, July 17 .- The bodies of six of the victims of the explosion on board the battleship Georgia Monday have been claimed by relatives and hospital at Chelsea, two more bodies will be sent today, while the body of the ninth victim of the disaster, that of Seaman Edward F. Walsh, who died yesterday afternoon, is still at the naval hospital, where his life went out Walsh's mother and a brother of the seaman were with him when he died, and today his body will be taken to Lynn for interment.

Of the 12 brave lads who faced death in the turret of the battleship Georgia, and who now lay swathed in heavy bandages on their cots in the naval hospital, it is expected that Seamen James P. Thomas and Louis O. Meese may not survive the day. Five others are in a critical condition, with hopes that three of these may recover while the rest of the injured are well on the way to full recovery.

No word of complaint of criticism or of pain comes from one of the sufferers, but frequently from the burned and swollen lips come the noble question as to how "the other fellows" are getting along.

At the head of each cot in the nava hospital stands a bouquet of beautifu flowers sent by Admiral Yamamoto of the Japanese navy through his aide Lieutenant Commander Taniguchi Beautiful wreaths bearing the colors of Japan and the card of the Japanese ad miral were also placed on the remains of Lieutenant Goodrich and Midshipman Goldthwaite when their bodies were sent home. THE ATTEMPT TO KIDNAP

Daughter of Accused Man Tells of Exciting Events When Her Room Was Broken Into and She and Her Governess Were Assaulted

Dedham, Mass., July 17.-When Dorothy Straine took the witness stand in the district court yesterday the first detailed facts in the case of the government against Robert F. Straine and Anna F. Duncan, charged with assault and battery with intent to kidnap, came out crisp and coherent. Mme Blanc, the governess and companion of the 18-year-old girl, had told in a hurried, distracted way what had happened that night of June 19, when, it was alleged, the two defendants had broken into the house of Mrs. Hurd at Weilesley and attempted to lay violent hands on Dorothy Straine with the in ention of carrying her away by force. But when Miss Straine, calm enough in manner, but grimly determined stepped forward, was sworn and told the story in her own words, both government and defense knew just about where it stood. Before this several witnesses had testified, including the Clancy woman who kept the lodging house at 2 James street, Boston, where Straine intended it was claimed, to immolate his daugh ter; the carpenter who by bolts, bars and wires made the rooms fit for a prison; the chauffeur who took Straine Mrs. Duncan and a certain "John White" to the Hurd house late at night, and then became frightened and rai away, and Mme. Blanc herself.

After Miss Straine came one of the two Wellesley men who responded to the cries for help from the Hurd house the Wellesley policeman who entered the house and arrested Straine, and the statement by Attorney Plimton that the defense would offer no testimony. After that, a brief recess, arguments and the decision of Judge Grover to hold both defendants for the grand jury in $1000 bonds each, on the ground that probable cause for such action had Dorothy Straine, on the stand, stated that she was 18 years old, and had been a student at Dana hall, Wellesley, for the past five years. On the evening of June 19 she was among those participating in the graduating exercises at the hall. On returning to the home of Mrs. Hurd, where she oc cupied two rooms on the second floor. she took off her graduation dress and was fixing flowers in a vase when the doorbell rang twice. In neglige she decompany a lady to her home), and went to the door.

Mrs. Duncan slipped in, shut the door and stood backed against it. " 'Is this Miss Straine,' she asked. I said, 'No, it is not Miss Straine,' She said she had dreadful news from my father. and had been assured that I was in that house. I gave her Mr. Boyden's address (he is Miss Straine's co-guardian) and as she turned to go out an auto came up the driveway.

"I went upstairs to my rooms, and locked the door on the inside. Then I Blanc's and Mrs. Hurd's. Next I heard a crash, and a panel in my outer door was burst open. Mrs. Duncan slipped through the opening into the sitting room. I had retreated to the sewing room beyond. She entered this and exclaimed, 'I've got her!'

"Then she seized me from behind. put both hands over my mouth and drew my head back. She threw me flat on my back and placed her knee her to let me up, that I would talk to NORFOLK, ss. my father. I stood up, and said to him, through the broken door, 'Stand where you are and I will talk about whatever you wish.

"With that came another crash and the other panel went in. Then all were in the big room, Mrs. Blane was on the floor, my father with both hands around her throat, and I in the clutches of Mrs. Duncan. The next I knew two strange men rushed in and I asked them whether they were there to help me or to take me away. They said they were there to help me. I went to the window and screamed, I tried to loosen or cut the ropes which my father had tied around Mme. Blanc's wrists, and then the policeman came.

"Before him my father explained that he had planned to come out to see me on the 25th, but that he had to leave town the next day. So he had to that night, although he would not have done so had he known it was my graduation night. The policeman asked me if I court if he arrested him and I said that I would, because I was afraid of him. I feared him because of previous experiences."

The above testimony was the crux of the entire case. Mme. Blanc testified to even more threatening language. more violent acts, on the part of Straine and the Duncan woman.

Castellane Loses His Case

Story to Sidewalk Pavement Newport, R. I., July 17 .- Alex Anderson, 40 years old, jumped to his death from a fourth-story window of the

Perry house while a crowd in Washington square witnessed the insane act. Anderson first attracted attention by sitting in a precarious position on a window sil', more than 50 feet above the sidewalk. When hotel attendants went to his room they found it locked and heard its occupant shout that if the door was forced open he would jump to the street. A crowd had gathered by this time, many persons begging the man not to jump. Finally a hook and ladder truck and some firemen were called to effect a rescue. Just as the apparatus was in place, Anderson yelled to the crowd to "look out" and then jumped. He cleared the awning of the second floor and struck upon the sidewalk pavement. His arm and several ribs were broken and severe internal injuries were received. He was taken to a drug store for emer gency treatment and later removed to a hospital, where he died.

Anderson was a gardener. Lately he had been drinking heavily, and intoxication is said to have been responsible for his fatal rashness.

Men Swept From Running Board Boston, July 17 .- As a result of a street car accident in which a dump cart accidentally backed into an elec tric car six people were seriously in jured by being knocked off the running board. Joseph Joyce, who was driving the cart, claims his horses balked when he was attempting to unload sand on Dorchester avenue and backing, he struck the car. The men who were injured were standing on the running board and were swept off into the street.

Railway Clerks Not Satisfied

Boston, July 17.—An increase of and 10 cents a day which the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company has offered to its railway clerks, in reply to their complaint that their pay had not advanced proportionately to that of other departments, was decided upon by the clerks as not being a satisfactory disposition of the matter. ### Quincy Daily Ledger. BAD FOR THE WAGE EARNERS.

Judge Grosscup Says Municipal Ownership Would Lower Wages.

Government control and operation would also be found, I think, to have a disadvantageous effect upon the spe sial interest of the laboring man. Labor sometimes gets less than the enterprise employing can afford to pay, but labor never gets more, at least for any length of time, than the enterprise tan afford to pay. Lowered efficiency therefore means lowered wages. And public ownership always has been and always will be on this account attended by lower wages. The men who are motormen on the municipal street railways of Glasgow, for instance, get a little less than 13 cents an hour; the motormen of Chicago get from 21 to 24 cents an hour. The locomotive engineer of a German government railroad gets $50 per month; the American locomotive engineer makes easily three times that much. And through the whole schedule of wages paid by public and by private enterprises the same difference runs.

But there is still another side to this objection, what may be called its personal side, the effect of public ownership on organized labor. Much as labor organizations have been abused here and there by opposing interests and much as here and there labor organizations have abused their privileges, it is in labor organizations that the laboring man finds and will continue to find the source of bettered

Asking for higher wages the one man is unheard. But the many speaking as one make themselves heard. So that the labor organization is the laborers' industrial protector.

But the many speaking as one must have some one to whom to speak, some concrete party with whom to deal. Under government ownership that party would be the whole public. Let not the ready sympathy of the people for alleviative measures such as factory legislation and the like be given too wide a significance, for even there the task was long and hard, nor the readiness of the public to side in at times of labor strikes with the employees. In those situations the public is an outside party, not the other party. Until in some public controlled enterprise there is a demand by the employee for higher wages or changed conditions, some demand that will directly cost the public something in dollars and cents, the laboring man is without proof that the public can be more easily reached than private en-

Something in this line, however, we already know. Government servants. from the highest to the lowest, are the poorest paid people in America. Put. man for man, against corresponding grades in private enterprise, the president of the United States against the presidents of the great corporations, cabinet officers against the managers of corporation departments, postal clerks on the railways against express clerks, laborers against laborers, the advantage in every case is with the employee of the private enterprise. And this we know, too-that, th people at large will not listen to any proposition for increase of pay in the government service. Given then a private employer or the public as employer with whom to deal, the one a thousand times more accessible and infinitely prompter to reach results than the other, to my mind nothing is clearer than that employment by the public would be followed by a severe impairment of the influence and efficiency of It has done for its membership.-Hon. Peter S. Grosscup in American Maga-

Electric Lighting Plants Short Lived. During the past year the technical oress has recorded the breaking down of a large number of municipal electric light plants because the equipment was worn out. It is interesting to note that in a large majority of cases the necessity for abandoning or renewing the plant came at a period of from ten to fifteen years after it had been installed, showing that the deterioration by wear alone amounted to from 7 to 10 per cent a year. According to the municipal ownership advocates who claim that an allowance of 3 per cent for depreciation ls adequate, these plants should all have lived for thirty years, yet wearing out is only one of the forms of depreciation, and most of these plants had been hopelessly out of date before their breakdown occurred. Other cities may well take warning from the experience of these and make an allowance for maintenance and depreciation far in excess of the estimates of interested parties if they would avoid the thankless task of paythe stomach. He was given first aid ing for broken down plants out of the > Council Bluffs Rejects M. O. The city council has turned down the municipal ownership proposition in connection with the city waterworks plant and voted to grant a new franthise to the water company, whose franchise expired some months ago. The action was taken after a monster petition, signed by almost every business man in the city, had been presented to the council asking that the municipal proposition be killed .- Mu-being made in the cause of prison re form. Among those who were to speak was Julia Kennard, a lady who had been convicted of killing her uncle ame on to the platform, I picked her out at once by the lines of suffering on her face. I watched her closely, ques tioning myself as to her bearing if guilty. If innocent, she gave no clew She did not assume a brazen look or She changed her position often, as though it were an effort for her to face so many upturned faces. Could she do so at all, especially on a number of occasions, if she were a mur deress? I did not believe she could.

When she rose to speak, she looked out upon her audience much as any other woman would who had spoken and comparatively few men can make an address, especially an extemporane ous one. Miss Kennard spoke slowly distinctly, every word expressing that which it was intended to express, and what she said was of interest. Her voice was feminine, melodious and did not impress me unpleasantly, as the voices of women public speakers usually do. On the contrary, it won me. She was evidently a worker in the cause of prison reform and gave refew brief experiences of her own prisguilt or innocence or blame any one for what she had suffered. When she came to the close of her address, she said that she could not have faced us had she not felt that we were her friends. She had already won my sympathy. This last statement appealed to my reason. A guilty woman she spoke them. I went home and to bed, but not to sleep. That sad face was before me. I heard the sympathetic voice. A prison has always been a horror to me, and my mind was filled with pictures of this delicate woman stripped of the habiliments of refinement and clothed in prison garb, her wealth of hair cut, and, thus degraded, thrust mercilessly into a cell.

My resolution was taken. I must see Miss Kennard, must speak with her. know her. I found no trouble in making her acquaintance. She knew a number of people prominent in the work of prison reform, and I was introduced to her by one of these. I made an effort to establish between her and me such a friendship, intimacycall it love, if you will-that might have existed had it not been for her conviction of crime, her imprisonment. I signally failed. She was a thing Reservation." apart. All of an ordinary life for her had been lived before she had been held up to the world as accused of a criminal act. But one interest had any hold upon her-the amelioration of the condition of prisoners. She never spoke of her own case except in relation to this object. I waited to hear her mention some incident that tended to show her innocence, but no reference to the justice or injustice of her conviction ever came from her lips. One day I said to her:

"Let me hear from your own lips that a great mistake was made in your lights. case: that you were innocent of the charge of which you were convicted." She looked at me with a singular expression, an expression of negation. There was no sorrow in it more than the habitual sorrow that always clung to her. And she said: "Would you know any more than you know now?"

"Not by reason; by confidence." "A confidence dead as soon as born. No; were it possible for you to have that confidence you would never have asked me to speak the words. If I could inspire you with confidence today, tomorrow you would be considering the pros and cons in my case, whether this or that act of mine denoted guilt or innocence. There is but one secret I cannot impart to an individual or to the world-the secret you have asked of me."

I left her with, it seemed, an icy hand gripping at my heart. I burned to convince myself, the world, that she Then I would say, "Why, even could I do this I could not remove the stain. the notoriety, the brand of felony."

Then I made up my mind that I must choose a path that should not again cross hers. A lover debarred his love may tell it and the reason why he must resign the object of it. What was there for me to tell? Love? How can there be love without perfect con fidence? My reasons? What reason that she did not know? I loved, yet could not love her. I could love another man's wife and if necessary fight for her-make a criminal of myself for her-or I could love her and live innocent, treasuring my secret in my heart. But this woman on whose life a seal had been set-how could I love her? And yet there were times when I feared for my reason because I could not. Without adieu or farewell I ceased to visit her. I changed my residence. It seems that I have been touched by a leper and am set apart where I can

Gulf Stream Fruit.

The superiority of certain English fruits has its origin in a cause little suspected. It is the blessed gulf stream which does it. Foreign growers are every bit as acute as the English, it may be, but they have not the right atmosphere. The gulf stream imparts a beneficent humidity to our atmosphere which results in our fruit M. having the thinnest and finest skins of N. Y. any in the world. The English straw berry is without equal for flavor. The English grape, though it may not have the fine flavor of the Spanish, has the best skin. The French tomato is as thick skinned as the English field grown. The English apple eclipses its rivals because of its thin skin. Every

A London Fog.

Nothing has such a bewildering effect as fog. Only animals which find their way by scent can get about in it with any certainty. Birds are entirely confused by it. Tame pigeons remain all day motionless and half asleep, huddled up, either in or just outside their pigeon houses. Chickens remain motionless for hours during heavy fogs. No bird sings or utters a call, perhaps because it fears to betray its where abouts to an unseen foe. During one very thick fog a blind man was found wandering about a certain district of London. This man was in the habit of coming up every day from a suburb, carrying notes and parcels, and had scarcely ever lost his way before. Asked why he had gone astray (for he was quite blind, and it was supposed 199, Quincy. that weather would have made no difference), he said that in a fog the ground "sounded quite differently."-

Tracing the Bullet.

If a bullet to be fired by a marksman is coated with a fine paste of gunpowder and gum, says the Dundee Advertiser, and then with a thin covering of some friction powder, the latter, as the bullet passes out of the gun barrel, will ignite, and in turn set fire to the gunpowder paste. The bullet will then leave a long stream of smoke behind it, indicating the exact course it has taken and enabling the marksman, if necessary, to correct his aim for his next shot.

In the Sterling Combination, the High Gas Oven and Broiler are over the Range, occupying the space usually taken up by the High Warming Closet. The Three-burner Gas Attachment to the right of the Range is flush with the top, forming an End Shelf when not in use. It can be purchased without the other parts if desired.

The Independent G18 Water Heater can be used with or without any of the various Gas Combinations we make, being directly connected with the Water Front in the Range, furnishing sufficient hot water for a bath, washing dishes, etc., on short notice without heating up the house in summer time.

Funeral Tomorrow Of Seaman Burke

William Joseph Burke the Quincy oy killed on the battleship Georgia Monday is believed to be the sailor who sacrificed his own life to save the battleship from being blown up, and to be the hero whose name President Roosevelt is desirous to learn. When the bag of powder took fire shutter leading to the magazine not knowing that it was self closing The act of heroism however cost the ailor his life.

There are two stories told of the oung man by the sailors on the Georgia. One is that he rushed to close the shutter and the other that when he saw the burning powder that he threw himself upon it hoping in this way to extinguish the blaze. Instead of doing so he was horribly ourned and was one of the first to

The funeral of the young hero will be held Friday morning from St. Johns church at 9 o'clock and it is expected that aguard of honor will attend the services from the battle ships in the Navy yard. Many Acts of Heroism by Men of Battleship Georgia

STORY OF CAPTAIN M'CREA

Unknown Hero Sacrificed His Life to Preyent Far Greater Disaster Than Occurred -- Cause of Accident May Never Be Positively Established

Boston, July 18 .- On board the battleship Georgia, in Boston harbor, Captain McCrea told the story of the disaster in the after turret to The Asso ciated Press. He said

"I was on the bridge making the run for the practice. I was taking observations of each shot, not officially, but because I wanted to see how well they were shooting. As shot after shot was a hit from the eight-inch guns I saw we were beating the records of the other ships of this fleet, and I was enthusiastic. On the bridge I could hear the shout from the after turret, so knew when the next shot was coming. "I heard the shout 'fire,' but there was no shot, and then I saw men run ning aft, and quickly the fire hose, that is always laid out in readiness when there is firing going on, was manned. There was no delay; there was nothing to do but pick up the hose and turn on

"I rushed to the after bridge near the turret to see what was the matter. The water was already being poured into the turret, which was intensely overheated and throwing out deadly gases. In this way the temperature was reduced so that men could go in. "The boatswain and Midshipma: Gravescroft led the way for the men up to the top of the turret with the No man knew what had happened, and no man knew into what danger he might be rushing. But those men never thought of self or danger. They thought only of getting their shipmates out to safety. They then began to bring out the men. "One of the first men brought out was the man in whose hands the powder bag was when it flashed. He was laid down on top of the lower turret with a blanket under his head. I went to him. I could not recognize him. His hands were burned to the bones They were but skeletons. With these hands raised above his chest and the tips of the fingers bent toward each other in the attitude of prayer, I could God.' He could not move his lips enough to utter other words. I bent closer and said to him: 'My dear fel low, God has heard your prayer.' He

"And so the men were brought out the turret. But one, I think, was the river lost their lives while playing wholly conscious, and most of them on the logs. 'The cap was identified felt relief as soon as they got to the as the one worn by Henry Ham. The fellows had breathed in gases and flame. That's what kills. The external burns were hideous enough, but to breathe that stuff is fatal. "One man in the turret was not hurt, take out the men. He, too, showed grit after the shock he had had.

"Lieutenant Goodrich set an example to his men that none but a courageous officer could set when he plunged right into the flame and gases to lead his men to the air and to safety After he got onto the turret he came down the deck and threw himself overboard. If our launch had not been nearby on its return from examination of the target he would soon have drowned

"Probably one little act, or rather one great act, of one of the men prevented a far greater disaster. I don't know his name. He's dead. He died saving other lives. He and one other stood by the gun that had just been loaded. The last powder bag that had been put in was protruding a little from the gun. When he saw the flash instead of dashing for the ladder to save himself he crowded home the charge in the gun and with the help of the other man got the gun closed tight before the flame reached the bag.

"If the flame had touched that bag there would have been an awful explosion, for the powder was confined in the gun and would not have flashed as the other did, but would have exploded. Not a man in the turret would have been left alive, whatever other damage might have been done. That man gave his life for the others.

"I am told President Roosevelt has inquired about the man that gave his life in closing the shutter from the ammunition room to save the ship from blowing up. It would be very wrong to have a story like that go out, because I cannot find that there is any foundation for it or need for a man to make any attempt to do anything of He had been ill for eight weeks with the sort. If the presidents wants hero- a tropical fever he contracted in South ism let him look up this brave man who stood by his gun to save the rest.

"The cause of the accident perhaps can never be positively established. when he was 3 years old. The board of inquiry is made up of ex perts and they are doing everything in their power to gather in every fact available.

"I do not see how spontaneous combustion can be entertained as a theory, High water-5:15 a. m.; 6 p. m. for if it is we are in danger of being Partly cloudy weather is indicated for blown to kingdom come every minute. New England.

Now as to a spark getting onto the cover of the bag and igniting it, I can demonstrate by bringing a bag of the powder on the deck and putting a spark on it that it takes quite a time for such a spark to set the powder going. The powder is exposed to a spark in the turret less than four seconds. It is difficult to reconcile this with the spark

Among the men on the Georgia the spark theory is most generally be ieved, though part of the crew believes a cigaret caused the trouble in spite of the fact that there is sup posed to be no smoking in the turret. But nearly all believe that the cause will never be known positively.

Elks Don't Want Negroes Philadelphia, July 18.—The comlete and official returns of the election in the grand lodge of Elks show that John K. Tener of Charleroi, Pa., was elected grand exalted ruler. The Memphis lodge was authorized to prosecute the negro Elks of that city. In this connection a resolution was passed reprimanding the Newark, N. Steamer Destroyed by Fire Savannah, Ga., July 18.—The big coastwise steamer Alleghany caught fire as that vessel was passing Tybes and is a complete loss. All of the passengers aboard were miraculously saved. Acting under the directions of the captain and crew of the burning vessel, the men and women assembled on the deck of the steamer and were transferred aboard a government dredge and brought to this city. The Alleghany left this port last evening and was on her regular trip to Philadel

As to Limitation of Armaments London, July 18 .- Replying to deputation from the Interparliamentary union, who presented resolutions in regard to the limitation of armaments, Premier Campbell-Bannerman said that it was a matter of regret that this question would not occupy a more advanced position in the deliberations at The Hague. It might be that the ut most that could be done on this occa sion would be to reaffirm the former resolutions and keep the flag flying.

College Clubhouse Planned

New York, July 18 .- A movement is on foot among the alumni of Brown Dartmouth, Amherst, Williams and Wesleyan colleges and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in this city to erect a large union clubhouse for the graduates of those colleges in New York. The plan is to build a club house of eight or nine stories, the hower floors to be for general use, while one floor will be devoted to the exclusive use of each college.

EVIDENCE IS ALL IN

Haywood Is Ready to Rest His Case With the Jury

EVIDENCE NOT GERMANE

Court Gives Opinion on Points Which Will Be Argued by Both Sides-Trial to End Next Week--Perjury Hints by the Defense

Boise, Ida., July 18 .- William Haywood, through his counsel, today will probably rest his case with the jury, as far as evidence is concerned. Possibly some witnesses will be called in surrebuttal, but Haywood's counsel announce that the case may close without further evidence. Argument is expected tomorrow and the last stage of the trial will begin.

After dismissing the jury yesterday afternoon Judge Wood stated that in his opinion evidence introduced by the defense to prove a conspiracy on the part of the mineowners, by showing the deportation of union miners from the Cripple Creek region of Colorado during the strikes of 1903 and 1904, was not material to the issue involved and should not be submitted to the jury On the other hand, he said, the showing by the state that Steve Adams was concerned in the killing of two men in the Couer d'Alene region of Idaho did not appear to the court to be germane, and should be eliminated. He announced, however, that the court would hear argument today on these points. Further, the court asked that requests for instructions be submitted at once and arguments on these instructions may be expected today.

Another announcement by the court was the determination to conclude the case within the next week. Judge Wood said he would hold three two hour sessions daily during the arguments. E. F. Richardson protested against this, but he met with no encouragement

The last day of the state's case opened with the statement by Richardson that he desired the court to order D. C. Scott, William Dewey and J. O. Routan, witnesses who have testified in rebuttal for the state, "to remain within the jurisdiction of the court This was afterwards explained, on the ground that counsel for the defense was considering the advisability of charging state witnesses with perjury. Nothing was done during the day, how ever, and late last night Mr. Darrow said it was doubtful whether any such steps would be taken.

The state called only two witnesses in rebuttal yesterday. They were from Colorado, and gave accounts of the conditions existing around the At the last moment the prosecution decided not to call mineowners or Pinkerton detectives. As a result of this decision a number of witnesses will not be heard.

In Honor of Harvard's Founder Southwark, Eng., July 18 .- The bishop of Southwark last evening dedicated the chapel of Southwark cathedral, where John Harvard, the founder of Harvard university at Cambridge, Mass., was baptized, which has been restored by the graduates and friends of Harvard. A fund of $12,500 was raised and the work of restoration undertaken last year. Spectators Got Their Money's Worth New York, July 18.—Balloonist W. A. Meeker was engaged to make an ascent and parachute drop at a Harlem river picnic. Meeker not only went up 2000 feet, but when his parachute attachment failed to work his jabbed holes in the hot air bag and made a descent that startled the spectators. Missing a ducking by good luck, the balloonist made a flying jump and landed himself on Willis avenue bridge practically unharmed.

Korean Emperor Will Not Be Long on the Throne

ANCIENT EMPIRE'S END NEAR

To Come Wholly and Entirely Under the Sway of Japanese--American Interests Not Likely to Be Adversely Affected by the Change

Seoul, July 18 .- Following a cabinet meeting which lasted four hours, the premier had an audience with the em peror, continuing for three hours. The premier made a strongly worded representation of the gravity of the situation caused by the emperor sending a delegate to the peace conference at The Hague. He boldly pointed out the necessity for the emperor's abdication and of his proceeding to Tokio and apologizing to the Emperor of Japan.

The request made by the premier of Korea that the emperor abdicate apparently is the beginning of the end of this ancient empire and the inaugura tion of a closer control by Japan than that which she has exercised since the treaty of Portsmouth recognized her predominant influence in the Hermit Kingdom as one of the fruits of her victory over Russia.

For a long period Korea was under he suzerainty of China, but in 1894-5 Japan drove China out of the peninsula and Korea enjoyed a brief period of independence. In 1904 Japan stepped into Korean affairs with assurance of safety, independence and territorial integrity, but since that year the Japanese influence has grown in extent and power until finally today Korea faces. Splendidly situated and bringing in a good income, and at the prices put in the abdication of the present emperor, the final extinction of her last claims to recognition as an independent With the present increasing rents, and advancing prices of building state, for the installation of a nominal material and labor, don't you think it about time you acknowledged the emperor, selected by the statesmen of Japan, seems to indicate that Korea is to come wholly and entirely under the sway of the Japanese.

There are four aspirants to the Korean throne. The crown prince is regarded as incompetent. Prince Pak Yun Ho, who is supposed to be supported by Marquis Ito and who recenty has been brought back from exile, pro-Japanese, as is Prince Yi Cheung Yong, another exile. Prince Ewa, another candidate, is considered to be a protege of the Japanese.

The Emperor of Korea is 56 years old He was called to the throne in 1864. He was married at the age of 15 to the Princess Min. a Korean woman of noble birth of the same age as her husband She was assassinated in 1895. The son of this union is the crown prince.

Ito Is Called Upon

Korea has sent for Marquis Ito. It is the roughest spots on the coast. believed that a final decision on the request for the emperor's abdication will be arrived at this evening. The report from Seoul that the emperor attempted to seek refuge in a certain consulate is officially discredited, but it is thought that evidently intriguers are at work on a plan to remove the emperor from the palace. A rumor that the emperor has privately ordered the palace guard. 100 strong, to shoot any suspicions persons, is causing dismay to those not concerned in the plot.

Japan Forcing Abdication

Washington, July 18 .- When the over the direction of the foreign relations of Korea official notice of that fact to the Washington government was followed by the immediate withdrawal from this capital of the Korean legation. It was realized then that this was probably the beginning of the end of Korean independence and that the control by Japan of the foreign relations of Korea would in the not distant future broaden into complete omination of the kingdom.

The understanding here is that the Korean premier, in demanding the abdication of the emperor, was, of course, acting under pressure from Japan and that Japan in turn found legal warrant for such action in the friends" is known, until July 29. fact that through the dispatch of the Korean delegation to The Hague conference the Emperor of Korea had violated that part of the agreement entered into by his ministers, under which Japan was to absolutely control the external relations of Korea.

It is not seen here how American interests can be adversely affected by what has taken place in Korea, for it is assumed that Japan will continue all property concessions which Americans possess there in the event that she comes into control of the country.

No Surprise at London

London, July 18.-The abdication of the Emperor of Korea would cause no surprise here. Matters have been drifting in that direction ever since the Japanese occupation of that country The mission of Viscount Hayashi, the Japanese foreign minister, who left Tokio Monday for Seoul, seems to point to a decision on the part of Japan to secure the deposition of the emperor and assume the entire control of the MacLane "Escapes" From Raisuli Tangier, July 18 .- Caid Sir Harry MacLean has succeeded in escaping from the hands of the bandit Raisuli. It is suggested that Raisuli connived in the escape of the caid as the best way out of a difficult situation.

NOT YET IN THE FIGHT

Democrats Question Moran's Ability to Support Carroll Boom Boston, July 18 .- The Post says

Can John B. Moran make good his promises supposed to have been made to James B. Carroll of Springfield? This is the question which some of the Democratic leaders, not only in Boston, but throughout the state, are asking each other at this time, when Car roll is making up his mind as to wheth er or not he will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor. Many of the big chiefs of the party in Boston say that even if Carroll doe consent to run, Moran will have a jol to deliver any votes in Suffolk in view of the fact that there are two Bosto men, Whitney and Bartlett, fighting for The district attorney's visit here, it is said, was to interest some of the Boston leaders in support of the candi dacy of Carroll. So far as known the only leader that he as yet has seen is Grenville S. MacFarland, who has bolted the Democratic party and gone over to the Independence League. Nei ther of them will say just what the result of the conference was.

Two College Men Missing Brunswick, Me., July 18.-Eithe drowned near the mouth of the Kennebec river or blown to sea in the recent severe storm with little chance of being picked up by passing boats and saved from a lingering death, is supposed t be the fate of Richard A. Lee and Joh F. Morrison. Both are prominen Bowdoin college students. More than a week ago the two, who are not very familiar with the handling of sailing craft, left Mere point for a cruise to Christmas cove in a sloop.

Death In Trail of Heat

Boston, July 18 .- An exceedingly high humidity, combined with a ten perature of 92 degrees, made yesterda the most uncomfortable and oppressiv day of the summer. Boston sweltered all day long, with the humidity at 81 11 above normal, and not until a thun der shower cleared the atmospher somewhat during the early evening wa there any relief. One death and near ly a dozen prostrations were recorde in the city as the result of the heat

Two Explosions and Fire Boston, July 18 .- A threatening fire in the Charlestown district early today caused considerable alarm to the fire men and was finally extinguished af ter property valued at $30,000 had been destroyed. The fire was in skate factory, and is believed to have originated in a chemical manufacturin establishment which occupied a portion of the building. There were two ex

The Observations In the Daily Walk

The South Quincys and Holbrooks meet Saturday on the Ward Three play-

Theta Sigma of the Downs spent their weekly meeting Wednesday evening on the Charles.

Miss Grace Thompson of Portland, Maine, is visiting her brother, of Elm avenue. Park. A coupon for admission to the Sea street theatre will appear in the Daily Ledger next Tuesday. Souvenir postals have been received from ex-Councilman Aubrey R. Keith, who is on a trip to Mexico. Mrs. Sarah Davison of Applegate, California, is a guest of her sister, Mrs.

James Curtin of Atlantic street Miss Bina Witherell of West Elm ave-

street are visiting relatives at Oak Bluff. Carpenters should secure some bargains on Saturday at the sale of the personal property of the late Julius John-Seven trips a day are made by the Steamer Comet between Houghs Neck and Nantasket Point, and nine trips on Miss Maud and Miss Margaret Read of Squantum street are spending a week at their father's summer cottage in New Truant Officer C. H. Johnson issues the labor certificate for the summer and is office is crowded evenings with applicants; most of them going to work at the Fore River Co. An adjourned meeting of the City Council will be held tomorrow evening. Public hearings will be held on changing the grade of Beach street and on acceptance of Webster street. About one o'clock this morning a train backing in to the South Terminal station got such momentum that the rear end ran up over the walk and concrete and even hit the cigar booth and gave it quite a tilt before the brakes worked to control the train.

Auctioneer Johnson had a large crowd at the sale of the Ambler & Hobart Grain Co., at East Braintree, on Wednesday. Good prices and a ready sale for the goods were realized. This sale and that of the South Shore Grain Co. were two of the largest auction sales held in this vicinity for some time, and the receiver of said company was well pleased with the way in which they were managed by C. H. Johnson.

In the semi-finals for the fifth annual championship of the Press Golf Club of New England, today at the links of the Wollaston Golf Club in Montclair, Ralph Cracknell of the Globe, will meet R. C. Van Amringe of the Transcript, and E. T. Manson of the Herald, will try conclusions with M. Meeham of the Concord (N. H.) Patriot.

Barnato Won the Bet.

There is a legend of an anusing competition in connection with a discussion regarding the financial value of literary genius. Barney Barnato, who was a genius, but not literary, began to chaff some financial journalists. "You bloomin' fellers don't know nothin' about literature. I'll Long term rates furnished on applicaback myself to write a little piece against any of yer."

The challenge was laughingly accepted, and a referee appointed. The papers were thrown into a hat, and the referee, after analyzing them, said: 'Gentlemen, I am bound to say that the palm must be awarded to Mr. Barnato. His piece is terse, faultless in form, irreproachable in matter.
You yourselves shall judge." And he road, out the following essay:

Your mother in-law is lyin' asleep in the third story back, and knowin' your regard for her comfort, sir, I wasn't sure whether I ought to disturb her or not, sir." Los Angeles Times.

Which Is Your Shortest Hour? "What is your shortest hour in the N.Y. day?" asked a business man of an ac quaintance. "Don't say you have none. You have, although you may not reckoned by actual measurement, each notwithstanding that chronological exactness the hours vary in length. My shortest hour is from 2 to 3 o'clock in the afternoon. I find upon inquiry that this is the fleetest period for many people. In my case so swiftly do those sixty, minutes hurry by that I try to crowd into them as many of the disagreeable, yet inevitable, things of life as I possibly can. If I have to interview a bore, I see him then; then. That hour is bound to slip away quickly, no matter what happens therefore the agony of disagreeable scenes seems of shorter duration."

Legend of the Violet.

A Latin poem of the sixteenth century has a pretty legend of a violet that, in mythological days, was a maiden called Ianthis, one of Diana's nymphs. She attracted the attention of Apollo, whose admiration she did not return, and, flying from his pursuit, she implored Diana to destroy the beauty which occasioned her so much trouble. Diana granted her request and turned her face to a dull purple. Ianthis, however, soon regretted the loss of her beauty and was pining had pity on her and changed her into a flower, which still shrinks from Apollo (the sun) and hides her modest head in the shade.

At Regular Rates. Miss Matilda Owens hung on the arm of the editor of the Laneville Bugle, to whom she had been engaged for three years, and endeavored to turn his gaze toward the sky. "Just notice the moon, William!" she said in a melting voice.

Granite Plant of McDonnell & Sons Damaged $4,000 By Fire Last Night

An alarm from Box 41 at 10.35 'clock last night, followed a few minites later by a second alarm from the ame box, summoned a good part of he fire department to a fierce fire in McDonnell & Sons stone sheds on Quarry street. The fire made a bright illumination which could be seen for miles and before the second alarm sounded it vas evident that a brisk blaze was progress. It sent a large crowd urrying toward the fire.

The fire was discovered by Charles Pahlborn of 17 Quarry street. At hat time there was but a slight blaze hole structure was on fire.

The south easterly section conand a cutting shed, and the northasterly section a blacksmith shop and cutting sheds. It was in the atter section that the fire was locat-

When the first piece of apparatus rrived it was seen that there was work for the firemen ahead. Chie Litchfield saw that prompt work was necessary to save any part of the lant, and the second alarm was ordered. This brought the Quincy Point and Wollaston apparatus and caused the Atlantic company to move up to Wollaston quarters. Fortunately, however the extra apparatus was not from the Quarry and Garfield street sides and by hard work the fire was got under control before 11 o'clock, although it was half an hour later before the all-out was sounded.

There was considerable finished and infinished granite in the yard and sheds, which heat and water ruined. This brings the loss up considerable higher than it would otherwise have een. Chief Litchfield estimates the oss at $4,000. The fire probably started from the furnace in the placksmith shop.

Pretty Wedding At Norfolk Downs

The home of Mr. and Mrs. George

Thomas, at 10 Moscoe street, Norfolk Downs, was on Wednesday last the scene of a very pretty wedding, the contracting parties being their son Herbert, and Miss May Oram, formerly of Wollaston. The bride, who by the way is a very pretty girl and most Thomas a sister of the groom, as bridesmaid, while ex-Councilman Moin of Ward Six attended the groom. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. A. Edwin Clattenberg of St. Chrysostom's church, Wollaston. Guests from Boston, Lynn, Swampscott Beverly and Brockton were present. After the reception at which they were assisted in receiving by the parents of the groom a collation was served. The happy couple left on the Steamer Prince George for a month's tour of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward's Island. They were greeted HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS at the wharf by many of their friends who had preceded them and were compelled to hold an impromptu reception. Just before the steamer left the pier they were showered with the usual complement of rice, confetti, Provincetown, July 1, 1907. Editors of Daily Ledger: My wife and I have been sojournng in the land of the Pilgrim Fathers this summer, with our oldest daughte. Mrs. Spear and family at Province town and Mrs. Curtis and family at South Plymouth. I have spent many hours in the waters and along the beautiful shores of this wondrous freak of nature, Cape Cod Bay. It is sublime; it is wonderful; how this strip of sand formed like a sickle holds all this tremendous sheet of water on either side as in the hollow of its hand; often raising its white caps mountain high, frowning and dashing against this wall of sand as hough it was bound to break through, so that the Atlantic and Long Island sound may join hands with Cape Cod Bay. But no matter how hard it kicks, the everlasting wall of sand says, thus far and no further

The Pilgrims did not stay long a Provincetown, because they found that they could not live long on sand and fish. More than that they were here to found an empire where they could worship God according to their own conscience, what they could not do in old England under James the first. So I saw them again getting ready to leave this barren spot.

They found that the little boa they brought with them was not seaworthy, so it took sixteen days to repair it, now they are ready, but the hard winter began to show it teeth. Argument Between Opposing Counsel In the Haywood Case

Copy for changes of advertisements JURY ABSENT FROM COURT

Defense Bitterly Assails Orchard and the Pinkertons In Effort to Show Counter-Conspiracy--The Prosecution Argues Legality of Admissibility of Certain Evidence

Boise, Ida., July 19 .- Argument on the admissibility of points of evidence yesterday followed announcement from the defense that it had no further witnesses to offer in behalf of William D. Haywood, charged with murdering Frank Steunenberg. The jury was not brought into court, Judge Wood having been informed by counsel of their decision to rest without offer of sur-rebuttal. Mr. Darrow spoke for an hour and a half of the morning session. Mr. Borah replied in the afternoon and was followed by E. F. Richardson. Judge Wood will probably announce his decision today.

The point argued was the proposal to exclude from consideration by the jury the evidence offered by the defense to show by proof of deportation of miners from, and the employment of detectives in the Cripple Creek region of Colorado, that a conspiracy was formed among the mineowners and the citizens of the region to prevent the employment of members of the Western Federation of Miners.

The position taken by the Haywood defense was that Harry Orchard was employed by the Mineowners' associa tion, through detectives, to commit crimes which were then charged to the federation to arouse public opinion against the union workers, and it there fore followed that if Colorado evidence for the state was admitted, the defense had the right to show a counter-con-

The reply of the state was that the defense had failed legally to connect their case in the particulars, and therefore the evidence merely confused the

In the absence of the jury the argument gave counsel an opportunity to take a wide range in commenting on the methods employed by both sides. Darrow was impassioned and vituperative. He bitterly assailed Orchard and the Pinkertons. He maintained that Orchard's story, connecting Haywood and the Western Federation of Miners chard confessed, had not been corrobo rated; that the Vindicator mine explosion was an accident; that the Independence station explosion, where 14 men were killed, was planned by K. C. Sterling and D. C. Scott, railroad d tectives, and that the Pinkertons sent men into the region to join the unions and incite the members to riot and disorder. Incidentally, he said, the Bradley incident in San Francisco was due to an explosion of gases shown by the evidence for the defense, and that Haywood had not been connected at any point with any of the overt acts confessed to by Orchard except by the discredited testimony of Orchard him-

Mr. Borah confined himself largely to the legality of the question of admis sibility. He forcefully reviewed the evidence and assertions made by the defense, which, he said, failed to show that any conspiracy between the Mineowners' association and the Pinkertons existed. He took the position and quoted authorities to show that a conspiracy can only be considered after the introduction of direct evidence of a

CONSIDERED AS SISTERS

Spain Would Aid In Development of Latin-American Nations

The Hague, July 19 .- At the peace conference yesterday Spain made a declaration which attracted much attention as revealing the desire of the of moral tutelage over the Latin-American countries.

Spain's declaration says that that country adheres to the principles of moderation which inspired the American proposition, limiting force for the collection of public debts-these being the principles that the government and the king have followed and will alway:

"Spain sees today," says the declaration, "as an accomplished fact what she has ardently desired since the last conference, namely, the presence at The Hague of the representatives of the Latin-American nations, which are sisters of ours in language and in race Spain is disposed to accept every prop osition tending within the limits of in ternational law to facilitate the legiti mate and peaceful development of the Spanish-American republics. The doctrine just enunciated by its illustrious author, Dr. Drago, was not included in the program; therefore, it could not obtain our support, but as an earnest protest against possible wrong from the use of force it deserves all sym-

Not Enough of the Army

Washington, July 19 .- "There is something wrong with the army," said General Bell, chief of staff, in a western speech recently, and that statement is being echoed in various bu reaus of the war department. There are different explanations advanced for that disquieting criticism, but the weight of opinion at the war department is that Secretary Taft summed up the case when he remarked that the trouble with the army was that there was not enough of it.

Deported by Nicaraguans

Panama, July 19 .- Mrs. Emiliano Chamorro, wife of the leader of the last revolution against President Zelaya. has arrived here. On landing in Nic aragua, she declares, she was impris oned and remained eight days confined with the common prisoners, during which time an earthquake occurred and parts of the walls of the prison fell in. Finally, although nothing was found against her, she was deported by the first steamer without being allowed to see her family.

American Dories the Best

Shelburne, N. S., July 19 .- The three American dories lifted the Lovitt-Wagner cup for international dory racing by finishing ahead of the Canadian representatives and making a clean sweep of the three days' racing. The American representatives have proved their superiority in light or heavy winds. The American boats also swept the board of the extra prizes, three cups going to the boats making the best percentage of points in the three days' racing.

A NEW ERA IN KOREA

RESIGNATION OF HIS CABINET

A number of Koreans, calling themselves elder statesmen of Korea, have sent a long letter to Ito, intimating that the Japanese would receive their support in fair dealing toward the emperor, but, failing that, they would die a martyr's death and that the whole nation would do likewise. They denied that the court was implicated in the sending of the delegation to The Hague.

The emperor's abdication will most likely be followed by the calling of a new convention which, while keeping Korea's national existence intact, will limit the sovereign power in some form whereby the ruler can exercise his powers only with the consent and approval of the Japanese resident general. The cabinet ministers, including the

the Accident Shows That Shooting Ability Is Unimpaired--Hope For Men Who Are Critically Injured

Boston, July 19 .- Announcement is made from Washington that the nava court of inquiry in the case of the explosion on the Georgia will find that the accident resulted from a "flare back," meaning that when the breech of the eight-inch gun was thrown open after it had been discharged some shreds of burning cloth or unconsumed gas were driven into the turret and upon the powder about to be inserted for the

It is believed that a board of experts will be convened to look into the subject and formulate regulations that ing again. It is possible that it may be necessary to work the big guns slower to safeguard their crews, whether at target practice or in action. That the Georgia's men have been in no way frightened by the terrible acci dent is shown by the fine record they made the following day. The score was 4.27 out of a possible 5 with her sixinch guns-a very high score, which proved that the men were not in the least "gun shy" after the terrible accident of the previous day in the after

AS STUBBORN CHILD

Young Woman of 220 Pounds 's Arraigned In Court and Freed Worcester, Mass., July 19.-Worcester has the champion heavyweight "stubborn child." Her name is Mary M. Davis. She is colored and weighs 220 pounds. Judge Utley leaned over the desk and rubbed his eyes when Mary was called to the stand, charged with being a stubborn child.

Mary looks every ounce of her 220 pounds. She told the court that she was 19 years of age. Her father, Samuel C. Davis, appeared against her and Score Made on the Georgia Since testified that his little girl would not stay at home. Mary told the court that it was not her fault that she was obliged to leave home, as her mother had ordered her to leave. "There isn't room enough in the house for me," she added plaintively.

Mary said she left her father's house and went to live with her aunt in a larger flat. She said she had stayed there ever since. The court took another look at Mary and decided that the larger flat was the thing for her. She left the courtroom a free child.

Much Suffering From the Heat Boston, July 19.-With the temperature and humidity both exceeding that of Wednesday, Boston experienced

The four lightships building at the method of advising ship captains of their approach to the danger zone. In such cases, the electric bell is hung from the triped set on the bottom of the sea on the edge of the shoal at the required point, and this bell is struck by a mechanism operated by a current of electricity conveyed through a cable from the signal station on shore. Such a station at Point Allerton, is operated through cables more than two miles long. The bell strikes any code that is desired and the sound travels through the water so that vessels from five to 10 miles away hear the bell and get directions accurately in a fog or at night when equipped with the receiving apparatus. Perhaps the most important topic of conversation in the yard these days is not surprising that this young hero should do as he did, for all who knew him and worked with him, are united in asserting that it was characteristic of him to always do things for others if he could. And also that in his work, he had the way of looking ahead and knowing just what he had to do before he started on it. All are agreed that a better boy never entered the yard. He was courteous, obliging and willing to do all he could to help those around be comforted by the unanimous feeling of good will felt by everyone in the yard who knew him well.

MILTON.

James Sweeney, assistant postmaster of the East Milton station, is attending the Elks convention in Philadelphia this week. He will have much to talk about when he returns. The regular meetings of the Thursday Evening club have been postponed until fall. John Gallagher of Adams street has joined the ranks of the automo bile enthusiasts. The Congregational church held its annual picnic this week at Nantasket.

The firemen have commenced their vacations. Each of the permanent men is given two weeks.

East Milton people will be glad to learn that with the completion of the new trackage in Quincy that twentyminutes service will be inaugurated between East Milton and Quincy.

In most places when a man is arrested for drunkenness he is released by the keeper of the police station the following morning upon signing a statement. Not so with Milton, however, for a man arrested by one of its officers has to go to court the next morning. If the court release him all well and good.

New Bill.

The Sea Street Theatre has again changed its program. Tommy Martin, the Roxbury tenor, who has made a great hit here, will sing the beautiful Irish ballad, "Where the River Shannon flows." Madge Cavanaugh will sing, 'If the man in the moon were a coon.' The new pictures are: "A Servant's Revenge," "The Widow and the Only Man," "The Stolen Pig" and "The Clowns and the Statue.'

Granite Shipments.

Returns from the two shipping erminals for the month of June show that the amount of rough and finished granite shipped that month was no quite as much as on the previous month. #### Fell from Wharf.

Vernon L. Corprew, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Corprew, had a narrow escape from drowning on Thursday at a spot near Bakers Basin, when the tide was highest. While at play she tumbled from the wharf. By chance she fell near a large rock and had the forethought to cling to it until friendly hands drew her from her perilous position. As it was, the only loss was a pair of shoes. Miss Vernon, who is but 6 years old, is a general favorite with the neighbors, and her father and mother were kept busy all the evening greeting the many who called to congratulate them.

Court Bars Evidence as to Conspiracy of Mineowners

NO FOUNDATION WAS LAID

Prosecution Starts Legal Oratory In , Battle For Haywood's Life--Orchard's Story Declared to Have Been Corroborated In Every Detail

Boise, Ida., July 20 .- Field for argument, both for the prosecution and defense in the trial of William D. Haywood, was limited yesterday by Judge Wood, who removed from consideration of the jury all evidence bearing on the alleged conspiracy by mineowners and others against the Western Federation of Miners.

Judge Wood decided that the defense had made no legal connection of the Mineowners' association, the Citizens' Alliance of Colorado and the Pinkerton detective agency, as laying a foundation for the evidence introduced by the defense to show that the charge against Haywood and his co-defendants is the outcome of a conspiracy to exterminate the federation.

Immediately following this decision argument began. Attorney Hawley. leading counsel for the state, spoke for two hours and a quarter in the aftermoon, the morning session having been adjourned to enable the judge to prepare his decision.

Mr. Hawley, who has been ill for several days as the result of the strain of the long trial, began his address in a voice almost inaudible to any one except the jurors. Warming to his subject his voice lost all trace of weakness. His address after the opening statement, in which he explained that he had "none of the grace of words that constitute an orator," was at times eloquently impassioned, but withal a plain analysis of the case. He characterized the case as "the most important ever given to a jury in the United States," and urged the jury to a serious consideration of the responsibility placed on them. His denunciation of the defendant and his co-conspirators as the "worst band of criminals that ever infested any section of this country" was forceful, and his eulogy of former Governor Steunenberg was eloquent.

Mr. Hawley described Orchard's story as truthful not only because of the manner in which it was told, but because it had been corroborated in every important detail. When he found reason for the confession in the conscience of the criminal, stirred by memories of a happy boyhood in a virtuous home, there was a waver of emotion in the pleader's voice and more than a suspicion of tears among the Counsel for the defense repeatedly interrupted Hawley with protests and objections, but these only seemed to stir Hawley to greater effort. Twice he Brayton was formally released from turned to Mr. Darrow and faced him with a roar of anger, and at another time he said: "It does not lie in the mouth of counsel to find excuse for these awful crimes."

Mr. Hawley concluded with the statement that already he had shown enough to convict, and that any jury- central committee and of the Republi man not willing to convict on the evidence connecting the conspirators with the blowing up of the Bunker Hill and Sullivan concentrator in 1899 and the explosion at the Vindicator mine in 1903 alone "sought only to rid himself of an unpleasant duty to his state."

Mr. Hawley will continue his argument today. Judge Wood has told counsel for the defense that he expects at $3776 and his assets at $1. Nearly argument for their side to begin on all the members of the company are Monday.

How American Shipping Has Dwindled In Fifty Years

NEED OF A SUBSIDY SYSTEM

Over 91 Percent of Our Foreign Commerce Carried In Foreign Bottoms Today--Sharp German Tactics Rounded Up

when a large majority of the foreign commerce of the United States was carried in American ships. Today less than 10 percent of our foreign commerce goes abroad in ships of the United States, while over 90 percent of it is carried by ships subsidized by other governments, in competition with American ships which receive no considerable subsidy.

In 1861 our own ships carried 65 percent of our foreign commerce. In 1846 American ships carried nearly 82 percent of foreign commerce, while in 1831 American ships carried 85.5 percent of our foreign commerce. Our showing in 1826 was even better, for 92.5 percent of our foreign commerce was, in that year, carried in American bottoms, owns 161 German steamers and has a and in the preceding year 92.3 percent. Today a little over 8 percent of our foreign commerce is handled in American bottoms.

There was a time when Salem and Boston were great ship building centres and some of the finest ships ever turned out slid down the ways from these places. In those days the fame of Yankee ships was world wide. The American flag was seen in every important port of the civilized world. Ou merchants brought goods to Boston in ships of their own from all rich centres of traffic everywhere. Yankee adventure and Yankee thrift penetrated to every quarter of the globe and the foundations of hundreds of princely fortunes were laid in Boston at that

For several years strenuous efforts have been made by patriotic citizens in the east to furnish a stimulus for our American capital to embark in the shipping business over-seas, but thus far all these efforts have been fruitless. Congress has been importuned to pass laws for a system of ship subsidy that would once more build up American shipping between the Atlantic seaboard and Europe, as well as South America, and several times this effort has seemed ready to bear fruit, but in the end such legislation has been defeated, and our merchants and manufacturers are still dependent upon foreign steamship lines almost entirely for marketing their goods abroad.

Subsidy Bill Killed In Senate In the last congress an effort was made to subsidize several steamship converted into auxiliary cruisers and lines to South American and other ports, in order that our manufacturers might not be dependant upon foreign lines to carry their goods to the markets of Europe. This measure passed the house by a good majority, having the support of a number of Democrats, but in the senate it was defeated at the close of the session by filibustering methods, employed by southern Demo-

Since congress adjourned one of the first fruits of the parsimony of congress has become apparent in the abandonment of the American Oceanic line to Australasia. This line furnished the swiftest and most efficient service entering the South seas, and at the same time it was the worst paid, under the niggardly system adopted by this country 50 years ago and continued today. The Oceanic company ran three steamers of 6000 tons burden from San Francisco to Auckland and Syd ney, a distance of 7210 miles, and under the law of 1891 received $16,659 a voy age. The German nation subsidizes the North German Lloyd line to the amount of $41,604 a voyage for steamers that are required to make only 131/2 knots; France pays $47,814 a voyage for a 14-knot service to the same port. The American ships were compelled to make 15 knots an hour. Their owners asked congress to increase their compensation to $26,000 a voyage so that they might be at least on even terms with their European competitors. The senate granted this request. The house by a majority of 19 refused it although the company had given notice that a refusal would strike the death blow of that line.

There was a time when the American flag, flying from the masthead of American ships, was seen in every port in the world. Now the Stars and Stripes which formerly flew over the only American line to Australasia, has vanished from the ocean. In a few years, at the present rate of progress in the decay of our merchant fleet, the American flag will fly over no ships except those engaged in the coastwise service and to the Philippines, Hawaki and Porto Rico. For a nation which stands pre-eminent among the great nations of the earth in nearly every other respect, the United States presents a sorry spectacle in regard to its foreign skipping. The postmaster general of the United States has announced to American business men that they no longer have a direct mail service to Australasian markets and that their letters and they themselves, when they travel, must go by a circuitous route and in ships of foreign countries. What a commentary upon the supreme folly of congress! In the four years before the Oceanic line was maugurated our exports to Australasia were valued at $79,000,000. In the four years after ward, ending with 1904, they were valued at $118,000,000, an increase almost wholly due to this direct mail, passenger and freight service, which made communication, as well as freight carriage, swift and sure.

Mendacious Tactics of Germans The rapacity of some foreign steam ship lines is shown in a recent order of the interstate commerce commission during an inquiry into the charge that a great-German shipping concern, the Hamburg-American Packet company, is maintaining monopolles in restraint of trade by its almost absolute control of east bound and west bound traffic between our interior states and the north of Europe. This concern is accused of using coercive and unlawful methods of crushing competition: There was a time within 50 years pooling combinations and intimidations. the latter in certain instances approaching blackmail. The company is charged with giving rebates and the merchant who ships one consignment by an independent line cannot ship any more at all by a trust line. It is said that state owned German railroads give this German steamship company rebates which help it to crush competition. One of the complainants against the concern is Peter Wright & Sons of Philadelphia, and they charge that the Hamburg-American Packet company has persistently and continuously violated the laws of the United States. There are only eight American steamships, of a total of about 80,000 tons, engaged in the trade with Europe. The Hamburg-American company alone capitalization of $35,000,000.

It is against this sort of fierce competition, protected only by a very meagre system of subsidies, that American ships are compelled to com pete. It will be up to congress to do something for the protection of American shipping in the immediate future ot it will be utterly destroyed.

Shipowners Have Small Success

A large amount of money has been spent by private capital in the United States in the effort to build up a profitable business carrying the commerce of the United States oversea in compe tition with the old and established and heavily subsidized ships of the European nations. The encouragement, however, which has been given to such efforts by this country in the way of subsidies has been so slight that nearly every such effort has failed and those who have invested their money in this manner have lost it after a strenuous struggle. There are not likely to be many more such enterprises started until the present policy of the government has been reversed

A great merchant marine is an advantage in more ways than one. It gives direct communication with all the important sections of the world, and thereby promotes the growth of our foreign commerce: it aids in training to the sea a larger proportion of our citizens, and thus gives us, in times of war, a larger body of trained seamen capable of manning our warships and our fast cruisers; it also gives us an auxiliary fighting force, for the larger ships of our merchant marine could then be

Disqualified.

Although Mrs. Harlow loved her husband and admired what she considered his good points, it was a never ending source of amazement to her that he had been chosen to fill the office of mayor for three successive terms.

"Everybody knows how much I think of James," she said in a dazed way to one of her husband's cousins. "I always said and always should say that he is as good as gold. But if you'll tell me whether you think a man who is color blind and who brings home toys that won't go when you wind them and who still thinks I could like olives if I'd only try is fit for such a position why, all I can say is I don't." -Youth's Companion.

A Chinese Idea of Foreigners. The following is a quite modern Chinese conception of the foreigners' treatment of infectious cases: "If an epidemic broke out two foreigners took the sick away and put them in a little room, washed them with lime water and then locked them up so that no one could see them on purpose that they might soon die and not propagate the disease. Wives and children might cry and weep, but the foreigner would but drive them away with sticks, for until dead no one must see those faces again. Better for all of us to jump into the sea than submit to this."-South China Post.

Chicago National Chief Is Best Paid Player-Manager In Game-McGraw Earns More Than Any Other Manager-Gets Salary and Percentage.

Experts in baseball are predicting that within a few years the high sala ried baseball player will be a thing of the past. Even now the salaries are gradually being squeezed down by owners and managers, and little is heard of the amounts paid to players on the major league teams.

The magnates found out that it was poor business policy to let the big salaries be noised about, for every player immediately imagined that he was entitled to the top notch remuneration But there are still in the game some players who are earning enough money to keep their heads well above water One of these is the great Napoleon Lajoie of the Cleveland American league team. Two years ago Lajoie was the highest paid active player, and he was getting $9,000 for a season of seven months. Now his salary is in the neighborhood of $7,000, though it is not unlikely that there may be an extra thousand or so given to Lajoie for assuming the arduous duties of manager besides those of second base-

County Commissioner Foster to Retire

It is reported that Summer H. Foster of Brookline, whose three-year term as Norfolk County Commissioner expires this year, will not be a candidate Ifor reelection.

He was elected in 1904 to succeed Thomas Blanchard of Stoughton. In 1905 James F. Merrill of Quincy was elected to succeed Marshall P. Wright of Quincy, and last year Evan F. Richardson of Millis was elected to succeed the late James Hewins of Medfield.

Thus in three years there was a complete change in the board, and now there will be another change.

Grocers Going To Vanity Fair

The Old Colony Grocers' and Provision Dealers' Association, accompanied by their families, clerks and friends, about 1000 in number, will take a day off next Wednesday and visit Vanity Fair. A special train of about ten cars will start from Boston and leave Quincy at 7.40, Quincy Adams 7.42, Braintree 7.46 and South Braintree 7.51 for Fall River via South Weymouth, Abington and Whitman. The train is due at Fall River at 9.30 and it will take only a few minutes to transfer passengers to the large steamer Warwick.

Cuff's orchestra of ten pieces will make the beautiful sail down Narragansett bay more delightful by their popular selections. At the fair grounds a special dinner, at 75 cents each, will be served in the large hall at the head of the pier. Promptly at three o'clock the steamer will be boarded for a trip down the bay as far as Newport, R. I., returning to Fall River about seven P. M. Here is a chance for our readers ot enjoy a day's outing of about twelve hours, for a small sum of money, and be with a large number of friends make new acquaintances and enjoy Narragansett bay.

The Incandescent Lamp.

The commercial world demanded the minute subdividing of the electrical current so that lights corresponding to gas jets might be used. Such inventors as Swan, Lane-Fox and Crooks, in England, and Edison, Brush, Sawyer, Man, Weston and Maxim in this country, devotee their exclusive efforts to solve the problem. As early as 1841, De Moleyns patented in England an electric lamp of crude form in which a platinum wire enclosed in an exhausted globe was rendered incandescent by an electric current. A few years later, Starr of Cincinnati, devised another incandescent lamp consisting of thin strips of graphite enclosed in an exhausted globe.

No permanent lamps resulted from this early work and the plan was declared impracticable by some of the Builder. best authorities up to the time, 25 years best authorities up to the time, 25 years ago, when Thomas A. Other carbons made from thread, wood and boom corn were tried, but with no better results. While hunting for a suitable medium Mr. Edison's attention was attracted to a palm leaf fan, and cutting strips from the bamboo rim he carbonized them and put them into lamps. He was happily surprised to find the filaments were many times better than any he had tried before. Until 1894 all the Edison filaments were made from bamboo. In that year cellulose came to be almost wholly used. Since than the inventors have

Seoul, July 20.—The abdication edict of the emperor is his first communication to the world since the repudiation of the convention of 1905. A translation of the text of the edict follows:

"I have been, in succession to my ancestors, on the throne 44 years and have met many disturbances. I have not reached my own desire. While ministers are frequently improper men and progress is not controlled by men, the times are contrary to natural events. A crisis extremely urgent in the life of the people has arisen and the progress of the state is more than before

"I fear a danger like that that befalls a person crossing the ice. The court itself is said to make the meaning of the above an actual a dication While insufficient time has elapsed to show the effect of the emperor's ac- pany's city ticket office, while Arnold tion upon the situation, advisory opinion at the Japanese residence generally regards the abdication as taking away the force of Japan's intended blow.

During the audience with the cabine Thursday night, when the emperor acquiesced to the demand for abdica tion, a number of students attempted to present a petition to the emperor. but the police prevented them from do ing so, driving them back east of the palace, where they remained all night. Chief of Police Maruyama distributed carbines to the palace police, but the crowd continued to increase. It remained orderly.

At the Japanese residency Marquis Ito and Viscount Hayashi, in answer to an inquiry of the correspondent of The Associated Press regarding the affect of the emperor's action, its importance in effecting a settlement of the whole Japanese-Korean situation, and whether it was in accordance with the plans of Japan, said they were not prepared to make a statement.

Marquis Ito, however, stated that both before and during his audience, when the emperor and cabinet were weighing the question of abdication, h refused any participation. The em peror repeated his declaration that he was not responsible for the sending of the Korean delegation to The Hague and asked Ito's opinion of the cabinet's representation regarding abdication. Ito replied that the matter wholly concerned the Emperor of Korea and not himself as the representative of Japan. Furthermore, Ito declares the cabinet's whole course of action was based on its own initiative. A heavy rain, following the outbreak of yesterday, was largely instrumental in dispersing the crowds. All traffic has been stopped and Japanese shops are guarded. He therefore relied upon Ito to take measures necessary to prevent further trouble.

Marquis Ito called on General Hasegawa to take charge of the city and it is now under military control. The troops have been offered for the safeguarding of foreign consulates in Seoul. The troops remain loyal.

As Viewed by Peace Delegates

The Hague, July 20.-The abdication of the Emperor of Korea is the general topic of conversation among the delegates to the peace conference. A majority of them incline to the belief that even if the emperor had been dethroned it should be considered an indispensable measure to give the Japanese a free hand in establishing a modern system for developing the resources of Korea.

Yi Sang Sul, ex-premier of Korea, who is here with the Korean delegation which was refused recognition by President Nelidoff, after reading the press dispatch announcing the abdication, said: "It is another Japanese infamy which twenty million Koreans soon will avenge."

our Armored Cruisers Will Cross the Pacific to San Francisco

Washington, July 20 .- The armored ruisers West Virginia, Colorado, Pennylvania and Maryland of Admiral Dayton's Pacific fleet are expected to start from Cavite for the United States within two weeks. The four ships are ow in the vicinity of Chefoo, China, where they have been engaged in target practice. The whole division will, eccording to present program, sail changes are to be made in the personnel of the crews and various stores are to be taken aboard. The run will then begin for San Francisco.

The four ships form the mainstay of Admiral Dayton's Pacific fleet, now in Asiatic waters. Their withdrawal will leave but few American naval ves sels of any great consequence in that section of the world and in effect means the practical transfer of the headquarters of the Pacific fleet to American waters if Admiral Dayton returns to San Francisco on his flagship, the West Virginia.

The withdrawal of Admiral Day ton's ships from Asiatic waters will leave the Chattanooga, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Galveston, Raleigh and Denver, with numerous smaller vessels, including gunboats, monitors, colliers, 538 Tremont Building, Boston. etc., in charge of American interests in that part of the world.

Boston, July 20.—That sensational developments may yet be brought forward in explanation of the two mysterious robberies which occurred within a few hours of each other in this is now considered possible by those sides $4500 secured from the wagon of Paymaster Fenno of the Boston Elevated Railroad company, it was given out by the police last night that $700 had been stolen from the desk of Charles F. Arnold, Jr., a ticket clerk in the employ of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad comwas at dinner.

Cost $30,000 For Evading Law Raleigh, July 20.-The Southern Railway company was fined $30,000 and Thomas J. Green, ticket agent of the company, fined $5 in the state court here for selling railroad tickets at a rate in excess of that provided by the recent state law for a uniform rate of 21-4 cents a mile in North Carolina The court required Green to promise not to sell tickets at the illegal rate. Green made the promise and paid the Telegraphers Give Up Strike Oakland, Cal., July 20 .- At a meeting held here, the Telegraphers' union voted unanimously to accept the terms of settlement proposed by the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies. According to the terms of compromise the telegraphers will return to work and then both telegraph companies will receive a committee of arbitration to discuss and settle matters affecting the Mortgages, telegraphers Steamer Ran Into Fisherman Gloucester, Mass., July 20 .- The mackerel seining schooner Arthur James came into port in a badly damaged condition and reported that she was run into, during a thick fog, 150 miles off Highland Light, by the steamer Saxoleine. The schooner's rail was carried away and she was cut down to the water line. The captain made temporary repairs and made for Glou-

Well-to-Do Woman a Suicide New York, July 20 .- Miss Laura D. Ronaldson, aged 28 and of independent means, who came here from Lewistown, Pa., to study music and art, was shot to death in her rooms in an uptown apartment house. To all appearances the woman killed herself and in the absence of a more plausible theory, the suicide is attributed to mental derangement induced by the excessive

Struck and Killed by Car Providence, July 20 .- Fred Heath, aged 30, was struck and killed by an electric car at the Olneyville car house of the Rhode Island company, where he was employed. Walter Henry, motorman of the car which struck Heath, was arrested, but without any formal charge being made against him. Electric Road Sold at Auction Nashua, N. H., July 20.-The Hudson, Pelham and Salem electric road was sold at auction to the New Hampshire Electric Railroad company. A bid of $400,000 was accepted. It was a foreclosure sale in favor of the New York Security Trust company, which held a mortgage for $435.872. Killed by Fall From Horse

Draper Company Has Always Shown String Beans, Natives, Great Interest in Town's Development

Milford Journal Series.

The impressions that a visitor gets of Hopedale and its people are not those of the ordinary factory-town population. They are a prosperous, home loving people who have a common interest in the development and progress of the town. They have had better opportunities than most people, and have used them to good advantage. One looks in vain for the signs of want and misery usually found in large manufacturing com munities.

The location of Hopedale is ideal, a moderately elevated slope which has numerous swells and hollows constitutes the residential section of the town. Nature provided much of the picturesqueness which lends charm to the place, and adjacent territory is agreeably diversified by dwarf woodland, cultivated fields, level uplands, and elegant estates.

As the general welfare of a town is due in a large measure to its industrial interests, so it is with Hopedale with its single industry known the world over as the Draper Company. The company has always shown the deepest interest in the town's development. What strikes the eye with special force is the uniform excellence of the houses and the high tone of their surroundings. These houses are owned by the Draper Company and occupied by its employees, yet their architecture and dimensions place them well within the conventional class of residences fo business men or persons of professional pursuits. The company erects any where from five to fifty of this style of houses every year, and rents them to its employees for from 2.50 to $3.62 per week, inclusive of water and maintenance. Some of the houses built a few years ago are a little less imposing and rent for as low as $1.75 per week. Moreover, the company gives cash prizes aggregating $375 per Insurance, year for the best kept lawns and gar-Care of Property. dens, which prove a most excellent incentive to conscientious caretaking, and the results clearly justify the

Every home presents an attractive appearance. The houses owned by the company and private houses alike reveal a quickened spirit of domestic pride seldom observed to that degree in any wage earning community. All the new houses are two and one-half stories, have broad verandas, lawns and yards. The double houses, which are in the majority, are divided ver tically, giving each family the use of the several floors. No less than fifteen styles of architecture are exemplified in the company houses, each showing due regard for taste and comfort. Young trees and flower beds are planted at measured distances on the low graded lawns; wide streets, always neat and clean and lighted by electricity, winding in among the houses in serpentine fashion. All these modern conditions combine to raise the town above the gloom and monotony which usually greet the eye in manufacturing towns. With such environments the little town has made a national reputation for its exemplary shop and house conditions. It is doubtful if there is a business concern in our country where the relations of the employers and the em ployees are so harmonious as here There never is occasion for prolonged misunderstandings, as the men are perfectly free to call upon the management whenever they have questions of mutual concern to bring up, knowing full well that their claims will receive due consideration. But wages and factory conditions predominating as may be, their influence are only contributing factors in a life of this exceptional manufacturing community. The same considerations that are displayed in the construction of the factory buildings to obtain wholesome conditions for the employees are shown in the provisions for their care outside the factory They have been provided for at the least possible cost to themselves. It goes without saying that this attention is appreciated by those who are fortunate enough to enjoy these unusual conditions.

TO SMASH A RECORD

Ambition of the Georgia's Gun ners Responsible For Disaster

THE NAVAL BOARD'S FINDING

Charge of Powder Ignited by "Delayed Flare-Back," Caused by Shutting Off Air Too Soon, With Wind Blowing Into Muzzle of Gun

Washington, July 20 .- By a process of elimination, the naval board which has been investigating the accident whereby the men in the turret of the battleship Georgia lost their lives has arrived at the conclusion that a "delayed flare-back" caused the catas-

In one sense the verdict is received with a distinct sense of relief by naval officers, because it shows that they have no new element of danger to contend with. They had experienced 'flare-backs' before and thought that they knew how to deal with them.

A "delayed flare-back" is caused by losing off too soon the blast of comressed air which is supposed to expel rom the bore of the gun the unburnt gases and fragments of smouldering powder covering which might be left from the last discharge. After the terrible accident in the Missouri's turret hree years ago, resulting in the loss f over 30 lives, the experts having deded that that accident was caused by he ignition of the new charge by the burnt gases and smouldering carridge cloth of the preceding charge he ordnance bureau caused to be fitted to the breech of each of the great guns an air blast apparatus to expel by compressed air any gas or cloth that might remain in the bore of the gun. So far this has worked well and there have been no "flare-backs" since the device was installed.

In the case of the Georgia's eightnch gun, the breech of the gun was brown open and the air blast turned in | Steele and Madden. at a pressure of 100 pounds to the square nch. This is sufficient for all ordinary surposes, with the important qualifica on that it should be continued long hough to drive the last remnant of gas r cloth from the gun bore. In this ase the gases or smouldering cloths which, it is not known now,) were riven probably more than half way to he muzzle of the gun when the air plast was turned off.

The Georgia was steaming at 10 knots nto the wind, which blew into the nuzzle of the gun. The unexpelled gases or cloth were driven back by the reeze into the breech of the gun and ut upon the powder charge which was ust about to be inserted. The exploion which followed was inevitable. The cause of this accident, therere, will without doubt be set down to e ambition of the gunners to make a cord practice in point of speed. Had e air blast been kept on for a second nger in all probability the accident ould have been avoided. Three shots rom an eight-inch gun in a turret in ne minute, or ten shots from both uns in a turret in two minutes is recrd practice, and there is reason to beeve that Lieutenant Goodrich's turet crew were about to smash that rec-

Boston, July 20.-The inquiry into the affairs of the New England Telephone and Telegraph company before the Massachusetts highway commission yesterday was devoted to the conclusion of the examination of Auditor Longley of the company. Longley said there were 17 general officers of the company who were paid $92,800. Improvements had not been introduced into New England, he said; because the New England company had been bottled up by the American Telephone and Telegraph company. The territory covered by the company's wires, testified Longley, is about 400 square miles, containing 1.900,000 people, while in that area there are about 92,000 tele-

Do YOU DO for Quincy?

A New Aid Fable.

This is not a George Ade fable, though it may sling some slang. It is a Home Aid fable.

Once there was a Geezer, who sat around and cut Kindling too small for Cook Stove purposes. He Whittled against Time and Flabbergasted against his Town. The town was No Good, he said-strictly on the Blink. Yes, it was N. G. Why, hadn't he lived Here since '84 and found that the Place was Punky? Sure, Mike!

Look at that town over in the next County. Grown like Jonah's Gourd. Must be a Jonah here. We've grown some, but I don't see that we're knocking any particularly Big Persimmons. That's the way this Gazaboo knocked his town.

One day a Sarcastic Stranger floated into the Town that was Knocked from the burg that had Blossomed like Jonah's Gourd. He Heard some of the Flabbergasting and Dropped to the sit-"Look here, you," he remarked to the citizen who was Handing Out the Knocks. "What do you do for this town? Are you doing your part to put this Burg on the Upgrade? What's that hefty Bunch of literature sticking out of your Clothes?" 'That's a Mail Order Catalogue from Chi-cago—a town that is a town," replied the Gee-

"So I thought," said the Impertinent Arrival. "Now let me hand you out a nice little Wad of common sense. For the past ten years you have been sending your money to the Chi-cago Mail Order houses instead of spending it among your home merchants. What would have happened to Chi-cago fifty years ago if all the First Settlers had shipped their Loose Coin to New York on catalogue inducements? Why, you'd have to use a sand dredger now to find the Original Site of Chicago. Now, in the Burg from which I

"The Green Bird" will be produced at the Majestic theatre, Boston, on July 29-"Old Home Week," but inassuch as the stage of that playhouse is pretty much occupied by artisans who are building the scenery for the show, it has been found necessary to provide space for the principals in ther parts of the theatre. Thus Fred Lennox and Alice Hosmer may perhance be found in the Manager's ffice busily at work on one of their unniest scenes. In the theatre lobby Helen Hayes, John P. Kennedy, John Lorenz and others may be trying out a dance. Will H. Sloan usually selects the stage for his rehearsals and plugs away on his lines regardless of the ammering of the carpenters or the bustle of the painters.

TREMONT THEATRE.

"The Hurdy Gurdy Girl" is now in he seventh week of its successful run at the Tremont Theatre, Boston. It has appealed to the public as a typical ummer show, having, besides the fun, lively music and an array of pretty girls. The costuming, also, is = a factor that must be noticed by women, especially as all of the second and third act gowns were made by the leading dressmakers of Paris such as Worth, Felix, Lafirriere and Paquin. The following notable names are in the cast: Jacques Kruger, May Boley, Walter Lawrence, Mrs. Annie Yeamans, Mme. Mathilde Cottrelly, Harry Stone, Henry Norman, Mae Botti, Adele Rowland, Sylvain Langlois, Arthur Conrad and Tony Sullivan. There are numerous song hits, the chief of which is "The Apple of My Eye" and an odd lot of paints, at your own price. Sung in the last act. The background F. E. Shall It Be On Tuesday or Wednesday Next Week

Editors of Daily Ledger:

The committee having charge of the Pilgrimages to Quincy during the "Old Home week" celebration de sire to announce that Wednesday, July 31, will be "Quincy Day."

Visitors to Boston will register a the rooms of the Bostonian society at the Old State House, Boston, where guide books will be furnished.

Visitors will take trains leaving Boston at 9.27 and 10.27 A. M., and 1.27 and 2.27 P. M. They will be me at the Quincy station by guides, who will wear badges and escort then first to the First church, and later to the Birthplaces of the Presidents, the Quncy Mansion, to Penns Hill, and to other historic spots.

I make this announcement as i has been stated that guests will come on Tuesday. This will be impossibl owing to the many other plans made for the entertainment of guests on that date, as dates have already been assigned for Concord, Lexington Dorchester, Roxbury, the North End, Salem, Danvers and other historic places. Committees have been appointed and arrangements perfected. so no change now is possible.

I trust that the citizens will co operate, that stores and buildings be decorated and all join to make the 'Old Home week" celebration a mem day in Boston,-the day of the par ade,-it seems short sighted to as sign Wednesday as Quincy day. Peo ple in Boston will want to stay in Boston, and Quincy people will also go to Boston. Then most of the stores of Quincy close on Wednesday at 1 P. M. for a half holday, so that the city is more dead than alive on that

It is improbable that people will make a pilgrimage one day to Concord and the next day to Quincy they will make a choice between the two, and therefore there would be no conflict if both were assigned for one

Tuesday, therefore, is a much bet ter day for "Quincy Day" and it is on that day that the city looks for the largest number of visitors. They will, however, be welcome every day luring the week.

Boast Cost Him Five Dollars

George F. Boynton was arrested late Saturday night by Officer Kelliher for maliciously stopping a freight train near the Quincy depot. It is alleged that Boynton took one of the red lanterns used on the rear of street cars and placed it on the tracks.

When a freight train came along, the engineer stopped, and as there was no one with the lantern one of the train crew was sent ahead to the depot to see what the trouble was Then it was learned that the lantern had been placed on the tracks ma liciously.

The agent at the depot then remempered hearing a young man boasting that he could readily stop a train but had thought nothing of it. With the fellow with the result that Boynton was arrested in City Square. He was recognized as the man who had done the boasting earlier in the

Spic and Span for Old Home Week

Editors Daily Ledger:

It is probable that there will be any strangers in Quincy on Tuesday buildings should be as attractive as

One of the buildings in particular that should look attractive is City Hall, wherein the bureau of information is to be established.

On the north side near the depot there is a green plot in which a floral mound was made some time ago, but up to the present time has not contained flowers. This should be filled and something should be done to make the lawn itself look more attractive. Then the front of the hall and sidewalk is sadly in need of attention in the cleaning line It would seem as though the proper authorities should give these

Military Anxiety Revived by Aggravation of Political Situation--Native Troops Remain Loyal to Emperor and Are Well Armed

Seoul, July 22.-A proclamation was published at 5 o'clock Saturday evenng warning the people to remain in their homes. At dusk machine guns were intrenched behind breastworks built in the streets approaching the palace, in anticipation of a night attack. Militia are patrolling the suburbs.

Japanese troops are arriving here but they are too few in number to make any attempt to disarm the Korean soldiers feasible and they are now confined to their barracks.

duties in a purely perfunctory manner. He is said to show little strength of character and the outlook for his administration of public affairs is not ment in the situation yesterday and cause of the death of Mrs. Fanny Mer-General Hasegawa, commander of the The Registrars of Voters are revising Japanese troops in Korea, withdrew one of the machine guns from Palace square. He regards the situation now as being well in hand. The two government arsenals are guarded by Japan-Charles H. Penniman and daughters, ese soldiers, although the number is Marjorie and Louise, go to New York not large and they are under orders lapsed. to explode the magazines if they find themselves unable to defend them.

The Korean troops are frequently harangued by civilian agitators, who take up their stand at the entrances to The smart-shower Saturday night was the barracks. The Koreans possess 90,000 rounds of ammunition, of which in Seoul, has been unable to demand the surrender.

The Ping Yang regiment, which was reported as having been disarmed, still refuses to surrender its arms or ammunition. The Japanese commander is not yet able to assure safety in the streets, but he is making the best use possible of his men while awaiting reinforcements.

Marquis Ito, the resident general at Seoul, will not consent to the enforcement of martial law, but he is regarrisoning the country as far as possible

The new emperor's first edict orders the punishment of the Korean deputation to The Hague.

The Japanese are agitated by a multiplicity of reports of the former emperor's intrigues since his abdication on July 19. Military anxiety has been erefore revived by the aggravation of the political situation. The disturbing factors are, first, the enigmatical presence in Seoul of Japanese Foreign Minister Hayashi, whose mission is believed by the people to be the removal of the former emperor to Japan; second, domiciliary contact with the emperor and control and manipulation of the throne by the ex-emperor.

Until July 19 the throne and court was prostrate, with the emperor grovelling before the residency general. Today the residency claims that with this at an end it will be able to combat the intrigues of the ex-emperor.

The situation is such already that Japan is unable to establish any interpretation of it whatsoever, and unless Minister Hayashi's mission and Tokio's intentions are declared through Marquis Ito to the nation, the Korean throne will easily dash itself to pieces. Ito's ability to temper the fate of Korea is virtually unknown. Three ministers are now with the emperor deliberating over the situation.

Koreans Instruments For Japan The Hague, July 22.—The Korean delegation left yesterday for London. Many rumors are in circulation and according to one of them the Koreans have only been the Japanese instruments for creating such a situation as would justify the abdication of the emperor and the practical annexation of Korea by Japanese.

THIRTY-ONE LIVES LOST

Freight Crew's Error Responsible For Terrible Railroad Accident

Salem, Mich., July 22.-Thirty-one people are dead and more than 70 insult of a head-on collision which beturred when a Pere Marquette excur sion train crashed into a freight near here. The trains came together in a cut located at a sharp curve about a mile east of Salem.

The passenger train of 11 cars, carrying the Pere Marquette railroad shop ALBERT J. DURAND employes of Ionia and their families to the Michigan metropolis for their annual excursion, was running at high speed, probably 50 miles an hour, down a steep grade. It struck the locomotive of the freight train with terrific force. Behind the two locomotives six cars of the passenger train lay piled in a hopeless wreck. Five of the passenger coaches were undamaged.

Responsibility is put squarely up to the crew of the freight train by officials of the road. Officials who arrived at the scene of the wreck soon after the accident secured from the crew of the freight the orders under which it was running and which clearshowed the position of the excursion train and that the freight had en croached upon the other train's running time. The treight crew left the scene early, but railroad officials said that The new emperor is performing his they explained simply that they had for-

BY EXTERMINATION

Japan's Only Chance For Securing Peace In Korea

Prediction That It Would Bankrupt Japan In Three Years--Koreans Wronged For the Purpose of Annexation of Their Country

New York, July 22 .- "Knowing, as I do, the Korean temperament and the policy which Japan has pursued in the peninsula, I am able to predict that Japan will secure peace there only by the decimation of the people."

This is the opinion of Homer B. Hull-538 Tremont Building, Boston. greatest crisis in the history of that

"It is hard to arouse the Koreans ient, but drive them to desperation and they will turn on their tormentors as they did in 1592, and then nothing but extermination will give Japan peace there. But to exterminate 13, 000,000 people or even to beat them into quiescence will be no easy task.

"And who could blame the Koreans if they should turn upon those who are trampling them to the ground? The Koreans are fast approaching the turn ing point and despair will arm them to resistance, even though it be suicidal. The Korean people, thoroughly aroused, could carry on a guerilla warfare that would bankrupt Japan in three years. The enormous vested in terests of Japan in Korea would fall to a shadow of their present value Thousands of the better Japanese them selves, witnessing in the desperate resistance of the Koreans a proof that they have been wronged, would demand a change of policy.

"It is time for the Korean people to cease looking for aid from the outside. It will never come. The great national uprising which alone can save Kores will come of itself unbidden when the time is ripe. To be effective it must not come until the point of desperation has been reached and it must be spon taneous, and when it comes we shall see whether Japan is a second Turkey in Armenia or whether she will be shamed into a semblance of gentine Care of Property. enlightenment and give Korea the jusce of which she has been so ruthles ly despoiled. "The manner in which the abdication of the Korean emperor was brought about demands some explanation. Marquis Ito denies any connection whatever with the event, but no Korean cabinet would dream of proposing to the emperor such a traitorous plan as this without being driven to it by the threats of the Japanese.

"One of the most notorious of the Korean agents of Japan is the home minister, Yi Chi Cong, who told Viscount Tanaka last winter that he might rob Korea of the priceless pagoda of Pungduk. Another is the one who before the late war 'sold' the forests of the Yalu to the Russians. These Koreans would meet instant death at the hands of the Korean people if they were not guarded by the Japanese

"It is said that Mr. Hayashi has gone to Seoul to help straighten out things. I take it this is the Hayash who was Japanese minister to Pekin He is the man who forced the 1905 treaty down the throat of Korea. His going to Korea is ominous. "It is worth while asking what the Japanese expect from this forced abdication. In the first place they wish to publicly reprimand the emperor for daring to send a protest to The Hague. In the second place it is to pave the way for the setting aside of the entire dynasty and the annexation of Korea to Japan."

Jury Expected to Decide Fate of Haywood This Week

ARGUMENT OF THE DEFENSE

Will Claim That Prosecution's Chief Witness Told False Story Under Promise of Immunity--No Chance to Show Counter-Conspiracy

Boise, Ida., July 22.-Argument in defense of William D. Haywood will begin today and for the next two or three days Messrs. Richardson and Darrow will plead for the life of their client who, they assert, is innocent of any connection with the murder of Frank Steunenberg and falsely accused by the state of Idaho of conspiracy to kill the former governor. Richardson expects to speak eight or will not commence his closing argument before Wednesday morning.

The last word will come from Mr. Borah, who will speak probably on Friday, closing up the state's side of jury on Friday afternoon or Saturday morning, and a verdict is expected by Saturday night. Opinion is divided as to the probable result.

The decision of Wood, taking from the jury all evidence relating to deportations in Colorado and the employment of detectives to harrass the Western Federation of Miners, constituting the showing by the defense of a counterconspiracy, has necessarily limited the arguments of the defense to the evidence introdeed by the state corroborative of Orchard and the impeach ment of Orchard by the defense.

Mr. Richardson will take the position that Haywood had not been connected with any of the crimes to which Orchard has confessed and that the alleged conspirator has not been corroborated as required by the law of conspiracy. This will involve a review of all the evidence from the period of trouble in the Coeur d'Alene district of | the union. Idaho in 1899 down to the murder of Steunenberg by Orchard in 1905. He will present the legal side of the posiion of the defense at every point and lisassociate Haywood and the federaion from all knowledge of, or participation in the crimes in which Orchard earned the title of "boss killer."

Mr. Richardson will argue from the evidence that Orchard was not present at the blowing up of the concentrator at the Bunker Hill and Sullivan nine in 1899, and that, therefore, his evidence in this matter is impeached and worthless; that the explosion at the Vindicator mine in Colorado and the killing of Beck and McCormick was scheme to create public feeling against the striking miners and that the killing of the non-union miners was not intentional; that Orchard had no connection with it, or if he had, that Haywood had no knowledge beforehand of what was going on. The killing of Lyte Gregory in Denver Richardson will lay to the door of personal enemies of Gregory, who was engaged in strike breaking. The Goddard and Gabbert bombs, concerning be considered by the defense as seriwith them. The same disavowal of gerald of Brookline, finance by Henry connection will be argued as to the B. Day of Newton, transportation by Bradley explosion and the Steunenberg | Thomas J. Gargan of Boston and law murder itself. From first to last, Richardson will take the ground that Orchard, having foully murdered Steunenberg, has into his story at the behest of Detec- pate any great amount of trouble off festants. tive McParland and Governor Gooding | the Newfoundland coast when the herof Idaho under promise of immunity.

Steamer Went Over on Side

Bremerhaven, July 22.—Steamer Kaiser Wilhelm II, while coaling, suddenly listed. The water poured into her bunkers and boiler compartments through the open coal ports and the vessel careened and lay on her side on the bottom. The ship cannot be ready to sail for several days at the best. It appears that the inspectors of coal stowing had not perceived that the vessel was not properly trimmed, because, as she was partially aground at low tide, she kept her equilibrium. When, however, she began to refloat with the rising tide she suddenly went over on her side until hundreds of tons of water rushed in.

Bigelows Lose.

pire, Mr. Leslie. Time, 1 hr. 40n

The Bigelows of Quincy were defeated by the Royal A. C. of Braintree at French's common Saturday in the most exciting game of the season on that field. "Russ" Sullivan, the Bigelow twirler, pitched a good game, but got the short end of several decisions on inning, when the Royals should have been retired without a run. Several times he retired the third man on strikes with a man on third. Other features were the throwing of Devaney, Warning to incompetent washwon was conveyed by the laundry exhib tion recently held in London. Women who have been worried by badly laun dered clothes now have the comforting shown to prove that this is not an age to be stumped by a mere servant prob lem. "The laundry maid who is no blessed with the artistic tempermen is of little value in the world of wash tubs." said one commentator. "The education of the laundress has been slow, but art has found its way into the kitchen and, further, into the region an' in other days it was only necessary to wash clothes well. A far different state of affairs exists today. The old trade has developed into a new profes sion. There is a vast gulf between th words 'launder' and 'wash.' " Lots of ideas were wrung out at that laundry show. "The modern laundress has only half finished her task when he spotless linen emerges from the wash ing, drying and ironing rooms," it was said. "She must pack it in nests of

A Collar Box. The fad for fancy collars and turnovers has caused a necessity for two new articles on the dressing table-in fact, three if studs and collar buttons are worn-a long, flat receptacle for the turnovers, a box to hold collars and a smaller box to hold studs. The dressing table is a most elastic piece of furniture. Like the bookcase, it is always full and yet can be made to hold a little more. As small drawers are a boon to the woman who lacks bureau accommodations, for, on the whole, long, narrow compartment or drawe is a much more satisfactory place for gloves than a glove box, which takes up too much space on top, just as veils are much more conveniently and safe ly preserved folded up and laid away than when left on the bureau twined about a roll. Too many objects on top of a bureau or dressing table is a mistake both against good taste and com fort. They are in the way when dress ing and only too often are not kept as immaculate as they should be. On this account celluloid, china or ivory utensils are better than silver ones. although the latter are more effective when they are brightly polished. If silver is used, a piece of canton flannel should be kept near at hand so that 1907 they may be rubbed off every morning.

Houghs Neck Man Falls From Car

Edward J. McGiven, aged 35 years, f 5 Atlantic avenue, Houghs Neck, fell from an electric car on Coddington EVENINGS street, near the corner of Newcomb street, shortly before noon.

The man boarded the car which left Quincy at 11.10 in charge of Conductor Elmer Blandin. Just after the car had passed Newcomb street he in some manner fell off, striking his head. He was attended by Dr. Welch and

Dr. Hunting and removed to the City Hospital in the police ambulance. At the time of the accident it is alleged that McGiven was under the influence of liquor, and was reaching for a bottle when he fell out. When the ambulance arrived it was at first thought best to lock him up for drunk ness, but his bottle was taken away nd he was taken to the City Hospital. After having his injuries dressed he came to City Square, still the worse for liquor. He ran about like a wild man, and tore the bandages from his head. Before an officer could be found to lock him up he was taken to the office of Dr. Garey by friends, where his

Steamships For Coal and Ice

The Philadelphia Ledger says sailing vessels and tow barges are fast being displaced by steamships in the transportation of coal from Philadelphia, Baltimore and Newport News to New England ports. Shipping men concede that the days of schooners in this particular trade are numbered. The recent launching of the collier Everett, at Quincy, Mass., marks aa epoch in the coal-carrying trade along the Atlantic coast. This vesse! will have a cargo capacity of 7200 tons, and two sister ships are now under way for the same trade.

About Fitty Persons' Are Drowned Off Coast of California--Wooden Vessel Loomed Up In Fog and Sank Her Stem Ten Feet Into III-Fated Ship--Passengers Asleep When the Disaster Camel

Eureka, Cal., July 23 .- The best advices are that approximately 200 of the 249 souls on board the steamer Columbia escaped death when that vessel went to the bottom near Shelter Cove about 1 o'clock Sunday morning in a collision with the steam schooner San

One hundred and seven of the Columbia's passengers and 37 of her crew have been brought to this port by steamer George W. Elder, which towed the colliding schooner San Pedro from the scene of the disaster to Eureka. A iate message from Shelter Cove says that four more lifeboats have been picked up, one of them containing 18 persons, another 15, another 16, while the number in the fourth is not re-Norfolk county probate court will be ported. The survivors who were brought to this port are being cared for at hotels and in private houses.

Captain Doran and First Officer Whitney were on deck when the Columbia sank, the captain's last words being: "God bless you."

Just as the Columbia was sinking her boilers exploded. This counterlives. Husbands and wives were separated and fathers and mothers and children became lost to each other in the excitement when the boats collided.

The Columbia, a 300-foot steel vessel, while bound from San Francisco to Portland, Or., with 189 passengers and automobiles have worn it down to the wooden steamer, south-bound for this

The sea was smooth, but the weather was foggy. The San Pedro, looming out of the mist a few ship lengths away, bore down on the Columbia at high speed, despite frantic efforts to clear. With a grinding crash the San Pedro sank her stem fully 10 feet into the Columbia's port bow.

Nearly all of the Columbia's passengers and many of her crew were asleep in their cabins and bunks when the ragged hole in the Columbia's bow above and below the water line and in Every day next week pilgrimages may five minutes the Columbia sank to the vering over the tops of the Co-

The story of that five minutes is yet be but guessed at.

Shortly after the collision the steamers Roanoke and George W. Elder and the steam schooner Daisy Mitchell came on the scene and stood by. The Elder took the San Pedro in tow and the latest report announces their arrival in Eureka. The stem of the San Pedro was smashed to splinters, one of her masts was snapped off at the deck, and she was settling and had a heavy list when taken in tow. Captain Hansen remained on board.

The Daisy Mitchell offered assistance to the Elder, but this was declined. She picked up a lifeboat and a raft of the Columbia and brought them to this

CRASH AT MIDNIGHT CAUSE AND CURE OF APPENDICITIS

THE SIMPLE REMEDY THAT EFFECTS THE CURE

Professor Blanchard of the French Academy of Medicine has spent a great amount of time studying that dread disease—Appendicitis. In company with Professor Metchnikoff, he has carefully examined numerous cases, and both have reached the conclusion that the cure is not the knife. In more than forty cases the symp-toms of Appendicitis disappeared after the atients had been treated for worms. There are, no doubt, many persons suffering om worms who are erroneously attributing eir trouble to some other cause. A few doses Dr. True's Elixir are sufficient in most cases or the complete expulsion of the worms. The presence of these parasites is easily recognized by the following symptoms:—Indigestion: oul tongue; offensive breath; variable appetite hard and full belly with occasional gripings and pains about the navel; heavy, dull eyes; itching of the nose; short dry cough; grinding of the teeth; starting during sleep; slow and frequent fever; in children—convulsions and bed wetting Dr. True's Elixir will not only expel the

AN EXCITING EXPERIENCE

Airship With French Statesmen

Aboard Met With a Mishap Paris, July 23 .- Premier Clemenceau and General Picquart, the minister of war, made an ascension in the dirigible military balloon Patrie yesterday afternoon. The trip lasted two hours. While over the dome of the Invalides, after having encircled the Eiffel tower, a waterpipe burst and immediately the premier was drenched with hot water, which, however, was not hot enough to scald. No one was hurt by the accident, but the two ministers were considerably disconcerted by the mishap.

They were reassured eventually by the pilots of the airship, as well as by the steadiness of the airship itself, which the aeronauts coolly and systematically went about repairing. This occupied 20 minutes, while the Patrie floated in safety and, to the spectators watching below, appeared to be maneu-

After reaching the solid ground again both Clemenceau and Picquart declared that they enjoyed the trip very much and made light of the accident. Commenting on the voyage, the pre mier said: "I was impressed with the feeling of security and stability. It was like standing on the deck of a war-

Cold-Blooded Assassination New York, July 23 .- As he stepped out on the sidewalk from his store here Poohaness Tavshanjian, a wealthy rug importer and Persian commissioner to the Chicago World's Fair in 1893, was shot from behind and almost instantly killed. The assassin, an Armenian who was arrested, gave his name as Beros Hampartzoomian, 24 years of age. ### HERBERT A. HAYDEN Will Be Executed In Korea Only With Regard to Due Forms

HAYASHI ON AN "EXCURSION"

Admits That It Has to Do With Dealing With Delicate Position-Japan Would Have Advised Against Abdication of Emperor

Seoul, July 23 .- Viscount Hayashi, the Japanese foreign minister, de scribes his visit to Seoul as an excursion during the government holidays made for the purpose of communicat ing to Marquis Ito the demand made by public feeling in Japan for rectifica tion of existing conditions in Korea and to consult with the marquis as to what should be done.

In view of the grave state of the pres ent crisis, Hayashi consented to say that the abdication of the emperor oc curred simultaneously with his ar rival in Seoul and was a surprise and disappointed his plans. Neither Ite nor Japan had any part in the abdication, but, on the other hand, if con sulted they would have advised against

Regarding the report that he came to Korea on a special mission, Hayash admitted that it was true that he came entrusted with his government's pro gram. Japan's position here was delicate and its responsibilities were great An intriguing government was impossible and the plan to murder all the cabinet members, which was reported to be a scheme of the emperor for his restoration to power with a cabinet wholly anti-Japanese, was unthinkable.

Regarding possible plans for the future government, Hayashi said that the Korean throne had nothing to fear from the Japanese, but there must be ompetent, organized administration Japan's program would be executed only with regard to due forms, with the consent of the constituted sovereign, and was subject to modification according to conditions. It had already modified its plans and if the Korean throne established a competent government, Japan would deal with it.

At present the Japanese authorities were wholly concerned with the restoation of order. Until this was accom plished they were unable to proceed, and his mission must await normal conlitions, for the future promotion of the welfare of the people was his foremost

The Japanese residency here has genrally placed the whole responsibility or arrests made yesterday on the throne, disclaiming intervention, which, it is asserted, would be an unnecessary nvasion into affairs which are purely Korean. Reinforcements of Japanese troops are not expected until July 24, and it is impossible to adequately parol the whole city so as to prevent the gathering of mobs which have assembled during the last two days.

Many Killings In Tennessee Nashville, July 23.-Four men were illed and two lynched in Lake county yesterday. Pat Worlds was shot and cilled in a fight with Luther Rankin. No Connection Shown Between Him and Orchard

OLD CRIMES IN COLORADO

Claim That They Were Brought Up by Prosecution to Take Blood of Defendant--Independent Explosion a Plot Laid to Mineowners

Boise, Ida., July 23.-For four hours pleaded with the jury for the life of William D. Haywood. Under order of the court the hours for the day sessions were changed and in place of sitting in the afternoon, court met at 6 o'clock last evening. Judge Wood was informed by the jury that the extreme heat of the courtroom was too trying on some of the jurors, and he complied with their request for a late evening

The contention of the defense, Richwhether Orchard committed the crimes | the sum of $10,000. The writ is returnto which he confessed or not, no connection has been shown between Orchard and Haywood. Concluding a discussion of the Vindicator mine explosion, Richardson declared again that the preponderance of testimony showed it to be an accident.

Orchard's testimony as to receiving money from the federation for crime was not corroborated by a single witness, Richardson asserted, and should only $6 was found in the treasury. not be considered. As to the coming of militia to Cripple Creek, Richardson said they came at the behest and in the service of the Mineowners' association whose members were assessed so much a month to buy the certificates of in debtedness issued by the state. Discussing the law as applied to Or-state had no corroborative circumstances of the character as to the murder of Governor Steunenberg and for charged. "He had his picture taken holding :

not allowed to discuss the deportations two weeks' vacation which they had from Cripple Creek or the employment | had been spending here. of detectives in the various miners' unions, he wanted to dwell as much as possible on conditions in Colorado. "I want to weave into your minds the thought that will come to you when we reach the tragic event at Caldwell, so the one side Harry Orchard, finely of your late governor, and on the other the effort to take the blood of these men-to get them out of the way at the instigation and for the benefit of those whose names I shall mention hereafter. What I want you men to know is that if these men were guilty of the crimes charged against them in Colorado they would long ago have been called to account to the Colorado law.' Mr. Richardson dismissed the murder of Detective Gregory in Denver with the statement that absolutely nothing was shown to connect the federation with the crime.

Next in the consideration of the attorney came the blowing up of the Independence depot. He demanded to know why young Neville, who was said by Orchard to have been with him on no testimony. the day of the explosion, was brought to Boise but never put upon the stand to corroborate the confession with it.

"There is something behind this prosecution," declared Richardson. But I do not mean Mr. Hawley or Senator Borah. I have no fault to find court and everyone will say that in the been going on for several months. main this case has been tried fairly and decently by the attorneys on both sides. But somewhere there is influence which kept Neville off the stand."

Mr. Richardson charged that the Independence depot explosion was the result of a plot by the mineowners to exwhich was trying to control wages and point.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat. secure work for its members under proper conditions.

Answering Hawley's taunt in his Richardson said: "It would have been away." a case of dog eat dog and Hawley and Borah knew it. Under the same influences that worked on Orchard they secured a confession from Adams, which he repudiated. They have the confession and we have the repudiation. The whole truth, gentlemen, is that one was afraid to put him on the stand and the other did not dare to.

"In passing here, I want to say that the only reason Moyer was put on the stand is that not a scintilla of evidence was brought here to connect him with any crime except the unsupported word of Orchard. As to George A. Pettibone, he will take the stand at his own trial and explain satisfactorily the transactions he had with Orchard."

In conclusion, Richardson said that in his opinion, Orchard, the typical wanderer and tin-horn gambler, read of the explosion and adopted it as his own. In any case, Richardson said, in this, as in every part of Orchard's testimony, there was not a scintilla of evidence to connect Haywood with the

Made by the Octopus and Cuttlefish Off Newport

A Newport dispatch to the Herald says the submarines Octopus and Cuttlefish, built at Quincy, which are now undergoing their official acceptance trials at Newport under the supervision of the board of inspection and survey of the navy, have both broken submerged target records. The Cuttlefish, while going full speed submerged made two bullseyes with Whitehead torpedoes at a range of 500 yards. The other shot varied a little to one side of the centre of the target. The Octopus on Monday made three bullseyes out of the same conditions as the Cuttlefish. The battleship Vermont and cruiser Des Moines built at the Fore River plant will be Old-Home-Week attractions at Boston; also the battleships Illinois and Kentucky.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and trying the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Its Importance To Massachusetts And Great Value To the Nation ·

The importance to Massachusetta industries, and the great value to the nation of the proposed New York, Brockton and Boston canal, are set ume of 78 pages just issued in comdirectors. It contains general in for which the corporation was Brockton canal, a view from Grape island, views of the water front a illustrations of the city of Brockton countries. Also maps giving a birdsshowing what can be saved in dis

The canal is to have a surface width of not less than 200 feet, and a width at the bottom of not lesthan 120 feet, and a depth of 25 fee at mean high tide. The company however has the right under its charter to make the width 700 feet within which to build its canal, builing vessels in their approach and in their passage through the canal.

0.000, to be divided into shares of $100 each. It is claimed that there will not only be a great saving in expense by the use of the canal, but a great saving in time as well. The listance from Point Judith to Boston by the usual inside route is 170 miles, while a canal across Cape Cod would educe the distance to 110 miles, and by the proposed canal to 75 miles.

It is also claimed that in time of war such a canal would be of inestimable value as it provides a most comprehensive plan of inland navigation, which could be relied upon as a substitute for exterior navigation. The modern mammoth barges which carry the products of the west to the sea, and the raw materials of the central and southern states by river, can be brought by this canal to Boston and New England without the danger and expense of collision, wreck, delay and uncertainty which he circumnavigation of Cape Cod nust necessarily engender.

The construction of such a canal would not only intimately connect the flourishing cities of Brocton, ton, Taunton, Fall River, Quincy, and Boston, and develop on this waterway extensive manufacturing plants and other industries, thus giving the canal a large contributing manufacturing population which the Cape Cod route could never have. The sound steamers now operated from Fall River and Providence could load and unload their freight at Boston Moreover the boats of the Old Colony Steamboat Company could be operated in summer between New York and Boston so that breakfast might be had in one city and supper in the other.

Annually between 30,000 and 40 00 vessels pass around dangerous Cape Cod and through the treacherous shoals of Marthas Vineyard and Nantucket. These could readily pass hrough the proposed canal.

The volume also contains tables giving the receipts of bituminous coal during the year 1906, receipts of anthracite coal, lumber, grain, flour, leather, skins and hides, both by rail and by water, showing that on many of the products mentioned a very large percent is shipped by water, and that much of that now shipped by rail would be forwarded by water if the canal were built.

Today it is practically admitted that it is impossible to furnish all the cars desired for freight trans-In addition to the great stimulus to manufacturing which would result from the construction of this canal, it is claimed that there would be a great increase in taxable property which would yield a large in come to the state, or in other words contribute towards reducing the average levy for State tax and thus benefit every taxpayer within the commonwealth

From the national standpoint, it is robable that such a water way, by reason of the short cut, would en able an adequate defence of Boston New York. Long Island sound and Massachusetts bay being made smaller number of war vessels than

FEAL ABDICATION

ITO CONTROLS THE CABINET

Next Step Will Be to Exile Deposed gests Council of State For Shap* ing Affairs of Hermit Kingdom

Seoul, July 24.-The cabinet's report new pledge of abdication, in form posi tive and final, was published yesterday, and reversed the widespread impression that the first instance was not one of abdication but of "imperial contortion." Ito's subservient cabinet, in an all-night engagement with the former emperor, wrung from him the verbal admission of the validity of his casual abdication and secured his signature to a classification proclamation, also an acknowledgment of the mikado's con gratulations to him as emperor de facto, which acknowledgment had been resisted by the deposed ruler.

The working members of the cabinet who enjoy Ito's protection and patronage are passing in and out of the palace with a guard exclusively Japanese. The work of the cabinet will not be finished until the ex-emperor is exiled from Seoul. This, the next step, if ac complished without the poisoning of the deposed ruler or the consummation of some similar tragedy, will be a landmark in Korean history.

Viscount Hayashi, the foreign minister of Japan, whose presence in Kores supports Ito, in an interview in the administration paper, is understood to suggest a council of state, with power to act for the elimination of interference by the throne.

The censorship proclaimed over Jap anese press correspondents is described as precautionary, on account of the bitterness displayed toward. Ito's conservative course in reshaping the des tinies of Korea.

Theatres, amusement places and the markets are open for the first time in four days. The stores of ammunition possessed by disaffected Korean troops is expected. Ito expects valuable reinforcements of bluejackets from Japanese warships for emergency use.

The Novoe Vremya sarcastically contrasts the lofty principles enunciated by the Japanese delegates with the "wanton disregard of Korean rights and susceptibilities by the Japanese government." It recognizes, however, that Russian intervention is out of the question.

The foreign office maintains a strictly neutral attitude, based on the assumption that the abdication of the emperor was not accompanied by any violation of the Portsmouth peace treaty. which, it is explained at the foreign office. Until I am fully and cor rectly informed of the facts of Satur tempt to say how it occurred or pass judgment on any of its circumstances. The cool head of Second Steward Marks of the Columbia saved many lives when the Columbia sank. As soon as the ship struck the steward ran into the "glory hole," where his men slept, and ordered them to their posts. The men were well drilled and they wasted no time in their duties. They ran through the cabins assigned to them, waking and dragging people out of bed and adjusting their life preservers for them. This accounts for the fact that all those who were on deck had life preservers on them. When the waiters were about half through their work on the starboar side, the vessel gave a heavy list and those who still remained in their staterooms on that side of the boat were doomed. The vessel filled to the deck and the doors of their cabins were fammed so that they were unable to break themselves free before the vessel up-ended and dove to the bottom. The starboard deck was filled with half-dressed people when the fatal list came. Those who were already on the deck were able to climb to the port side. and cling there until the last plunge was made.

The vessel went down without a no ticeable suction, but the passengers found that they were unable to remain on the surface of the water, although buoyed up by the life preservers. Fitchburg, Mass., July 24.—Gertrude Many assert that they sank as deep as 30 feet before they began to rise.

The Married Woman's Sympathy. When a married woman meets a particularly attractive, busy, contented spinster, she says plaintively: "Poor Ada, or Virginia, or Emmeline! What a pity that she never married!" She cannot help it any more than she can help the color of her hair. When Frederick-fumbling dreadfully, by the way-slipped the ring upon her finger. he endowed her not only with all his worldly goods, but also with an ineradicable pity for those upon whose hand the yellow band has never gleamed. If he had taken to beating her the following week, had developed an undue appetite for drink the next month and had deserted her the following year, she would still have looked with patronage upon me, unbeaten, unacquainted with intoxication, undeserted. There is no wife so unhappy, so neglected, so trampled upon, that she has not in her own opinion some one still more pitiable to whom to condescend, and that is any unmarried woman, no matter how busy, how cheerful, how popular.-Anne O'Hagan in Harper's

Lost and Won.

"He who judges people by their noney," said a clergyman, "is apt to fare like the man who gave a dollar to each of his little sons.

"'Now, boys,' said the foolish man I am going away for a week. Take this money and see how much you can make out of it in my absence. To him that does the best I'll give a fine present.

"On his return at the week's end he alled the boys to him. "Well, George, how have you suceeded?' he asked the first.

"George proudly took $2 from his nocket. "'I have doubled my money, father,'

he said. "'Excellent,' cried the father. 'And ou, John, have you done better still? "'No, sir,' said John, sadly. 'I have lost all mine.'

"'Wretched boy,' the father exlaimed. 'How did you lose it?' "'I matched George,' faltered the ad."-Exchange.

Fond of Crab. A jolly old boy from the Midlands entered into one of the hotels at the seaside and, seeing on the slab on the right a crab dressed on the shell with egs, claws and parsley ranged round, said to the landlord: "What d'ye call that?"

"Crab," was the answer. "Looks good. I'll have un, and gie us a pint of ale."

Bread and butter was added and the diner left to his dinner. In about an hour the genial landlord entered the dining saloon to see if his guest was getting on all right. He found him chawing up the last claw, the chawer "Like the crab, sir?"

"Yes. He was capital. I never tasted one afore, but I think you baked un a little too long. The crust was hard. Let's have another pint."

He had eaten the lot-shell, claws and all complete.-London Tit-Bits.

In Germany "von" implies nobility, and all persons who belong to the nobility prefix "von" to their names without any exception. Persons who do not belong to the nobility cannot have the right to put "von" before their names. A man who is knighted for some reason, however, has the same right to put "von" before his family, name as a person of ancient nobility. For instance, when Alexander Humboldt was knighted he became Alexander von Humboldt. All his descendants, male and female, take the prefix.

Haven of Rest.

It is desirable that each sex should occasionally escape from the other. It is restful to the nerves to do so; it is good for men to be with men only and for women to be alone with women now and then, and the club is essentially the place for each sex to find rest from the other and enjoy its own society.—London Lady's Pictorial.

This sudden departure was followed by a tremendous denunciation of Detective McParland and the Pinkertons and passionate vituperation of Or-Colorado and, in fact, all who have acted on the side of the prosecution of Haywood came in for a share of the avalanche of Richardson's peroration. Mr. Richardson denounced and charged the Pinkerton detective agency with a systematic plot to secure the conviction of Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone, as a means to the desired from death last night while crossing extermination of the Western Federa-

Declaring Harry Orchard was a man possessed with a lust for murder-a desire to glut a disordered brain with told the jury that the defense was ready and willing to admit that Orchard accomplished the taking off of by him on the witness stand.

Of Orchard's story of his many attempts upon the lives of men said to have been marked for death by the federation, Richardson said it was the earth. He declared that it would be a long time before the law would sanction a conviction on such testimony as has been adduced against Haywood, and he pleaded with the jury not to "at the behest of the Mineowners' association and its representatives." After reading lengthy extracts from time of the arrest of Orchard, all of

"Think of this creature associating in a friendly way with a senator of the United States. I do not know that Orchard calls Senator Borah 'Bill,' but I do know that the senator calls Or chard 'Harry.'

"Now, why did Orchard attempt to commit suicide after he had made his confession to Pinkerton McParland He says he confessed to clear his con science and to make his peace with God. Why, then, after such a confes sion should he have attempted to take his own life? There was no reason

"But, gentlemen of the jury," said Richardson, "if Harry Orchard was in a scheme at the instigation of the Pinkertons or anybody else to swear away the life of innocent men-if he were a part and parcel of such a conspiracywell might his conscience have said to him, 'out of your mouth you have condemned innocent men and that is a your soul,' well might this worthless

B., July 24 .- Tom David, charged with murdering his Old Colony Street Railway Compan wife, was committed for trial at the next term of the York circuit court. which will meet in January. The unwritten law and the brain storm theory will play a prominent part in the defense of the prisoner when the case comes up for trial. It was shown that the murdered woman and a man named Charles Nicholas had roomed together in Woodstock for several weeks prior to the shooting.

No Boys Wanted at Red Rock Bungalow

Led on by the welcome sounds of sweet voices blended harmoniously in song and laughter, the Daily Ledger representative found himself on Monday in a veritable Adamless Eden. A party of jolly young ladies hailing from Boston, Marlboro, Dorchester, Quincy, Somerville and Lynr are spending their vacation as campers on the water front, this being their third annual visit. These ladies are school teachers who are getting the very best fun possible out of their vacation. No man, is even wanted and the sign over the door reads "23 B," which translated by one pret ty little miss, means "Skidoo Boys."

The interior presents a nice picture, a row of neat cots, amid a pretty background of light, fluffy, summer dresses. One thing attracted attention, an old-fashioned, antique sign Wednesday, July 31, as "Quincy hair-covered trunk with a sign which Day," owing to the fact that the civic reads as follows: "Please handle with care; relic of the Ark."

One of the rules of the camp is that two girls are assigned the dubefore the official program was made ties of getting some one meal and out. Capt. I. P. # Sculptor Kitson Heavy Loser

Henry Hudson Kitson of this city was a heavy loser by the fire of Tuesday in Pope's building, Boston. The Herald says: As a result of the three-alarm fire in the Pope building, 221 Columbus avenue, the $150,-000 memorial monument which was to have been dedicated in honor of the Iowan troops at Vicksburg next May will have to be postponed indefinitely.

The studio of Henry Hudson Kitson, the well known sculptor, who had the contract to design the monument, is on the seventh landing of the Pope building, which was the on ly part of the structure damaged Although the flames did not reach Mr. Kitson's apartments, the heat and water destroyed the majestic equestrian statue which was to have formed the central figure of the Vicksburg monument.

Mr. Kitson had been at work on this horse and rider more than year. "That statue alone was worth about $50,000, and the whole monument is to cost in the neighborhood of $150,000," said the sculptor immediately after learning of his loss. 'I was to have delivered it by the 1st of May. There were many other valuable art specimens in my studio The whole of them would foot up to $100,000, I should say, and I didn't have a cent of insurance on any of Long term rates furnished on applicahem. Just my luck."

Excursionists To Vanity Fair Have a Day Of Enjoyment

Wednesday morning about 700 people boarded a special train at various points at Quincy, Quincy Adams, Braintree, South Braintree, South Weymouth, North Abington, Abington and Whitman, all bound for one destination, Vanity Fair. It was the day set aside by the Old Colony Grocers' and Provision Dealers' Association for their fifteenth annual excursion. People who have accompanied the association in former years are good judges of the consideration and thought shown for the guests, and express their appreci ation by their presence, and by going each year.

The trip by special train to Fall River was most pleasant. During the trip souvenir paper napkins and cute red feathers were distributed throughout the train with compliments of Saville, Somes & Co. of Boston, who took this way to advertise their Red Feather coffee. The little feathers furnished considerable fun and served as a sign to distinguish the party from others at Vanity Fair.

Reaching Fall River the special steamer Warwick was in waiting and with all aboard steamed on its course, arriving at Vanity Fair shortv before noon.

A most excellent Rhode Islani clam bake and fish dinner was served in the large dining hall at the head of the wharf by Lewis, assisted by his corps of dusky waiters.

After dinner the party had until three o'clock to enjoy the attractions at this new amusement resort. Shooting the chutes and the dance hall eemed to be the favorite diversions although there were many other atwhich was greatly enjoyed by those who love to trip the light fantastic

But all too soon it was time to get back to the steamer and enjoy as a souvenir. the beautiful sail down Narragansett

During the day Cuffs' orchestra furnished music, which greatly added to the pleasure of all. One of the sights of the trip was the various warships at anchor, among them the Aulbach, Mrs. John Ford, P. A. ill-fated Georgia, whose crew, officers Stanton, J. Curtin, John Danahey, and band did us honor Long life and prosperity to the Old Colony Grocers' and Provision Dealers' Association.

Bids For Moving The Coddington

Bids for moving the Coddington school ouildings to an adjoining lot were pened by Commissioner Burke on Wednesday afternoon. But two bids were received as follows: John Cavanagh & Sons, $900; and Peter J. Williams & Co., $1050. The contract will probably be awarded to John Cavanagh & Sons.

It was over half a century ago that the Coddington school house was built. It was then a two-story building with basement. There was a school room in the basement, two on the street floor and a large room and small recitation room on the second floor. The total cost of building in 1850 was $7,367.98, as follows:

W. Parker, Jr., for plans, W. Parker, Jr., building contract, 4,950.00 W. Parker, Jr., fence and extras Newcomb & Chapin, stonework Newcomb & Chapin, extra work J. L. Ross, school furniture E. B. Hersey, painting fence 52.88

A. Furnald, carting West Castleton Slate Co., blackb'ds O. Whyte, wire netting 4.63

It was in 1876 that it was en arged by raising the roof one story, and since then the annex has been moved to the school yard, making ten rooms now in use.

The property is valued at $26.500 The cost of the original Adams school built the same year was $7,-

The writer was greatly amused while watching Mr. Durkey the captheir president, Miss May Buckley of able and efficient head of employment bureau. One individual, a Assyrian, held out a handful of Assyrian money. Another, evidently a Jew, offered same official a clothes brush with a looking glass in back of it. Needless to say, neither of them got a position. Mr. Durkee refused to be bribed.

The submarine Tarantula, built at the Fore River plant, leaves this afternoon for Newport, R. I., where she will undergo her government trials early next week. She will be commanded by Capt. W. I. Sands, and will be convoyed by a tug. The Viper will go to Newport next week.

The steamer Satilla from New York arrived at the shipyard on Wednesday Among those present were: Miss with twelve boilers. The boilers built in Buffalo were freighted down to New York on Canal boats. Four of them will be placed in the steamship Everett, four in the Malden and four in the Melrose, the vessels being in process of construction for a local concern. The Satilla is a product of the Quincy shipyard and will be equipped there with an auxiliary lighting plant before putting to sea.

A Lesson For Car Disturbers

Edward W. Desmond of Milton was given a stiff sentence in the district court this morning for creating a disturbance on a street car. The fellow with others boarded the car at Stoughton. All the way to Milton they amused themselves by loud and profane talk and by blowing the air whistle, thus reducing the air pressure and the efficiency of the air brakes. After a time the conductor caught Desmond in the act and his arrest followed. The court imposed a sentence of thirty days in the house of correction.

THE BENNINGTON EXPLOSION

Ensign Wade, Who Was Chief Engineer of the Gunboat, Charges That He Is Wrongfully Made to Appear Responsible For Death of Sailors

Charles T. Wade, who was chief engineer of the United States gunboat Bennington when the boilers on that craft exploded, causing the deaths of more than 60 of her crew and injuries to 49 others, has filed a libel suit against the International Magazine company, asking for damages in the sum of $100,-000. The plaintiff belongs in New Jersey and the defendant is a New York corporation, so the action is brought in the United States court in this city. The accident to the Bennington occurred in San Diego harbor, Cal., July 21, 1905. The basis of the alleged libel is an article which subsequently appeared in The Cosmopolitan Magazine under the caption "Growth of Caste In

The complaint sets forth that the article described the rivalries that had existed for years in the navy between officers of the bridge and of the engine room, due, it is claimed, principally to social distinctions.

The change affected in 1899, when the staff and line was abolished, and time for delivery. all the officers made to rank the same was detailed in the article and further comments made upon the changes at the naval academy, which so altered its course of study that all the cadets were taught the science of steam engi-

The result of this change, the writer declared, was to place in the engine room of the warships young officers with only a theoretical knowledge of motive power, the most essential part of the vessel. It was further stated, according to the complaint, that "boilers do not explode without gross neglect or gross incompetence." And in the magazine article's review of the accident this passage occurred:

"A young ensign, bookishly educated in engineering, stepped from the bridge to the engine room and tried the experiment of cutting out the steam gauge and plugging of the safety valve, and all these lives paid the pen-

ALARMING INDEED

"Black Hand" Methods Adopted by Armenians to Secure Money New York, July 25 .- The district attorney's office has obtained a number Amount Named In Suit Against of letters in connection with the murder of the rug merchant, H. S. Tavshanjian, which showed that for several months there have been communi cations sent to rich Armenians in this city, demanding that amounts of money be sent to the Hunchakist society on pain of death. The letters confirm the reports of a widespread conspiracy to get money and which the district attorney thinks is alarming.

Police Commissioner Bingham states that for a long time he has known of Armenians who were blackmailing rich merchants. "An Armenian friend of mine, a graduate of Yale, has told me a good deal about the rascality of New York, July 25 .- Lieutenant the Armenians," he said. ### Congo Free State Will Soon Cease to Be a Dependency

LEOPOLD MUST GIVE IT UP GENTLE, EFFECTIVE and CHEAP.

Foreign Nations Can Then Deal With It Through Diplomatic Channels-Parliament Will Fight Over Colonial Law to Be Established

Brussels, July 25.—The close of King Leopold's strong struggle to stave off the annexation of the Congo to Belgium, and to retain his personal sov ereignty over this rich and extensiv African state, is foreshadowed in the agreement reached between the Bel gian and the Congo governments, elabo rating the terms upon which the Cong-Free State shall pass into the posses sion of Belgium. This transfer will mark an importan epoch for the Congo, as heretofore the entire conduct of affairs, civil and mili tary, has been under the personal di rection of King Leopold and a cabine of Congo officers entirely separat from and independent of Belgium whereas the new regime will make the Belgian government, instead of th king individually, responsible for the conduct of Congo affairs.

The British and American govern ments have favored placing this gov ernmental responsibility on Belgium as the British officials have made th point that there was great difficulty dealing with the Congo in view of it anomalous position as a personal de pendency of the king, whereas foreign governments could deal with it through the usual diplomatic channels if the Belgian government assumed responsibility for its administration.

The proposed transfer comes at time when Major Lemair's charges o Congo atrocities are again directing attention to the past administration Charges of this nature have heretofor aroused much resentment in Europe and the United States, and the Congo administration has sought to meet them in part by the investigations of : commission, the report of which dis closed many serious abuses. Lemai now renews the attack with a vehe mence and an authoritative status which give added effect to his charges For five months after the Belgian parliament committed itself last Decem ber to the principle of annexation Count de Naeyer, the premier and strong personal friend of the king. blocked the way, and the parliamentar commission appointed to investigate the intricacles of the Congo financia administration was powerless to get a

The de Troos government assumed power in May upon the promise to picion that it had made an agreement with the king, who was ready at las to yield on the question of annexation through fear of the intervention by outside powers, but who, it is believed has no intention of permitting the Bel gian parliament, if he can prevent it. to pry too closely into the Congo ad ministration. The question of the responsibility of the future administra tion of the Congo under a regime of annexation is to be, therefore, the real

No difficulty about the treaty of an nexation itself is anticipated. It is expected to be similar to the one pro posed by Count Merodel when he was premier in 1895. The document simply declared that the sovereign of the Congo, Leopold II, cedes his sovereign rights and all the assets of the Cong Free State to Belgium, which in turn assumes the liabilities of the African

The real fight will follow upon the terms of the colonial law. When Belgium was created Belgian colonies were not foreseen and no provision was made in the constitution for colonia administration. The Belgian royalists want the law to practically convert the present Congo administration into an autonomous government not respons ble to parliament.

The other side also desires to give the Congo full autonomy, but insist that unless the administration is maddirectly responsible to the Belgian parliament there will be no way of co recting present abuses and preventing the exploitation of the natives for the benefit of the rubber and ivory companies. In other words, they say the humanitarian reasons which now exst for annexation would be defeated. and the whole scheme for getting the Congo out of the clutches of its pres ent maladministrators might as well be abandoned.

The indications are that the whole subject will be threshed out in parliament during the fall, and January or February, 1908, will see the Congo Free State a colony of Belgium, in stead of a personal dependency of King Leopold.

Govern; Wormwood and Knotts. Boss Salvationist Not Poor

New York, July 25 .- Detectives in Brooklyn last night raided the industrial home conducted by the "American Salvation Army," said to be an offshoot of the original Salvation Army, and arrested 21 persons on technical charges of vagrancy, including Commander-In-Chief Duffin of Philadelphia, who came here yesterday to reorganize the Brooklyn branch. It was harged that the home was operated in the interests of its managers rather than for charitable purposes. Duffin was searched and found to have $680 in cash and bank books representing deposits of about $20,000. This was his personal property, he said.

Korea In Japan's Grasp

Tokio, July 25 .- Advices dated Seoul say that a new convention between Japan and Korea has been concluded. The text of the convention has not yet been made public, but it is reported to consist of seven articles. Its main feature is that it invests the resident general with complete control of the internal administration of Korea and appoints Japanese officers of the Korean government. The removal of the deposed emperor to Tokio was not included in the demands.

The Whitney Family Suit

New York, July 25.-Judge Dayton has confirmed the report of Referee Lawrence in a suit brought against Payne Whitney and others by Harry will and testament of his father, Willlam C. Whitney, to have his accounts approved. The referee found that Harry P. Whitney is entitled to $480,-471 for his services. The total amount remaining in the hands of the executor on June 30, 1907, was $25,535,765.

The people on shore may have seen the two vessels disappear in the mist during the storm and erroneously supposed they had foundered.

Simple Life For Army Officers Berlin, July 25 .- A cabinet order diected against the habits of luxurious living that prevail in the officers corps at Hanover has been issued. Emperor William believes an easy life has a softening effect on the men and unfits them for campaigning, and that the growing scale of luxury in the army tends to keep comparatively poor men from becoming officers. There are at present nearly 500 vacancies for officers in the German army.

Order of Elks Attracting Attention All Over Country

The action of Quincy lodge of Elks summering at Houghs Neck, is being city to the guests at the launching commended everywhere. Much has one of the speakers at the summer out. of the phenomenal growth of Quincy sociation on Wednesday at Ferncroft Philadelphia, and many good times It is not surprising that Quincy people want to know more about such a hospitable order, which is coming to the front not alone in this city but in the country at large.

> Concerning the Elks Leslies Week ly says: This organization, which is less than forty years old, has de veloped a vitality unsurpassed in the history of fraternal bodies. The order had its origin in the city of New York, its natal day being February 16th, 1868 and it was primarily intended to be a benevolent and protective association for the purpose of profession and kindred arts. The fact that so many brilliant entertainers were to be found in its ranks attracted men of liberal and Bohem ian tendencies, and the barriers originally erected were removed, and in in the city of Philadelphia.

As these two cities were for many years the most important theatrical centres, it was not found necessary to enlarge the number of lodges until 1876, when No. 3 was established in the city of San Francisco. Chicago No. 4 and Cincinnati No. 5 also were added to the roster in the same year, but so conservative was the growth of the order that at the beginning of From the headquarters of the Old 1882 there were but fourteen lodges

The peculiar coloring given to the order in the days of its early formation has been maintained. It was never a "benefit" fraternity, but always benevolent, and its benevolence takes the form of distributing during each year, not only to its own members, but in all cases of suffering and distress brought to its attention, the sum of about half a million dollars. In many of the cities of the country it supplies the poor of the with food, clothing, and fuel, and a number of the lodges subscribe for and prepare a Christmas-tree, from which are distributed to the children who would otherwise be unable to en-The Sunday school of the Mission joy Yuletide festivities useful pres-

The Salem is much nearer comple tion than most ships are when launched. Seen on the ways, the exceeding sharpness of her prow is most noticeable and every graceful line of her hull bespeakes the great speed which is her prime requisite. The high free board, or "sides" as a landsman might describe it, accentuates the effect of her tapering prow and makes it look indeed like a knife blade.

The arrangements for the launching have all Leen completed. The invited guests will be taken from Boston by special train leaving the South Station at 10.25 A. State Disclaims Intention of Giving Immunity to Orchard

CLOSING ARGUMENT BEGUN

Darrow Finishes His Plea to Jury and Says Others Will Take Haywood's Place If He Falls--Trial Will End Tomorrow

Boise, Ida., July 26 .- The case of the state of Idaho against William D. Haywood, charged with the murder of former Governor Steunenberg, will rest with judge and jury tonight.

Mr. Darrow, after speaking for 11 hours, concluded the final plea for Haywood's life at 4:20 p. m. yesterday and at 7 o'clock last evening Mr. Borah opened the closing argument for the prosecution. He will speak for three sessions, or about seven hours. Judge Wood will instruct and charge the jury

ADVERSE FINDINGS

SHARED BY ALL PARTIES

Scope of Masters' Inquiry Into the Mental Condition of Woman Will Not Be Restricted -- Already Tangled Case Becomes More Complicated

Concord, N. H., July 26 .- Five motions offered by counsel in the litigation growing out of the suit for an accounting of the property of Mrs. Mary B. G. Eddy, bearing on questions which have developed in connection with the case, were denied by Judge Chamberlin in the superior court here.

The motions included propositions to restrict the scope of the inquiry to be made by three masters appointed by the court to determine the mental condition of Mrs. Eddy; to grant an allowance from Mrs. Eddy's property to defray expenses attending the conduct of the case, and to permit the defendants—a number of leading Christian Scientists-to become parties to the inquiry by the masters. All of these motions were denied by Chamberlin, and while all parties shared in the adverse finding of the court, it was explained by those familiar with the proceedings that the decision not to change the scope of the masters' inquiry gave the advantage to the "next friends," who brought the original action for an accounting.

The court granted the right to coun sel to take exceptions. It is understood that this privilege will be accepted, and the proceedings already involved beyond the limits of lay knowl edge thereby become further compli cated. While denying the motion for funds to prosecute the case, Chamber lin intimated that should Mrs. Eddy be found incompetent to manage her property the question might be reopened, and he announced that further consideration of a motion by the "next friends," that the rule requiring them to furnish a bond for the costs of the suit might be suspended. would be given.

The array of counsel appearing was notable. Mrs. Eddy was represented by Frank S. Streeter, Attorney General Eastman of Exeter and Oliver E. Branch. The interests of the socalled Boston defendants were in the care of Samuel J. Elder of that city, and the "next friends" were represented by William E. Chandler and De Witt C. Howe. Other counsel is connected with the plaintiffs' side, but they did not appear in court yesterday

The Mesaba Range Strike

Duluth, July 26 .- Unless conditions come more aggravated than they are at present, state troops will not be called to the Mesaba range. This was decided by Governor Johnson after an inspection of conditions at the three principal towns in the strike area Chief of Police Wring of Hibbing told the governor that he could produce witnesses who would swear that the lives of certain miners would be endangered if they did not cease in their opposition to the strike movement.

Vacancies In Mutual Life Board New York, July 26 .- Hiram S. Maxim, who was elected on the administration ticket, has resigned from the board of trustees of the Mutual Life Insurance company. It is understood that pressure of other business was the cause of the inventor's retirement. The refusal to serve of Ralph Peters, president of the Long Island railroad, who was recently nominated a trustee, has caused another vacancy in the board.

New World's Trotting Mark

Detroit, July 26 .- Out of the golden west came another trotting wonder when Sonoma Girl, the Los Angeles mare, won the great Merchants and Manufacturers stake of $10,000 and smashed the world's trotting record for green mares by a mile in 2:061-4. Greater fame awaits the new queen, for trotting men declare that Sonoma Girl will prove herself the fastest trotter the American turf has seen.

Georgia Will Be Prohibition State Atlanta, July 26 .- Georgia's prohibiion bill, pending before the lower house, will be made the special order of business for July 30, and a final vote will be taken that day. With a majority of nearly four-fifths favoring the bill, which has already been passed by the senate, and with Governor Smith pledged to sign it when passed, problbition in Georgia appears to be a foregone conclusion and possibly four persons lost their lives when lightning struck the hardware store of W. S. Hemingway, exploding a quantity of dynamite. The storm was at its height when a boit struck the building. There was a terrific report, immediately followed by another as the dynamite exploded. The building instantly became a mass of flames.

After the meeting it was reported that a committee of women would go through the district and endeavor to destroy al meat, but the police have taken measures to prevent any such attempt and

The trouble grew out of a report that the retail kosher butchers had in a recent strike against the wholesalers obtained certain concessions in the matter of price, but were unwilling to admit this, as they wanted to reap the benefit of the reduction. The women allege the retailers have been charging 14 cents and 16 cents a pound for meat which last year at this season could be bought for 10 cents and 12 cents. More than one thousand women met and formed an organization. They pledged themselves to use all possible efforts to influence other Jewish women to join in the movement against the butchers.

Fall River Weavers Vote to Accept Offer of Manufacturers

Fall River, Mess., July 26 .- The Weavers' union, at a special general meeting last night, voted to accept the offer of the manufacturers of a standard of 47½ yards for print cloth cuts, in place of the 46-yard standard which has been demanded. The vote on the question of accepting the offer of the manufacturers was close, a large number of the weavers being opposed.

This is the outcome of a conference which was held between the executive committee of the Manufacturers' association and a committee of five from the Weavers' union. The manufact turers insisted that it would be imposible to grant the 46-yard standard, but they were willing to drop the question of speeds and fix upon one single stand-

Only One Hour Behind the Schedule Time To New Orleans

The New Orleans Picayune had a flattering report of the new turbine steamship built by the Fore River so conspicuously trim in her ways, New Orleans, and which is now on her way back to New York, having on board Chief Engineer Edwards, Assistant Manager Brown, Electrical Engineer Crain and other representatives of the Fore River Company. The Picayune says:

The Southern Pacific steamer Creole, the first American-built seagoing turbine ship, reached port yesterday at 1 o'clock, just one hour behind the schedule which had been mapped out for her by her designer, W. A. Fairburn, who came South to watch the vessel on its maiden voyage from

Mr. Fairburn said that during the Creole's trip to New Orleans it was impossible for one sitting in the dining-room to detect that the ship was moving. There was no seasickness on board, because of the easy-going qualities of the vessel. In this respect Mr. Fairburn believes the ship is remarkable, and that this quality will make it a success so far as a of Bay View street, both of whom speed is a matter to be determined definitely later.

Mr. Fairburn said: "On the trip South we took our time. # Old Landmark Being Razed

The old house on Water street known as the Malakoff house, having been ordered vacated by the Board of Health, is being torn down, thus removing another old landmark.

The house was originally built by the parties who erected the Presidents' birthplaces, and was located on School street, where the Edwards tery at Holbrook. Case continued until Aug. house now is, and was known as the Virchild estate.

Just when the house was built is not known, but it must have been about the year 1700, for when Richard Cranch received his commission as postmaster April 1, 1795 he resided in this house and the post office was located there.

Somewhere about 1850 the building was moved to Water street, then known as Liberty street.

It was given the name of Malakoff by some shoemakers who lived there during a labor trouble.

Of late years it has been occupied by a number of Italian families, and was so occupied when ordered vacated by the Board of Health. In tearing the building the workmen have found many valuable old coins, some bearing date of 1734.

THE ENTERTAINMENT.

The launching party were then escorted to the mould loft where a lunch was served. As they passed through to the part partitioned off for the lunch room they saw the lines of the new 20,000 battleship which were being laid down.

That part partitioned off for the lunch was gaily decorated with flags of all nations and looked very attractive. Among the decorations was a handsome Massachusetts State flag presented by the City of Salem. This flag is to be presented to the Peabody Academy of Science at Salem as a memento of the occasion.

One of the novelties served at the lunch were the famous Salem confections known as Gibraltars.

SCISSORS BLADE WAS USED

One of the Victims Is Dead and Other Two Will Probably Succumb to In-

Berlin, July 27 .- A series of coldblooded crimes, singularly resembling the "Jack the Ripper" murders, but for the fact that instead of women the victims were little girls, followed one another with remarkable celerity yesterday afternoon almost in the centre of the city and aroused intense excitement and indignation.

Within a short time the assassin successfully enticed three girls, the oldest 5 years old, into doorways of houses and stabbed them several times in the abdomen with a sharp instrument. As a result one of the children is dead, another dying and the third is not expected to live.

The first knowledge of the crimes came when an occupant of the house at the corner of Ryke and Belforter streets found the body of Margaritha Prawitz, aged 4, lying in the doorway Lynn ...... 2 · 5 bathed in blood, the bowels protruding and the lower part of the body hor- lian and Madden. ribly gashed.

The man was then taken in a cab guarded by police to the police station. The crowd outside the station, believing him to be the murderer, attempted to drag him from the vehicle and lynch him, and he was only saved by the policemen drawing their swords and mediate danger. The steamer has four holding the crowd at bay. The people then attempted to storm the station, and the prisoner was removed to the central station for security.

Experts who have examined the note found on the seat have come to the conclusion that it was written by a madman. They will secure samples of writing from the prisoner and compare these with the note.

A Captain of Industry.

A Presbyterian minister of Buffalo had a young son, a lad about ten years of age. He was endeavoring to bring him up in the way he should go, and was one day asked by a friend what he intended to make of him. In reply he said:

"I am watching the indications, I have a plan which I propose trying with the boy. It is this: I am going to place in my parlor a Bible, an apple and a silver dollar. Then I am going to leave the room and call in the boy. I am going to watch him from some convenient place without letting him know that he is seen. Then, if he chooses the Bible, I shall make a preacher of him; if he takes the apple, a farmer he shall be; but if he chooses the dollar I will make him a business man.'

The plan was carried out. The arrangements were made and the boy called in from his play. After a little while the preacher and his wife softly entered the room. There was the youngster. He was seated on the Bible, in one hand was the apple, from which he was just taking a bite, and in the other he clasped the silver dollar. The good man turned to his consort. "Wife," he said, "the boy is a hog. He'll be a captain of industry in spite of anything we can do."

Birthplace of Two Burial Place Of Two

Old historic Quincy settled in 1625 has much of interest to visitors. When Braintree was incorporated in 1640, the territory now known as Quincy, was a part. In 1792 Quincy became an independent town, and in 1888 was incorporated as a city.

Quincy was named in honor of Col. John Quincy, descendant in the third generation from Edmund, 2d, who settled in Quincy, in 1634; grandfather of Abigail (Smith) Adams, the wife and mother of a President of the United States.

The city includes Wollaston, Atlantic, Quincy Point, South Quincy, West Quincy, Montclair, Norfolk Downs, Wollaston Park, Squantum, Houghs Neck, Adams Shore, Germantown and Quincy Neck, comprising in all over 16 square miles, of which 2,530 acres are in public parks.

AGAIN BRITISH CHAMPION.

May Sutton's Defeat of English Tennis Leader, Mrs. Chambers.

In the all England women's tennis championship singles at Wimbledon recently Miss May Sutton of California defeated Mrs. Chambers, the well known English champion.

Miss Sutton thus won back the title of British champion which she lost last year to Mrs. Chambers, who was then Miss Douglass. Miss Sutton won easily in straight sets of 6-1, 6-4. The new champion received a remarkable ovation from the crowds in

He was smiling comfortably in his half shy, half roguish way and flirting openly with Marguerite Maguire in the front seat.

"Hardy, you are late again."

"Yessum," said Hardy happily. "It's the fourth time this week, Hardy. Have you any excuse?"

"No'm." Hardy rubbed one shoe to jam his stockinet cap into his side trousers pocket.

It was so still in the large, sunny schoolroom you could hear the clock tick high up on the wall and the buzzing of the flies over near the open window where the rows of geraniums stood, but slowly the color mounted in Hardy's little, thin, freckled face, and after a minute he looked up at Miss Orvis, his big blue eyes filled with a half apologetic bewilderment.

"I never had any mother." The silence was worse than ever. Miss Orvis caught her breath and looked at the rest of the children to see what horrible effect the announcement had made on them, but they were only interested and joyous over the diversion, Hardy caught the look and hastened to cover his mistake. "But I got a father, Miss Orvis, all right. I'm Reddy Lane's kid, and Reddy's a watchman over on the bridge at night, and he don't get home till most 10 o'clock in the morning, and that's why I'm late, 'cause I like to have breakfast with him." Miss Orvis hesitated, but the blue eyes pleaded well their cause, and she smiled as she laid one hand on Reddy Lane's kid's head. But somehow all the morning she caught herself musing on the child who had no mother. It was a tragedy, of course-some stormy, tear swept page of life from the great city's underworld and only this bit of wreckage left to tell the story. Tears welled to her own lashes once or twice as she

"Hello, Red! This is teacher." It was the only introduction they ever had, those two, and neither ever forgot the moment. Flushing to the curls of her soft dark hair, Pauline Orvis saw before her Reddy Lane of Cherry street. He was tall and broad shouldered, this watchman on the big bridge, blue eyed, with keen, unswerving gaze, strong jawed, with a mouth close lipped and short fair hair that curled crisply back from his young, resolute face. In his navy blue sweat er he looked like a college boy, but the hands that held his cap were the hands of the toiler.

"I just run around after the kid there," he explained, lowering his voice as if he were in a sanctuary. "He's always home as soon as the rest, and I'm worried when he don't show up.

"No. ma'am." Reddy answered earnestly. "My mother got him out of the foundlings when he was about two months old. ### GOOD AFTERNOON.

A beautiful day for the launching the entertainment of Salem guests the open regata, the clambake ,the ball games, and the people generally. There certainly is something doing in Quincy today.

The great interest of the Quinc woman on the Boston committee for Old Home Week pilgrimages in the City of Presidents is shown when she lost her interest in the birthplaces of the Presidents, the burial places of the Presidents, and the birthplace of John Hancock. It is now plain that efforts were made to side track Quincy, but some of the Adams spirit remains, and the City of Presidents proposes to be in it.

The Daily Ledger is pleased that its suggestion relative to guests from out of town to the launchings at the Fore River shipyard was so quickly adopted. It means much to Quincy, and stamps Quincy lodge of Elks as the most hospitable organization in the city. They have not only made a liberal appropriation of money, but they have overcome unexpected obstreet railway officials they have ar- run people from Salem will long remember with pleasure. They will see the place for a day's outing.

Quite a large section of the press is trying to get up a states rights excitement over the railroad rate situation. Several of the states have passed railroad legislation, affecting the lines within their own borders and in some of the states the railroads have declined to recognize the new law, holding that railroad legislation is a federal function and that the individual states have made their mandatory rates so low as to amount to confiscation, which is of course contrary to the constitution. The first state in which there has been an absolute clash of state and federal authority has been in North Carolina, where Judge Long, the state judge, has fined the railroad $30,000 for non observance of the two cent fare law and has sentenced two of the ticket agents to work in the chain-gang in lieu of their paying a fine. Judge Prichard of the federal court has allowed a writ of habeas corpus and released the agents, declaring the state law unconstitutional.

On this conflict of authority the excitement is based. As a matter of fact, there is not the least excuse for hysterics. By the action of the state and federal courts, the question of law in the case has been squarely and promptly raised. Nobody expects to see the governor of North Carolina call out the militia to keep the erring ticket agents in the chain-gang. Neither need anyone expect to see federal troops invade the soil of North Carolina to To send to your friends to visit the uphold Judge Prichard's decision. The case will simply go to the Su- City of Presidents may be obtained preme Court of the United States at the following places: and probably will be advanced on the docket for a prompt hearing owing to its importance. Before the case gets a chance to come to a hearing the American public will probably have had forty other sensations to interest it and when the decision of the Superior Court is rendered, the newspapers will have to print a column of explanation along with it to remind people what it is all about. It may seem ungracious, but really, we cannot work up any excitement worth mentioning on the subject of state rights.

Lodge Will Enthuse Delegates to Republican Convention

BARTLETT MEN WIDE AWAKE

Democratic Machine Is Largely For Nomination of Henry M. Whitney--Independence League Will Have Its Own State Ticket

The announcement that Senator Henry Cabot Lodge is to preside at the Republican state convention in October has pleased every loyal Republican in the state. It is 16 years since Mr. Lodge has acted in that capacity in Massachusetts, and his selection was one in every way fit to be made.

There is no contest over any place on the state ticket this fall and there will be very little to bring the delegates to Boston. But Senator Lodge can always draw a crowd and fill a hall in Boston, and his selection makes it certain that the state convention will have a full quota of delegates. No mar. in Massachusetts today has done so much for the Republican party as Senator Lodge. He is pre-eminently the one Massachusetts leader who can arouse the enthusiasm of a Republican gathering and set Republican committees heartily at work for the ticket. At Washington he is known as the ablest senator in the country, and he has earned this reputation by hard and persistent work and by his brilliant and scholarly attainments.

It is quite possible that Democrats may not like this selection. Mr. Lodge is too forceful a fighter to be particularly pleasing to Democrats. Heknows their weak points and his shafts of logic and satire easily penetrate them. His speech to the state convention will undoubtedly be the ablest deliverance of the kind in this state for many years. It will be worth a great deal to be present and listen to what the senior senator has to say upon the issues of the

Possibly this appointment will not please everybody in the party. There are some who would prefer a person half Democratic, rather than the senator, who is altogether Republican. But the real Republicans, those who are party men month in and month out, will be delighted to come to the convention and listen to the remarks of the greatest statesman in New Eng-

Bartlett In Dead Earnest

If anybody ever had any doubt of the sincerity of General Charles W. Bartlett's candidacy for the Democratic gumust now be dispelled by the earnest work being done to boom the Boston

For some weeks now several of the most closely connected with the Bartlett movement have been canvassing the state to ascertain, as nearly as possible, just what Democratic sentiment in regard to the nomination may be. The results of this canvass have convinced the Bartlett men that there is a very emphatic protest against the nomination of Henry M. Whitney of Brookline.

There is a very considerable element in the Democratic party which regards Mr. Whitney as an undesirable candidate. They recognize his shrewd political mind, and are well aware that he is a man of large ability and incessant activity.

None the less they fell that it would be decidedly unfortunate for the Democratic party, in a year when Democratic opportunity seems to be unusually promising, to nominate a man whose record would need instant defense after the adjournment of the state convention. They feel that his relations with the Massachusetts legislature have been of such a nature that he would justly be the target for the attack, not only of Republicans and Independence Leaguers, but also of independent citizens, who owe no allegiance to any party whatever. Mr. Whitney has been a long time in the public eye. He has been a financier, a promoter of large undertakings, a manipulator of legislative bodies, the head of a great traction company, and has also figured in various other capac!

Such Democrats feel that the Democratic party should nominate a man less vulnerable than Mr. Whitney. They argue that there is no lack of gubernatorial material and that the wisdom and discretion of the Democracy should lead it to make a stronger choice than would be done by nominating Henry M. Whitney. There is no doubt that Mr. Bartlett stands extremely could properly expect the full Democratic vote, since he has always been a Democrat and known as such from time immemorial.

Whitney Making Hot Fight At the same time it must be conceded by these Democrats that Mr. Whitney • We represent the largest and most o also is making a tremendous campaign. His friends have been traveling through the state for a good many weeks and during their journeyings they have met with a large number of influential Democrats and built up a Whitney organization which looks strong and substantial. There is no doubt that Mr. Whitney is making an intelligent and active canvass for the nomination. His lieutenants have done sufficient work to show public sentiment to be at present for Whitney rather than for Bartlett.

This is partly true for the reason that nearly all the old warhorses of the Democratic party came out for Whitney early in the season, and before it was generally known that General Bartlett was to shy his castor into the ring. These men feel that Mr. Whitney is to be the nominee, unless something entirely unforeseen should happen meanwhile to upset the present calculations. There was a time when Mr. Whitney felt that a nomination for the governorship would be almost as good as an election. He does not think so now. He is well aware that Governor Guild has made an excellent executive and six months. The Independence League has no use for Henry M. Whitney. One of its members said the other day that members of the league would absolutely refuse to vote for any man with the legislative record of Henry M. Whitney. He said he could heartily support General Bartlett, but so far as he was concerned, if Whitney were nominated by the Democratic state convention, he for one would refuse to vote for him at the polls, but on the contrary would vote for Governor Guild in preference.

the masses by his acts during the past

Ind ependence League Anti-Whitney But now it is the fixed intention of the Independence League to nominate an entirely independent state ticket from top to bottom, and come out alone, wholly without regard to what action the Democratic party may take. It cannot be denied that the league has considerable strength. Some of its friends claim that it has a following, at the present time, of at least 20,000 voters, and that by next fall it will be considerably larger than this.

Democrats, however, declare that the Independênce League will cut both ways; that it will injure, not only the Democrats, but also the Republicans, and that it is possible it may inflict greater injury upon the Republican party than upon the Democratic. It is extremely doubtful if this is true. The larger number of those who will be found in the league column will come from the Democratic ranks. Those who have attended the League meetings say a great majority of those present have been men who were formerly well known as Democrats. This was said to be the case last year and it is even more likely to be so this year. The recent interview given out by John B. Moran, the picturesque district attorney of Suffolk county, has given the Democrats and also Whitney and Bartlett both a pretty emphatic jar. For Moran declared that with either Bartlett or Whitney, Democratic defeat was certain, and he undoubtedly spoke a large amount of truth. He might also have added that with Moran at the head of the ticket, defeat would not only be certain, but deserved. A good many other men are quite as thoroughly convinced that Whitney or Bartlett would be defeated, whichever one secures the Democratic nomination. That feeling is growing very much stronger all the time.

It is reasonized in all quarters that Governor Guild has made a spienus executive. No governor for years has made such excellent appointments absolutely above criticism, as has Governor Guild. All his official acts have doubtedly much stronger today than he was a year ago. From all parts of the state general commendation of his poli cies and his acts as governor have come down to Boston, and show better than anything else how he has gained ground in public estimation.

How to Follow Forest Trails. "The trail has a code of signs, as well as a book of laws." says Hamlin Garland in "The Long Trail." A twig designedly broken is like a finger pointing toward a gate. A 'blaze' corresponds to the beckoning hand. A new blaze renders an old one of no value. A sapling cut and bent across a path locks it and warningly says, 'Go no farther this way.' A stick set upright in the mud means 'no bottom

"By use of these and many other records of the same sort, the trailer profits by the experience of those who have gone before him and aids those who are to follow. There is always news on the trail for those who have eyes to perceive it, and it is the duty of him who rides ahead to enlighten those who are to follow. The Klikitat by means of signs almost invisible can cheer, direct and definitely warn his tribesman. These signs on the trail are respected. No one thinks of re moving them except for cause."

Manners Outside the Navy.

The ordinary seaman's respect for rank and station when not connected with his beloved vessel is decidedly meager. When the president of the United States visits one of our menof-war he is received at the gangway by the admiral, commanding officer and all of the officers of the ship, in full uniform, the marine guard drawn well in the party. If nominated, he up with the band on the quarterdeck the national flag is displayed at the main, the drummer gives four ruffles, the band plays the national air, and a salute of twenty-one guns is fired The same ceremony also takes place on his leaving.

On one occasion a president visited one of the ships informally, dispensing with the salute and ceremony, when one of the men rather indignantly asked another who that lubber was on the quarterdeck that didn't "douse his peak" to the commodore.

"Choke your luff, will you?" was the reply. "That's the president of the United States."

"Well, ain't he got manners enough to salute the quarterdeck, if he is?" "Manners! What does he know about manners? I don't suppose he about manners? I don't suppose he was ever out of sight of land in his life."—"On a Man-of-War."

THE SUMMER COTTAGE.

A Charming Living Room Scheme In Gray Green.

The room of which a sketch is shown suggests not a few novel ideas in coloring which will prove of use when furnishing a summer home. The wall was covered with gray green grass cloth up to about two feet from the ceiling. At this level was a ledge of dark wood, and on it were placed here and there an ivory tinted plaster cast, a platter of pink and green Chinese medallion ware, some bits of pewter, a jar of gray green pottery and a straight oriental vase in peach blossom pink. The rug on the dark polished floor green, the furniture fumed oak in French shapes, with a taboret of dark wood inlaid with mother-of-pearl, such as one may find in any of the oriental ware shops; no upholstery, but loose cushions of dull pink India linen with one of Russia crash embroidered in dull green and another of sage green velveteen, and straight curtains, to the sill, of greenish white raw silk.

No pictures were seen on the wall, but above the ledge there was a frieze golden pink, the foliage being of a

of a grayish brown. For a sunny bedroom gray grasscloth might be chosen, the woodwork being painted white and the floor covered with a gray and white rag rug, with long dashes of scarlet. The bedstead would be of white enamel, as should the bureau, and china trays and boxes of red and gold kaga, and a pair of iron dragon candlesticks with red candles. The same material was used for dressing the bed, the cover of the armchair and the valance of the short cheesecloth curtains, and it was cretonne, with a pattern of scarlet poppies. The table and another chair should be painted black, and one collects for this room one's scarlet leather belongings, one's books bound in red, white or gray, the lamp having a scarlet shade and a black and white Indian basket. For a bedroom, where the furniture is cherry or mahogany, the woodwork is stained to match and the doors and windows surrounded with a nosegay border with much rose red in it. A linen taffeta with rose red in it, with a gray ground, is used for cushions and covers, and mezzotints or their imitations were hung on the wall and were framed in narrow strips of mahogany.

New Salads.

A new salad to serve with game or cold meat is composed of carefully peeled chunks of orange, green grapes, a pear and some watercress, these to be served mixed in a bowl with a dressing of lemon juice and a slight sprinkle of white sugar.

Another more suitable for meat is finely shredded celery, small squares of beet root, some cooked artichoke bottoms and a few capers, the dressing for these being some whipped cream flavored with a little chili vinegar and covered with finely grated yolk of egg. A delicious salad for serving with chicken, either hot or cold, is made of the smallest leaves of a lettuce broken up, a few raisins, a sliced apple and a raw very ripe plum or two, with a

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

KEITH'S THEATRE.

Special preparations have been made at Keith's to make Old Home Week a st memorable occasion. Realizing that Keith's Theatre, Boston, is looked upon as the representative vaudeville heatre of the country, a program has been arranged that will uphold this reputation.

It is particularly fitting that the Padettes are to head the bill, for this the best female orchestra ever organized, is distinctively a Boston institution. As usual during its summer engagement at Keith's, there will be forty players under the baton of Caroline B. Nichols.

The best comedy sketch seen in vaudeville during the past year will be one of the features. Its title is 'Peaches" and it is the work of George V. Hobart. William Courtleigh plays the role of "John Henry," a sporty oung man who has reformed.

There has never been a more at tractive stage spectacle than Grigolati's Aerial Ballet, which will hold a place on the festival bill. The climax of this act is particularly beautiful. MAJESTIC THEATRE

This is the last week of rehearsals of "The Green Bird" and next Monday night the new D. K. Stevens and John A. Bennett musical show will be given for the first time on any stage at the Majestic theatre. Although the piece was written by a Boston man and is backed by Boston capital it is little. If there is already a cuff on the a thoroughly New York production for receive reward. all of the principals are Broadway favorites and the chorus is composed of Manhattan's very prettiest maids. Fred Lennox, George Schiller, Will H. Sloan and John P. Kennedy, who have the four leading comedy roles have all been featured in Broadway productions within the past year. "The Green Bird" is being staged by James Francis who has put on any number of big Broadway shows, and the music s under the direction of De Witt Coolman, one of the best men in his line of business. The scenery was painted by artists Hammond and La Moss who did "The Sultan of Sulu" and other beautiful productions and the costumes are being made by the same people who made the costumes for "Woodland" and a greater part of the New York Hippodrone production

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

Humor and pathos to the accompaninent of exquisite music will rule at the Castle Square next week. As special old Home Week attraction the management will offer a double bid consisting of Gilbert and Sullivan's omic opera, "H. M. S. Pinafore" and Mascagni's masterpiece of musica ragedy, "Cavalleria Rusticana." Bot of these operas sprung immediately nto popularity with their first pro luction and both have uninterrupted y retained their hold upon the public he younger generation of theatre oers, indeed, can scarcely credit the ales their elders tell of the furore created by "Pinafore" twenty-five years ago. "Cavalleria Rusticana" is lso of apparently never-ending popu larity, and many are the great singer who have sung its leading roles. Next week Miss Clara Lane will sing the ole of Santuzza with Louise Le Baron as Lola, Hattie Belle Ladd as Lucia K. Murray as Alfio. "Carmen" wi! flow during the week of August

Native Soldiers and Wives Flogged In Carrying Out Orders of King Leopold -- Final Realization of Deluge of Innocent Blood

Brussels, July 29.-Major Lemair is continuing the publication of his recollections of the Congo Independent State. The major served 18 years in the Congo in command of native troops. Upon his return to Belgium he was notified that he would be prosecuted for cruelty towards the men under him, and he retaliated by beginning the publication of a sensational exposure of the revolting conditions prevailing in the native army.

Aside from painting a black picture of the conditions in the Congo, the memoirs of the major reveal that the scientific expedition led by him into the Bairelghaza region, on the northern frontier, in 1904, was an expedition for conquest in disguise. The major declares that King Leopold gave him personal instructions to vanquish the Anglo-Egyptian forces coming down from the Soudan at any cost. "I cannot be held accountable for these acts," the major writes. "I am only responsible for the complete execution of these instructions.'

Major Lemair admits that on several occasions during this expedition, which lasted three years and two months, he caused native soldiers and even their wives to be flogged. He penetrated to regions never before reached by a white man and inhabited by wild tribes and cannibals, and he claims that there was no way other than flogging to preserve the discipline indispensable to the security and success of an expedition among brigands accustomed to kill, raid, and capture and to ill-treat wo-

In every instance of flogging, how ever, he faithfully reported the facts and never received a word of censure. On the contrary, he was accorded There is evident a healthy growing nothing but praise for his conduct of too insistent in calling attention to the frightful and unchecked abuses in the

The statements made by Lemair are supported by documentary evidence came to hand as to what was going on

A perusal of Lemair's recital carries the conviction that he is a sincere believer in the future of the Congo, dedetermined to put an end to the existoccasion he entered by way of Zambesi, and came out two years later at the estuary of the Congo.

When, as a young man, Lemair began his work in the Congo, "amid the rattle of musketry, the banging of cannon and the burning villages," he said he was taught that this course was the only one to bring the natives to their senses. Four years' service, however, opened his eyes to the true reasons why Africa was being deluged in innocent blood. Since then he had defended the blacks-pointing out their good qualities-and upheld the work of the missionaries. He realized the danger of a continuance of irresponsible control in the Congo and became a champion of annexation as the sole remedy. Continuing, the major relates his repeated and vain attempts to have the declared that Peru held cordial relasoldiery under him punished for their ill-treatment of natives. "I have seen them," he writes, "kick the poor rubminutes and the afternoons 15 min- ber and ivory bearers until they fell from exhaustion, and then torture the unfortunate amid howls of laughter. I repeatedly reported cases of robbery, murder and outrage, but these reports were unheeded.' Some of the depositions made by wogrims tomorrow from 10 to 12 A. M. by the soldiery during raids, maltreated at the hands of the men and then either sold to chiefs or made to The drug stores of E. J. Murphy and work like slaves. Some had seen their

INMATES FOUGHT FOR LIFE

Fourteen Death's as Result of Explosion and Tenement House Fire New York, July 29 .- An explosion accompanied by fire, shattered an East Side tenement late last night and with the crumbling walls 14 persons went down to death. The horror was a repetition of the periodical blaze that sweeps through the densely populated foreign section of the city.

The wrecked building was at 222 Christie street, where a six-story tenement rose above the grocery store basement. An explosion as yet unaccounted for tore out the front of the building and the fire that followed caught the 20 families, numbering about 100 persons, mostly Italians, while most of them were sound asleep. Of the injured many jumped from the windows, others were caught by falling timbers, many were dragged from the hallways while others received their wounds during the panic and made fight among each other for an exit.

Of the dead and dying the larger part are women and children. In the scramble for an exit and safety, the stronger in most cases survived.

"Flare Back" Report Unsatisfactory Washington, July 29 .- The text of the report of the board of investigation in the case of the explosion on board the Georgia is unsatisfactory to some of the experts in the navy department The board's decision is that the apparent cause was a flareback. It is pointed out that had the board confessed its inability to find any cause for the disaster there could be continued watchfulness for some hitherto unknown defects, but as long as the accident is attributed to the flareback the ordnance experts will probably con fine their efforts to its prevention.

Libel Suits Settled Out of Court London, July 29 .- Further actions against the Harmsworth newspapers The Daily Mail and the Evening News for libels published by them during the controversy that followed the attempt to bring about a combination of the soap manufactories, brought by Joseph Watson & Sons of Leeds, have been settled out of court. The news papers published an apology and made payment of damages to an amount which, according to Watson, exceeds Disagreement of Glass Jury San Francisco, July 29 .- The jury in the case of Louis Glass, vice presiden of the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph company, charged with bribing Supervisor Boxton, was unable to reach an agreement and was dis charged. The jury stood seven for conviction and five for acquittal on the first ballot and subsequent ballots brought

IS NOT A MURDERER

Decision of Jury Which Considered the Haywood Case

DELIBERATION OF 21 HOURS

Stolid Indifference of Accused Man Melts When Verdict Is Announced--Jury Disinalined to Place Credence

In Testimony Given by Orchard

Boise, Ida., July 29.—Into the bright sunlight of a beautiful Sabbath morning William D. Haywood, secretary and treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners, walked a free man, ac quitted of the murder of former Gov ernor Frank Steunenberg.

Probability of acquittal was freely predicted after Judge Wood read his charge, which was regarded as strong ly favoring the defense in its interpre tation of the laws of conspiracy, cir cumstantial evidence and the corrobo ration of a confessed accomplice. It was also predicted that in the event of Haywood's acquittal the state would abandon the prosecution of his associates, Charles H. Mover and George A. Pettibone. Statements from counsel and from Governor Gooding lispel this view of the situation. Application will be made to Judge

Wood to admit Moyer and Pettibon to bail. It is said that as to Moyer against whom the state is admitted to nave its weakest case, a favorable con ideration would not be unexpected. Not the least interesting of the comments made upon the verdict was that of Harry Orchard, the confessed murderer of Steunenberg, and the witness on whom the state chiefly relied to rove its charge of a conspiracy amon ertain members of the Western Fed eration of Miners. When told at the state penitentiary that Haywood had been acquitted, Orchard said: "Well, I have done my duty. I have told the truth. I could do no more. am ready to take any punishment that may be meted out to me for my crime and the sooner it comes, the better." It was after being out for 21 hours that the jury, which at first had been divided 8 to 4 for acquittal and ther seemed deadlocked 10 to 2, finally came to an agreement. Events move rapidly enough after this and when the principal actors in the trial gathered nto the courtroom at a few moments before 8 o'clock the verdict was read. It came as an electric thrill to the prisoner, to his counsel, to the attorneys for the state and to the small group of newspaper reporters and court officers who had been summoned from beds but lately sought or from offices where sleepless waiting had marked the night Tears welled to the eyes of the man o during the SO dave of his tri had sat with stolid indifference writte on his every feature. At last the icy armor that he had thrown about him elf with the first day of jury selection had been pierced. Haywood's attor neys were fairly lifted from their seats and Judge Wood made no effort to restrain them as they surrounded him to shake his hands and shout aloud their congratulations. The court proceedings over, the prisoner was discharged and the jury disnissed in less than three minutes time. News of the verdict was received re uctantly in Boise. The long time the jury was out had conveyed the general impression that there could be no other outcome than a disagreement. Haywood's first thought was of his nged mother, who on Saturday suffered a nervous breakdown after the jury had retired. Leaving the courtroom, Old Home Week Haywood walked to the jail portion of the building, shaking hands as he went with guards, employes and friends. He bade farewell to Moyer, who, when he heard the verdict, said, "that's good," and to Pettibone, whom Darrow de scribed to the jury as a "sort of 'Happy Hooligan," and who called: "Giv my regards to Broadway." Then Hay wood went to St. Luke's hospital and into his mother's room. So great wa's the tonic on the mother that last night she was up and about and happy. Next Haywood went to the little cottage where his wife and daughters have been staying. Once home Haywood said: "I want to thank the people of Boise for their kindness to my wife, my mother, my family and my friends." There are many in Boise who incline to the opinion that a controlling influ ence with the jury was their disbelief of Orchard's testimony. Haywood's counsel heaped abuse on Orchard and FURNITURE and PIANO MOVER, told of the general contempt in which all classes held such a man as he. The attorneys played on the probability that Orchard had been promised immunity by someone connected with the prosecution and called attention to the fact that he had been treated with the greatest of consideration by the pen tentiary authorities since his confes sion was made to a Pinkerton detective Judge Wood, in his charge, warned the jury to view Orchard's testimony with great caution, and as a test of the con story told by Orchard be laid aside and the remainder of the evidence viewed Hancock street. separately. It was not necessary however, he added, that the corroborating evidence should prove every point. Thinks Verdict Was Just Washington, July 29.—President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, in an interview regarding the STORAGE WAREHOUSE of Labor, in an interview regarding the of Labor, in an interview regarding the outcome of the Haywood trial, declared that no honest American jury could have brought in any other verdict.

The alarm of fire woke up dozing Coney Island with a start and in a few ninutes Surf avenue was jammed with excited freaks and frolickers, chorus girls, snake charmers, animal trainers, performers, amusement employes-all the miscellaneous population of the isl and, in fact. Clothed in a state of ter ror and little else, thousands sped through the streets while the roar of sland to the other. It seemed as though nothing could save the buildings of the sland from destruction and hundreds the inhabitants began to remove their household effects into the streets. Inside the burning park all was excitement and confusion among the two score employes who slept in a house near the entrance. Carrying grips and luggage they scurried to the street and while the exodus was in progress a ery went up that San Dora, the armless and legless man, who eats a dozen meals a day just to show that he can do it without the aid of arms and legs, was missing. Seizing a basket, two employes hurried back and found San Dora wriggling along the floor toward he door. "The wonder" was piled into he basket and, though the flames and moke threatened to engulf his rescuers, he was carried to a hotel, where he re marked that his escape had been effected "without the loss of life or limb." One of the first to escape from his odging place was Francesco, the fire When things are calm and placid Francesco eats fire and breathes t forth again, all for a livelihood. Sometimes he is advertised to bathe in tongues of flame. But yesterday's conflagration was too much even for Francesco, and he wisely gave way to the Arthur Lee, manager of Steeplechase Park, said that the loss on the park, which was completely destroyed, would reach 1,000,000, and there was no insurance. The hotels destroyed were small and the property loss on them will not reach much over $100,000. Estimates of the total loss made by the show people are somewhat in excess of the figures set by the police and fire department. The fire chief who directed the fight says that "over $200,000" would be a conservative estimate of the dam age.

Raisuli's Pursuers Loot and Burn Tangier, July 29 .- The Shereefian troops attacked villages belonging to the Kamass tribe, in whose territory bandit Raisuli holds Caid Sir Harry MacLean prisoner. The troops burned and looted the villages, killing many of the inhabitants and taking a large number of prisoners. The government forces were completely victorious. MacLean's position is regarded as more precarious than ever.

HUB'S OLD HOME WEEK

Vice President Fairbanks Speaks on the Historical Common

Boston, July 29.-The distinctive feature of the opening day of Boston's Old Home week celebration was the presence of Charles W. Fairbanks, vice president of the United States who made two public addresses during Sunday, being listened to by many thousands on Boston common in the afternoon and at the People's temple in the evening.

Band concerts during the afternoon in the public parks and the illumina tions throughout the business section in the evening, with the electrical foun tains on the common and public gardens proved the most attractive features of the day. At many of the churches spe cial Old Home week services were held with former pastors in the pulpits.

Mr. Fairbanks came from his summe home at Danvers and spoke upon Boston common at 5:30 o'clock. He addressed the Jesse Lee meeting under the old elm on the common, which marks the spot where over a century ago this founder of Methodism ex pounded the tenets of his new faith. The address of the vice president was confined to Jesse Lee and his work Last night Fairbanks spoke in a similar strain at the People's temple.

Thirty-Three Boats Entered In Quincy Open Regatta

It was a north-west gale that greeted the fleet of yachts that participated in the annual open and interclub race under the auspices of the Quincy Yacht club on Saturday." All of the yachts got under way close reefed, and even then there was hardly a man who did not get wet to the skin.

It was a case of hustle all the time from start to finish, many of the yachts meeting with mishaps which although comparatively slight retarted them more or less, some not being able to finish.

Thirty-three boats competed in the races, each desiring to get a part of that $169 in prize money. Three prizes were given in nearly every class.

The winning yacht in each class was s follows:

Time and again when the ball went soaring to the outfield, and it was thought the hit was good for two or more bases, a South Quincy player was always waiting to gobble the sphere upon its decent to mother earth.

Donovan, A player who was tried out at third, made good in every way. During practice he was struck on the chest with a bat that accidentally slipped from the hands of a fellow player and for a time it looked as though he would be out of the game, but he pluckily got into the contest and the first time at the bat he drove the ball to deep centrefield for three bases.

Galvin in left field played a star game and made as senational a catch as was ever seen on a ball field. Running at top speed he leaped into the air and pulled down a line drive that was labelled three bases.

Burke's playing in right field wa also brilliant he making two difficult hard fly in centrefield.

Patterson the old relable was or the firing line for South Quincy and his pitching alone was worth the price of admission. He had the home team competely at his mercy in their attempts to connect with his sidewheelers. He had speed to give away and coupled with his bends and shoots it was a treat to see the opposing batsman try to dope out what he was handing to them. He hit, which in itself was a remarkable game, and is a record which many would feel proud to possess. Beside pitching a masterly game he fielded his position in fine style and got two

South Quincy scored both their runs in the fourth inning; Duffy scoring on Galvins single to centre and Birnie who reached first on a two-base hit scoring on Forbes single to left.

The features aside from those already mentioned was the fielding of Welch and Corbett and the playing of Ewing. The full score:

They Complain That Use of Tar Inside Vessels Chokes Them

The riveters object to the new orer of things at the shipyard and narched out of the yard this mornng. The cause of the strike is the ew practice which requires that bolts sed on the inside of vessels shall be coated with tar. This the men claim causes them to become choked with ar which is almost unbearable. Conequently the men struck. There were 200 riveters, rivet holders and olders on in the body that marched out. The management say the strike s causing them no anxiety.

D. J. Penman, chief electrician of the U.S. S. Vermont, and his fiance were guests at the home of Mr. and ard street. Mr. Penman was formerly an inspector at Fore River, being assigned to the submarines during construction, and he left here, carrying with him the respect of all with whom he came in contact.

James Nolan, a sailor on the Georgia, whose home is in this city, and who formerly worked in department S, rode out on the train with the writer Saturday, and says that William Burke, the lad who died so bravely, remained brave to the end, and that his last words were, "Think of me when you go to Quincy, Jim." Truly a brave noble lad graduated from the Fore River Yard into the American Navy.

The outing and clam bake at Paweys farm, Rock Island, was the most successful one ever conducted by the ley deserves great credit for his sucaccful management of the affair A olly crowd were they who attended, and it will be months before they get ver talking about it. The unanimous come an annual custom. This getting

A recent issue of the Charlottetown Guardian had this item: D. W. Mc-Queen formerly of Vernon River P. E. I., who returned recently after sixteen years absence, to see his native province, and visit relatives, leaves this morning on return to Quincy Mrs. McQueen, who accompanied him nere, will remain two weeks longer. They are both delighted with the scenery of the Island and with the kindness they have received from their many friends while here. Mr. McQueen is now employed as a foreman carpenter with the Fall River Shipbuilding Co. of Quincy.

Philip Pitts of department S reports splendid time during his vacation, aving just returned from Nova Scotia. As Miss Pinnock was waiting to eave the stand at the conclusion of the launching she hugged her nearest girl chum, and with eyes glistening with enthusiasm, cried, "I did it, didn't I," referring to breaking the bottle at the right time. It is scenes like this that brighten up the Fore River Yard at times.

The writer is willing to admit that many pretty girls attend the launchngs, who come from other cities, and many find their way to the stand erected for especially invited guests, but no lovelier women or prettier girls ever enter Fore River yard than are the wives, sisters and sweethearts of the men who labor at the shipyard. A. Bradford, blacksmith-of V department, is on the sick list the past

At the outing of the Fore River men a hotly contested game of base ball and foot ball were played. A reward will be paid to anyone who was present who can tell which side won in these contests. But fun certainly held full sway. The Ledger man was invited but could not accept, until very late. The day was a glorious one. The foremen were entertained by a sleight of hand performer who works in S department and songs by Joseph O'Bries of Y department. Councilman McKinnon was present, and it was a happy Asparagus Ferns. gathering that broke up at 8 P. M.

Elm Leaf Beetles Ouite Common,

The destructive insect, known as the Elm leaf beetle, are quite common in some parts of the city, but owing to the good work of Andrew Stewart and his gypsy moth gang they have done but little damage to our trees.

The beetle is a small worm, yellow n color, and about half on inch long. They breed very fast and their work s destructive. The method used to keep this insect in hand is to apply tanglefoot to the tree. The tanglefoot is applied with a comb and it is necessary to stir it up with a comb every few days, otherwise it becomes hard and the beetle readily crawls over it without getting caught.

One of the places infected are the large elm trees on the Thomas Crane | where. Public Library grounds, and if anyone desires to make a study of the stuck hard and fast in the tanglefoot. So 4.

A Good Thing Not Appreciated

Editors of Daily Ledger:

The concert given by the Quincy City Band on Thursday, July 25th was greatly enjoyed by the large gathering of people which assembled Choice Meats and Vegetables that evening, or to put it more correctly the parts of the concert which could be heard were enjoyed, for a large part of the concert was lost on account of the noise created by the large crowd of boys that flocked around the band stand.

If the Quincy City Band have enough public spirit to give these concerts entirely free of charge, they should at least have adequate police protection. At the last concert a large number of boys, each provided with a shingle or two, made it impossible for anyone to hear correctly the various numbers rendered by the band.

Whenever the music would begin the boys in question seemed to think that it was imperative that they make all the noise which it was possible to make, by striking the flat part of the shingle on the lower structure of the band stand.

It must be very discouraging to the members of the band to have to endure something like this at every concert, and I think the police department should see that such a thing does not occur again. There was one policeman there on the night mentioned, but he was not very much in evidence.

If it requires the services of several policemen to stop this nuisance, then the police department or whoever is responsible should see that the policemen are there, and if the members of the force would show the boys that they meant business, I think the boys would soon tire of their noisy methods, and the people who gathered at the concerts to hear the music, would be able to hear the various numbers and enjoy them. Citizen of Ward Three.

WORMS

6 YEARS SUFFERING RELIEVED IN 8 HOURS

DR. TRUE, DEAR SIR:—One of my boys had been troubled for about six years with cramp in the stomach, and suspecting that it might be brought on by worms, we gave him different medicines, but without effect. Last January he had a more severe attack than usual, and hearing of the almost miraculous effects of your Elixir, we gave him about a tea-spoonful, and in about eight hours it brought from him a living creature about eighteen inches in length. He has had no return of them since, and is now very

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and trying the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it falls to cure. Send for list of testimonials:

It was their first to North Wales since their accession of the throne, and as our readers may udge it was a big occasion.

Pickpockets Are Identified

The two men arrested by the police n Sunday on suspicion that they were pickpockets, were taken to the police headquarters, Boston, after court on Monday, to see if they could be recognized.

The Boston inspectors readily recognized the colored man who gave his name as James Boyd. His picture adorns the rogue's gallery. His name is James Walters and he is known in police circles as "the Black Prince." Picking pockets is his special line. He confines himself to diamonds and money and never takes watches. He usually follows the race tracks. He has done time and is well known.

The white man, who gave his name as George Bush, was not recognized, and the opinion is that he is a new one in the business. Although not recognized by the police, he has been identified by John Cavanagh as the man who relieved him of his pocket book at Houghs Neck three weeks ago. The men's cases come up in court on Wednesday.

Visit the Adams Shrine And Points of Historical Interest

Quincy was in holiday garb on Tuesday for the Old Home Week day and open house was the rule through out the city. Thousands of people were about and there was a constant stream of visitors going and coming all day. The crowds were not confined to out of town people for there were fully as many Quincy people about sightseeing.

There are thousands of residents who have never had the opportunity to visit the First church, the President Adams birthplaces, and the Dorothy Q house, and many improved the oportunity, showing that there is a great local interest in these places.

Right here it might be said that t would be a grand good thing if the Historical society, Daughters of Revoution and First church would follow he example of the Colonial Dames of the Dorothy Q house, and set apart one day each week when these places should be open to the public free of charge. As it is now a charge is made at these houses with the result that when they are thrown open to the public as on Tuesday there is a grand rush. Fully two-thirds of those registered Tuesday at the several places where open house was kept gave their residence as some part of Quincy showing that local interest is fully alive to the historic significance of these places. The crowds began to arrive shorty after 10 o'clock, and from that time until after 5 o'clock those in attendance at the several places were kept very busy explaining the various things of interest that were to be

At the rooms of the Board of Trade 15c. quality 160 registered, and there were many more that overlooked this in the rush. The Board of Trade certainly did themselves proud and showed that its members were fully alive to the Value 19c benefits to be derived from such a day. A large and efficient committee Value 25c was in charge all day and served ice cream, punch and cake to all visitors. The automobiles of Fred Barnicoat and Alexander Falconer, John R. Nelson and Charles H. Burgess, and carriages of Charles H. Johnson took visitors to the Adams birthplaces.

Miss Lizzie Furnald and a commitee of ladies served the refreshments. At the Adams shrine in the First church 384 registered, and it is estinated that fully 500 passed beneath phagi containing all that remains of the two Presidents and their wives-First John, and Abigail his wife, then

John Quincy and Louise his wife. At the birthplace of the Presidents there was a grand rush all day. At Value 10c no time was there any let up and at times during the afternoon they stood Value 45c five and six deep about the register, waiting to sign their names. At the John Quincy Adams house the Historical society served lemonade and while they thought they had an inexhaust-Value 29c able supply on hand they run short before the day was out.

Delicious iced tea was served all day Tuesday at the birthplace of President John Adams. It was the well known brand, "May Queen,". an orange Pekoee Ceylon tea presented to Adams Chapter by Thomas Wood & Co., importers, Commercial wharf, Boston. It was very refreshing and served to hundreds of visitors during the reception. At the Dorothy Q house nearly 300 visitors were shown about during the

From the Dorothy Q house some walked through Bridge street and viewed from Adams street the President's Mansion of Vassal house, now the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Adams, direct descendants of the Presidents. Then walked through Presidents lane or Goffe street, and stopped to accept the hospitality of the Quincy Women's Club the Brackett homestead. Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, the president, and Mrs. John W. Sanborn, a members, received, and were assisted by others in serving Mary E. Desmond of Dorchester grape juice and educator crackers. The house itself and the arts and crafts room in particular were admired by the guests.

Just what would have been the result but for the unfortunate confusion in dates, it is hard to tell, but certainly those in charge of the several points of interest had their hands full. As there was some uncertainty as to the dates when Quincy would keep open house yesterday's program is to be continued today although not on as large a scale.

Not a great many are expected today, at least not until late afternoon, as the parade in Boston this morning will prove a greater drawing magnet than will Quincy.

How a Woman Ridded a Bay State Town of "Coffin Nails"

Chatham, Mass., July 31.-Thirty dollars' worth of cigarets, all that the dealers in town had in stock when Mrs. Jennie K. Adams of the W. C. T. U. bought them out six months ago and secured a promise from the dealers that they would sell no more, were burned in front of the town hall last night. When cigarets will be sold in Chatham again is a question.

One day last winter Mrs. Adams quietly canvassed the stores and asked each merchant if he would refrain from selling eigarets if his competitors would. The merchants, little suspecting that the movement would succeed, answered readily: "Yes."

Before night Mrs. Adams had each merchant's word that he would sell no more after she had purchased the Everything in the household line can be bough cigarets which he had in stock. Since then no cigarets have been sold.

Applause from the crusaders was mingled with sighs from the smokers when the torch was applied to the straw upon which the last of Chatham's eigarets were piled.

Search Being Made For Alleged Armenian Terrorists

SLAYER OF RUG MERCHANT

He Formerly Lived In Lowell, Where His Trunk Is Captured by Police--Priest Held In $25,000 on Charge of Attempted Robbery

New York, July 31 .- Working upon information from this city, the Boston police are looking for a certain mem ber of the band of Armenian terrorists who are said to be behind the murder of the rich rug dealer in New York and who were responsible for sending the death threat to M. H. Gulesian, the wealthy Boston man. This man i said to have been on close terms with Father Martoogessian and is the alleged ringleader of the blackmailing so The police would also like to in terview Alexander Argonian, who is believed to be either in Boston or Wor cester. This man is over six feet tal and weighs only 140 pounds. He is very slender, but is constantly making such changes in his facial appearance that it is hard to recognize him. One day, an acquaintance says, he may have a beard and moustache and the next be smooth faced. It is said that Argouian may be able to give the police valuable information about the workings of the Black Hand society in this and other cities. It has developed that the young man who killed the rug dealer is Bedros Kachadorian, and that he had recently ived at the home of his uncle in Lowell. Mass. The assassin, it is declared. is a close friend of Martoogessian. When arraigned before Magistrate Cornell, Martoogessian listened calmly to the short affidavit charging him with attempting to extort $25,000 from Miram Kargheusian, Bedros Kazangian, Miram Korpootlian and Hourtsian Gulbenkian. The prisoner pleaded not guilty to the charge, and then when Cornell fixed bail at $10,000 went to the Tombs.

He was later indicted by the grand jury on a charge of attempted robbery in the second degree. He was imme diately arraigned before Judge O'Sulli van in the court of general session and held under $25,000 bail on the request of District Attorney Jerome Five other Armenians are held in $500

The priest and the assassin, it is de clared, have been in Boston together It is declared that the priest was in Boston last Saturday, and that the po lice of that city were expected to ar rest him then, but did not.

Slayer's Trunk Is Taken Lowell, Mass., July 31.-A myste

He was ccompanied by a local police officer and left town as mysteriously as he entered. The police declare they do not know who he is, but that he showed satisfactory credentials.

Doukhobors on the Move Winnipeg, Man., July 31.-Doukhobor pilgrims, 33 in number, started from Winnipeg yesterday eastward or a march to a warmer climate. They were persuaded not to go by way of the United States, being told that they would certainly be turned back at the border. They hope to reach Montreal, and have implicit faith in completing the hazardous journey and being able to take ship for southern Europe. They declined to work farms provided by the government, being averse to using horses or cattle. Couldn't Get American Ship Washington, July 31.—The British steamship Dunnotar Castle has arrived at New York under charter to carry freight and passengers between this country and Colon. The canal commission tried to secure a ship to temporarily replace the Alliancia, belonging to the canal commission, which will be laid up for six months undergoing re pairs. No suitable American bottom could be secured at any reasonable price, so the commission was obliged to take the British ship.

Taft Endorsed by Ohio State Republican Committee

Twig From Olive Branch Extended to Him and Dick In Form of Resolution Recognizing Their "Ability, "Wisdom and Patriotism"

Columbus, O., July 31.-The candidacy of William H. Taft for the Republican nomination for president was endorsed by the Republican state committee by a vote of 15 to 6. The endorsement carried with it a declaration that the Republicans of Ohio are "op- Mass. Tel. 349-5 Quincy. posed to the elimination from publi-life of Senators Foraker and Dick." Although beaten by a decisive vote in all the preliminary contests, the adherents of Foraker in the committee refused to accept the olive branch extended by the Taft supporters and finally adopted, no effort was made to make the action of the committee unanimous

The endorsement of Taft's candidacy by the Republican state central com mittee was vigorously opposed by Foraker, who, upon the eve of the meeting of the committee, openly voiced his dissent to the proposition. Seven of the 21 members of the committee favored Foraker's policy on all votes except that taken upon the adoption of the resolution endorsing Taft. A. W. McDonald broke with the Foraker forces on the final ballot, which stood

The Taft resolution was presented to the committee as soon as it convened by State Senator Overturf, who made a brief speech in support of it. C. B McCoy, who led the Foraker forces. raised the point of order that the con mittee was not following the order of business set forth in the call for the meeting issued by Chairman Brown. The chairman ruled that the point was not well taken and McCoy appealed from the decision of the chair, which was sustained by a vote of 12 to 7.

It was at this stage of the proceedings that the amendment to the resolution declaring that the Republicans of Ohio are "opposed to the elimination from public life of Senators Foraker and Dick, whose services to the party and state have been distinguished by ability, wisdom and patriotism" was offered by W. H. Phipps. Committee man Gould endeavored to block action at this time by a motion to adjourn. On a rollcall the motion was defeated, 14 noes to 7 ayes. The Phipps resolution, as amended, was finally adopted by a vote of 16 to 5. A. I. Vorys, the manager of the Taf campaign, declares that the action of the committee is important in that i gives assurance to other states tha Taft has the support of his party in Ohio and will be backed by the delegation from this state in the next national Republican convention.

Says Action Was Unauthorized Cincinnati, July 31.-When Senator Foraker learned of the action of the Republican state committee he gave out the following statement:

"I cannot add anything to what I said in my open letter published this morning. I wrote that letter foreseeing the result and feeling that it was my duty to give notice beforehand that I would not be bound by any such unauthorized action. The committee had no more right to speak on that subject for the Republicans of Ohio than any other 21 Republicans of the state might have had, and the action of the FRANK F. CRANE committee will not affect my course in any way. The next state convention will have authority to speak, and by the action of that convention it will be reading of the dispatches from Columbus, in which it was stated that Taft had been endorsed for the presidency as Ohio's candidate by the Republican state central committee, Senator Dick refused to make any comment. Neither would the junior senator discuss the letter of Senator Foraker to the committee in which the senior senator asked that no endorsement be made by the committee upon the ground that it would be premature.

For Naval Experts to Consider Washington, July 31.-Acting Sec retary Newberry of the navy has taken steps to carry out the plan agreed on between him and President Roosevelt for the convening of a board of naval experts to thoroughly investigate turret construction and operation with a view to the adoption of means to prevent, if possible, a repetition of disasters such as befell the battleship Georgia and which have occurred several

SADLY STRICKEN FAMILY

Two Dead From Burns and Two Not Expected to Recover

Cambridge, Mass., July 31.-Two people were burned to death and two will probably die from burns, as the result of a fire in a tenement block at 538 Tremont Building, Boston. 13 Plue street last night. The dead are David McGlashan, Jr., aged 8, and John McGlashan, aged 6. Euphemia McGlashan, aged 7, and David R. Mc-Glashan, 32 years old, father of the above children, are not expected to recover. Mrs. McGlashan was burned about the face and hands, but not seri ously enough to be taken to the hos

The McGlashan family were the oc cupants of the second floor tenemen of the house, which was three stories high and of wood. The fire, which broke out at 10:25 o'clock, is supposed to have resulted from the explosion of HERBERT A. HAYDEN a lamp. All the McGlashans were abed, and the flames had surrounded them before they were aware of their peril. The other families got out safely.

In the rescue of David R. McGlashan Albert Webster was severely burned about the hands and was in great peril of worse injuries. McGlashan and his his daughter were taken to a hospital, where it is said that there is little hope of their recovery from the terrible burns they received.

The monetary loss from the fire was confined to the McGlashan apartments. which were badly gutted.

Dry Times Coming In Georgia Atlanta, July 31.-The prohibition bill passed by the Georgia senate some days ago was adopted by the house last evening by a vote of 139 to 39. Two amendments added by the house will necessitate the bill going back to the senate for concurrence, of which there is no doubt. The bill then wil go to Governor Smith for his signature and prohibition will become a lay in Georgia. The new amendments permit the sale of pure alcohol by drug Wife Murder and Suicide New York, July 31 .- John Lynk, Pole, killed his wife by slashing her with a carving knife and then commit ted suicide by stabbing himself at his home in Brooklyn. The woman fell dead in the doorway as she was trying to escape. Lynk's fears that he would be deported to Europe, where, it i said, he was wanted for an offense, are thought to have unbalanced his mind.

Y., July 31.-The bed of the aqueduct carrying the Erie canal over Onondaga creek in this city fel out, the great suction of water draw ing into the vortex two canal boats which were moored at the docks of the Empire flooring mills and the Green way brewery, adjacent. Fifty feet of the Empire mill fell in, and the brewery, which is an immense structure, is Denmark's King In Iceland Reykjavik, Iceland, July 31.—King Prince Harald, Premier Christiansen and 40 members of the rigsdag, arrived here yesterday from the Faroe islands. Great crowds welcomed the party. The king has appointed a commission to arrange for legislation to define the constitutional status of Iceland.

Will Not Return to Stage New York, July 31.-Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, in a statement concerning her plans, declares that she has no present intention of returning to the stage, but will devote her energies to the study of music. This statement was called out by a published report that Mrs. Thaw intended to take a leading role at a Broadway theatre.

Illinois Coal Mines Consolidate East St. Louis, Ills., July 31.-The consolidation of 10 coal mines and a washery, under the name of the Bessemer Coal company, capitalized at $1,-000,000, has become known here. It is believed that the merger is a step to ward the ultimate consolidation of all the mines along the Illinois Central railway southward from here.

Further Exhibition of Nerve San Francisco, July 31 .- Eugene F. Schmitz, the convicted mayor, yesterday made appointments to fill the vacancies created by the forced resignations of 14 members of the board of supervisors, Schmitz claiming the right of appointment on the ground that he is the rightful mayor of San Francisco.

McLain's Life Threatened

Tangier, July 31.-Gerard A. Lowther, the British minister here, has received a letter from Caid Harry Mac-Lain, stating that Raisuli, who holds him prisoner, threatens to put him to death unless the sultan's troops are withdrawn from the Elkmes territory.

Panama Land Takes a Drop Colon, July 31.-The land around Lion Hill, 10 miles from Colon, is reported to have sunk yesterday afternoon. It is stated also that trains are unable to pass, so extensive is the damage in that region.

Old historic Quincy settled in 1625 has much of interest to visitors. When Braintree was incorporated in 1640, the territory now known as phone in every day and the men eat Quincy, was a part. In 1792 Quincy their lunch while listening to strains became an independent town, and in 1888 was incorporated as a city.

Quincy was named in honor of Col. John Quincy, descendant in the third generation from Edmund, 2d, who settled in Quincy, in 1634; grandfather of Abigail (Smith) Adams, the wife and mother of a President of the

Board of Trade Old Home Week

The Board of Trade rounded out its strenuous day of Tuesday by an entertainment in the evening at its rooms in the Adams building. The affair was largely attended the rooms being none too large to accommodate those present.

The evening which proved one of rare pleasure was opened by a brief address of welcome by President Williams . Mr. Williams said that home coming had been a thing of joy since the commencement. It was an occasion where acquaintanceship was renewed. It established friendly feelings and aided business, and the Board of Trade should do all it could to encourage it.

President Piper of the City Council was glad to see so many present. The work of the day showed what a live the organization before another Old Home Week. Charles H. Johnson spoke of the great number of visitors to the rooms during the day. Great credit was due the enthusiasm of President Williams and the committee, and the ladies who assisted. Quincy can well afford to take part in occasions of this kind, to teach the citizens what we have here. It meant a great deal. We need organizations of this kind to stimulate public pride.

Representative Sandberg told his famous bird story and then ex-Mayor John O. Hall was called upon. Mr. Hall made a stirring address WANTED-A Granite Cutter who can sharpen tools, also letter cutter who can carve. Union shop, pnoumatic tools. A permanent job in an attractive Southern city. on the good influences exerted by the Board of Trade. The Old Home Week had been a success beyond the hopes of the most sanguine. It was felt that Boston Old Home Week could hardly be successful in the full meaning, but it had. He then spoke of the objects of Old Home Week and of its first observance in Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine where it had been a grand success from the start.

He then turned to the many places of historic interest in Quincy and its connections with the early history of the country. In conclusion he congratulated the Board of Trade that it got together people of such public pirit to bring people to these scenes lays in our land. The Quincy Presidents were founders of the country. Walter T. Babcock gave an illus ration of what-could be done by ittle push and concerted action. There were also humorous readings y Charles H. Johnson, singing by a quartette of Quincy Point young men and selections by the graphophone. During the evening ice cream, cake
